Dairy Leaders Dedicate Penn State Research, Education Center

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Educators, government officials, and industry leaders lauded the partnership and dedicated efforts of many people that climaxed with the dedication and ribbon-cutting ceremony of Penn State's new $5.5 million Dairy Cattle Research and Education Center on Thursday morning.

The new center that includes new tiestall, freestall, and heifer barns, as well as a new feed center, horizontal silos, milk room, and a double-10 herringbone milking parlor is a major element of a $50 million building program that has addressed long-standing facility deficiencies in the College of Agricultural Sciences. Built in the same area as the previous dairy center, the new facility gives faculty better research options and students more exposure to modern dairy methods.

Daniel Hagen, interim head of the dairy and animal science department, served as master of ceremonies. Speakers included Joab Thomas, president, Penn State; Harry Roth, executive director, Atlantic Breeders; Lamartine hood, dean, College of Agricultural Sciences; Charles Brosius, Pennsylvania secretary of agriculture; and Obie Snider, Penn State board

State FFA Selects Officers, Presents Awards

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — More than 1,380 members, advisers, and guests attended Pennsylvania FFA Activities Week held at Pennsylvania State University from Tuesday through Thursday this week.

At the convention, new state officers were selected and numerous awards presented to chapter members, businesses, and individuals who have contributed to the success of the FFA program.

Lou Ann Good, staff writer for Lancaster Farming, was one of six individuals who received honorary keystone degrees.

The award was given in appreciation for the many hours Good spends covering FFA events and writing articles about FFA members and chapters.

Also receiving the honorary degree were Clyde Beard, for 30 years of service in the north Central region; Margery McCarthy, of the north central region for many years of service helping with FFA speech contests; Lehman Mentzler of Lancaster, who is FFA adviser for Lancaster Mennonite High and has contributed many hours in helping with FFA activities throughout the county; Larry Ogline, who works as a Farm Credit financial consultant in Somerset County; and Marianne Creasy, who, for many years, has judged FFA projects for seven chapters at the Bloomsburg Fair.

On Thursday, the nominating committee selected 11 new state officers from 26 candidates who participated in seven rounds of grueling interviews during the three-day convention.

Elected to serve a one-year-term beginning immediately are Darla Herr, Annville-Cleona High School in Lebanon County, state president; Heather Benner, Greenwood High School in Perry County, state vice president; Kerrie Hetrick, Oley Valley High School in Berks County, eastern region vice president; Jeremy Bartels, Some-

Weis Markets Celebrates Bottling 200 Million Gallons Of Milk

VERNON ACHENBACH, JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

SUNBURY (Northumberland Co.) — Weis Markets Inc. of Sunbury celebrated the bottling of its 200-millionth gallon of drinking milk late last week with an open house at its bottling facility.

The supermarket chain concern is the largest single buyer of Pennsylvania produce in the state and 15 years ago created a subsidary to bottle branded milk for sale in its stores.

Natalie Welch, state dairy princess, helped in the celebration, toasting a glass of milk to the success of the company along with Bryan Berry, director of dairy manufacturing, Robert Weis, chairman of Weis Markets, and Norman Rich, company president.

"Today is an important milestone in Weis Markets history," Weis said. "For 15 years, we have been operating a state-of-the art dairy processing plant that meets the toughtest standards of all — those of our customers."

Establish in 1912, Weis Markets operates 149 stores operating in six states — Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, Virginia, and West Virginia. It also operates a small chain of Super-Petz stores in Georgia, Ohio and the Carolinas.

The milk plant is Dutch Valley Food Company Inc., one of several divisions of Weis Markets. Weis also is the parent company to an ice cream manufacturing division, a meat processing plant, and a food service division that serves restaraunt and institutional customers.

"This day is made possible by the hard work of countless people — those who work in our dairy and our drivers who get the milk to our stores and the people in our stores who help stock and sell our milk," Weis told the small crowd attending the festivities.

"It is also a day of note for the Pennsylvania farmers who supply our dairy. They share in our success."

The dairy operation is set up

National Egg Market

ATLANTA, GA
JUNE 14, 1995

Prices were unchanged to higher in the Northeast and Midwest, and elsewhere, prices were unchanged. The market tone was steady to firm. Demand was fair to good, mostly moderate, and best where featured and into resort areas. Supplies were barely adequate to fully adequate, and excess eggs were held with increased confidence. Breaking stock supplies were adequate for the moderate demand, and offerings were made with confidence at higher prices.

For additional information, please call (404) 347-4121.

NE Chicke. Pts 1&2

EDISON, NJ
JUNE 14, 1995

Trucklot buying interest was slow and disappointing. Offerings of breast items were difficult to place while other items were usually more than adequate for the current light and unaggressive buyer attitude. Movement through retail and distributive channels was sluggish. The market tone was barely steady with underlying sentiment nervous.

Delmarva Broiler

EDISON, NJ
JUNE 14, 1995

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds was fair to good; Offerings were in good balance on 3 pound and smaller sizes; fully adequate on 3.5 and heavier sizes. Live supplies were generally moderate; weights were mostly desirable to heavy. Processing schedules were very heavy. Less than trucklot asking prices were unchanged at 56 to 67 cents. Trade sentiment was steady. In the parts complex, drums and wings continued to clear well. Boneless skinless breasts were available and difficult to place. Bone-in breasts varied from short to available. Adequate supplies of leg quarters cleared satisfactorily at some plants, slowed at others.

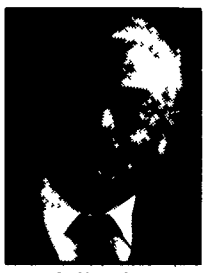
TIPS TO IMPROVE EGGSHELL QUALITY...

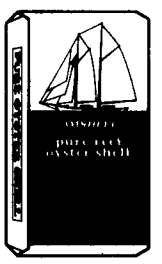


Dr Milton Scott
Nutritional Consultant

"Look for insults"

A transparent "Electronic Egg" that lights on impacts that might crack or break an egg is a useful tool. Run it through the entire collection and processing system to locate points that are providing more than their share of insults.

Sometimes cleaning or adjustment will eliminate or alleviate a trouble spot. But there will always be insults Oyster shell is extra insurance that you'll have strong eggshells to help minimize the results of insults.



For details on the "Electronic Egg" and the use of oyster shells, contact The Fox Co., PO Box 708, Newfield, NJ 08344. FAX 609/697-1692, Phone 800/257-7022.

Balanced Nutrition Is The Key

A properly formulated dry cow program allows the dairyman to "manage" the nutrient intake of the cow. Pennfield offers "4" Dry Cow Conditioner products with high levels of fortification. On farm feedstuffs should be tested for nutrient content and combined with the proper Pennfield product.

60 DAY DRY COW PROGRAM
(COW WORK SCHEDULE)

1. CALF GROWTH - The majority of calf development takes place in the last Sixty (60) Days before the calf is born. Sufficient nutrients must be provided for the cow to maintain her body weight PLUS the nutrients for development of 50-60 lbs. of calf body weight. The cow will deplete her body reserve if necessary during this period in order to provide the necessary nutrients for calf development.

2. BUILD MILK SECRETORY CELLS - The 60 day period gives the cow time to rebuild the number of milk secretory cells in her udder to produce maximum milk during the upcoming lactation.

3. RESTORE NUTRIENT RESERVES - After meeting body maintenance needs and calf growth, the cow will use available nutrients to restore her body reserves. Body reserves are used to support peak milk production in the next lactation. The majority of body condition should be put on in the latter part of the previous lactation.

4. EXERCISE AND MUSCLE TONE - The 60 day period should be a time for cows to get out of the milking barn and off concrete. An exercise lot or pasture will help the cow rebuild muscle tone.

National Grain Market

ST. JOSEPH, MO
JUNE 14, 1995

Grain and soybean bids climbed sharply higher for the second consecutive day, supported by good export demand, fund buying and crop concerns. Wheat 10 to 16 cents higher. Corn 5 to 7 cents higher. Sorghum 9 to 12 cents higher. Soybeans 3 to 10 cents higher. Another day of active fund buying in wheat pits and bids continued sharply higher. Export inspections for the week and year to date were larger than expected. Foreign sales have been good this week with Japan, Egypt, Africa, and The Philippines all in the market. Some weakness was noted due to continued harvest pressure. Corn bids took another giant step forward in reaction to very good export inspection numbers for the year. Taiwan, South Korea and Malaysia have bought substantial amounts of US corn this week. Most of the corn crop is in the ground as "Mother Nature" has been good to us this week. However, some traders are concerned that recent wet conditions could have a negative affect on root development if temperatures begin to climb too high. Stronger soybean meal, oil and corn demand pushed soybean bids sharply higher again today. Additional fund buying on the board was also a plus factor. There hasn't been much in the way of export interest so far this week, limiting gains.

The OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC — THIS WEEK WITH

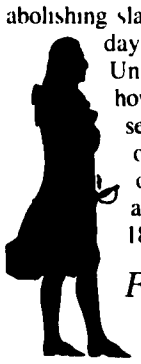
SUMMER SOLSTICE, JUNE 21.

FREEDOM DAYS

Juneteenth, a verbal shorthand for the 19th of June, commemorates the date in 1865 when General Gordon Granger arrived in Texas with his troops to enforce Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation abolishing slavery. In Texas, Juneteenth is a state holiday. Because the abolition of slavery in the United States was such a gradual process, however, it is celebrated in many ways and on several distinct occasions. Juneteenth is just one of these "freedom days," as is the first of January, commemorating the date of the actual proclamation, on New Year's Day in 1863. Let freedom ring.



Freedom lies in being bold.

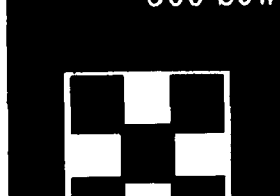
— Robert Frost

TIP OF THE WEEK

Homer's Odysseus ate garlic to protect himself from Circe; give it to your pets to protect them from fleas.

UNDERWATER RHUBARB

4 cups chopped rhubarb
1-1/2 cups sugar, divided
3 tablespoons butter
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
pinch of salt
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup boiling water



Line an 8x8-inch pan with rhubarb. Cream together 3/4 cup sugar and the butter. Add flour, baking powder, and salt, and mix. Add the milk and mix again, then spread this batter over the rhubarb. Combine the remaining 3/4 cup sugar with the cornstarch and sprinkle over the batter, then pour the boiling water over all. Bake at 350° F for 1 hour.

Makes 6 servings.

The OLD FARMER'S WEATHER PROVERBS

If it rains on St. John's Eve (June 23), the filberts will be spoiled.

To gather fern seed, you must go at midnight on a wet Midsummer's Eve (June 23) in only your shirt.

No crop before St. John's Day (June 24) is worth praise.

A brisk wind generally precedes rain.

Begin To Document Your Worker Protection Activity Now

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) worker protection law that went into effect in January of this year includes almost anyone who uses pesticides on his or her farm. It becomes the responsibility of each farmer to follow the rules related to education of workers who are going to work with pesticides or work near fields that have had pesticides applied to them. In addition, the law calls for verbal notification and/or posting of warnings so that employees do not enter these treated areas.

The days are gone when pesticides can be used without documenting how, when, and where they were used. For the busy farmer this may be the most burdonsome part of the law. Specific delayed entry times after application are important. Each pesticide has its own re-entry time that may be from a few hours to a few days. And each pesticide has it own demands for warning farm workers about the application.

Therefore, you need to document when you give the training to workers. Have them sign in at the training session and sign when they receive the materials from the training classes. Keep notebooks and diaries of everything you do related to the use of pesticides on the farm. Note when you make applications and what pesticides you have used. Follow all the directions on the label.

While not much has been said about the penalties for not following the law, they are quite stiff, and you can't just ignore your responsibility. Sooner or later, violations will be reported, investigated, and fines will be given. It is important that you start to document your activity as you comply with the law so that if any question from an employee or an inspector arises in the future, you will have written information to prove your position. Begin now!

Now Is The Time

To Look For Potato Leafhopper

The major alfalfa insect pest in this area is potato leafhopper.

This very small insect, which looks like a small green grasshopper, injects a toxin into the alfalfa plant as it feeds on it. This toxin plugs the plant's vascular system and stunts the growth of the plant. Leaves of infected plants take on a brassy yellow color.

The leafhopper does not overwinter in Pennsylvania. Each spring it must migrate here from the Louisiana Gulf Coast. This migration takes place in the winds from southern storms. This usually brings leafhoppers to southeast Pennsylvania in June.

Their arrival date and numbers will determine if second cutting alfalfa needs to be sprayed. A regular scouting program will identify when spraying is needed based on the height of alfalfa, the number of leafhoppers found, and the cost of the spray.

To Scout Alfalfa Fields

A check of several alfalfa fields by Robert Anderson, extension agronomy agent, showed that potato leafhoppers are in some fields.

The best way to determine if a spray is needed is to use an insect net and count the number of leafhopper adults and nymphs caught. If the alfalfa is less than four inches tall and scouting with a net shows one leafhopper per four sweeps of the net, control is needed. If the alfalfa is between four and eight inches in height and scouting finds four leafhoppers in 10 sweeps, a spray is needed.

When the alfalfa is between 8 and 12 inches tall, there must be 12 leafhoppers in 10 sweeps. If you are planning on cutting in 7 to 10 days, you should not spray. However, it may be better to spray and delay cutting and allow the alfalfa to come into fairly full bloom.

With spring seedings, Anderson recommends spraying an insecticide as soon as possible after the threshold is reached and delay harvest on these fields until full bloom.

To Look For Flea Beetles

An insect pest which is present in large numbers this year is flea beetle.

Robert Anderson, extension agronomy agent, reports he has had several calls where they have become problems on tobacco beds. He suspects they will be soon feeding on corn and other crops.

The cause is the extreme mild winter we had.

Flea beetles are not hard to control. There are several products which will do an excellent job.

The economic threshold for corn is two or more flea beetles per plant. Most other crops do not have an economic threshold established. Anderson suggests farmers consider spraying vegetables and tobacco crops if they average two or more flea beetles per plant.

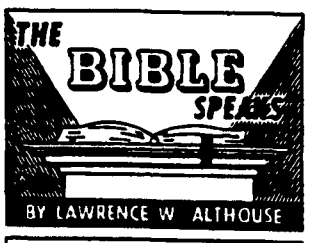
Hi everyone! This past year I have helped the dairy industry in an important way by serving as the Lancaster County Dairy Princess. Since receiving my crown last June, I have been involved in many dairy activities. Summer is, of course, time for ice cream festivals and tired arms from dishing out scoops and scoops of ice cream. Next comes fair season with farmers showing off their best cows at dairy competitions. You may have seen me dodging cow piles while handing out ribbons to the winners. Another part of the fair season is parades. Although some of them seemed to last forever and I felt like I couldn't smile anymore by the end, it was great to see so many people. Grocery store promotions are also an important part of being Dairy Princess. Handing out store-brand cheeses, recipe pamphlets, and samples of my very own milk punch, Purple Cow, entices consumers to buy more dairy products. I have also visited area elementary schools this year. After a short speech about what cows eat to make milk, calcium, and comparing milk to soda, I play a dairy tic-tac-toe game with the children. Although some children had me confused with "Miss America" and the "Tooth Fairy" it was still a lot of fun. I have also met many of you at various Co-Op, Farm Women, and other groups.

I want to thank each and every one of you for making my year so special. Growing up on a dairy farm myself, the industry is a very important part of my life. Next year I will be quite a distance from home attending school at Penn State University. However, my heart will always be right here in Lancaster County. Thank you again for making my reign as the 1994-1995 Lancaster County Dairy Princess a year I will always treasure!

Amy Espenshade



ARE YOU FOR SALE?
June 18, 1995

Background Scripture:
I Kings 21
Devotional Reading:
Micah 6:6-13

King Ahab is our contemporary. He is a person with great power and equally great appetite. He sees something he wants and makes a reasonable offer. As Ahab said to Naboth, "Give me your vineyard, that I may have it for a vegetable garden . . . and I will give you a better vineyard for it; of if it seems good to you, I will give you its value in money" (21:2).

There, what could be more fair than that? A reasonable offer: (1) Ahab was the king, (2) the vineyard was next to Ahab's palace, and (3) Naboth would be fairly compensated for it. Surely a reasonable man would go along with a deal like that!

But of Naboth there was one consideration above all others: the vineyard was an inheritance from his forefathers. To sell it to King Ahab would have been a betrayal of family trust. Nothing Ahab could offer would compensate him for betraying that trust. So, Naboth, a man who had remarkably little, couldn't be bought at any price.

VEXED AND SULLEN

The King was also very contemporary in the way that he reacted: "And Ahab went into his house vexed and sullen because of what Naboth the Jezreelite had said to him . . . and he lay down on his bed, and turned away his face, and would eat no food." Here was a man who had great power and riches, yet, he focused not on all that he had, but on this one little thing he didn't have. And that too is contemporary.

Some may be too lenient with King Ahab, blaming Jezebel for actually doing the terrible deed, having Naboth stoned on a trumped-up charge. But Ahab and Jezebel are equal partners in this crime. Ahab could have said, "No, I am deeply disappointed, but I will not permit any injustice." But he didn't. Instead he sets the stage for Jezebel's diabolical advice by sulkily calling attention to his unhappiness.

Note how Jezebel appeals to Ahab: "Do you not govern Israel?" Are you the King or are you not? Don't you have the power? Once again, the deadly, seductive corruption of power. Aren't you the star of the team? Aren't you the CEO of this company? Aren't you the governor of this state?

PERMISSIVE EVIL

And just like today, Ahab gets to eat his cake and keep it too. "Arise, and eat bread," Jezebel assures him, "and let your heart be cheerful; I will give you the vineyard . . ." He knew it was wrong, but he permitted someone else to do it for him. And so do some of us. It takes only one person to do great evil, but multitudes may willingly profit from it.

There should be no doubt about Ahab's complicity: "And as soon as Ahab heard that Naboth was dead, Ahab arose to go down to the vineyard of Naboth the Jezreelite, to take possession of it" (16). No questions raised about this vile deed. No rebuke to Jezebel. No hesitation to profit from this heinous crime.

And then Elijah comes with God's terrible judgment: "I have found you. You have sold yourself to do what is evil in the sight of the Lord" (20). Naboth wouldn't sell himself and his birthright for a magnanimous price, but Ahab sold himself for a mere vineyard.

What about you? Are you for sale?

76 Cow Total Ventilation System - Denver, PA

Lapp's Barn Equipment can install a high-performance/high efficiency tunnel ventilation system in your barn. A tunnel ventilation system will give you an even air flow throughout your barn of 2-5 mph. This gives you the advantage of better controlling temperature to give your cows more comfort which means more milk!! Also, a tunnel ventilation system eliminates circulating fans, provides summer and winter ventilation and controls fly problems! An optional unit can even automate your ventilation so you will never even have to worry about it when you're not there, so you can concentrate on other things!

At Lapp's, we sell high quality ventilation systems manufactured by Acme Engineering, Acme products feature such things as:

- Galvanized Construction
- Wide Cambered Propeller
- Rivited Blades
- Unique Captured Bearings
- Vertical Support Frame
- Screens Pre-cut
- Totally Enclosed Motors
- Optional Discharge Diffuser Cone
- Optional Belt Tightener

OK City Feeder Cattle

OKLAHOMA CITY, OK
JUNE 14, 1995

Compared to Monday of last week: Feeder steers and heifers 1.00-2.00 higher. Demand for feeders very good with active trading. Cornbelt buyers remain very active. Steer and heifer calves firm. Weigh conditions average to full. Flesh highly varied from slightly thin thru moderately fleshy. Although conditions were similiar to last week quality of the supply was greatly improved from last weeks mostly plain offerings. Quality of supply plain thru attractive, mostly average. Heavy rainfall continued in Oklahoma thru last Friday; storms subsided over weekend and looking for clear warm weather most of this week. Combines are greased and ready to roll once ground firms up. Wheat crop will suffer some for excess moisture but summer grazing will be excellent. Slaughter cows and bulls steady. Demand good from northern buyers. 364 cows and bulls sold with 65 percent to packers. Receipts this week 9,500; last week 12,580; last year 9,213. Supply consisted of 84 percent yearlings over 600 lbs; 12 percent calves under 600 lbs; 4 percent cows and bulls. Prices follow with weighted average weight and price in parenthesis.

IT'S A JUNGLE OUT THERE!

MAKE SURE YOUR GRAZING CATTLE GET THE NUTRIENTS THEY NEED.

During late spring and early summer, your lush pasture may seem fully nutritious and sufficient for your grazing cattle. But BEWARE!! As the heat of summer sets in and pasture matures, its nutritional value will drop dramatically, which may show up in slow weight gain, decreased milk production, or even poor herd health.

The best way to ensure that your herd is getting all the nutrients it needs is by having Mol-Mix® Free-Choice Prime or Prime with Bovatec Liquid Protein Supplements available.

They will:
- Improve weight gain
- Increase dry matter intake
- Shorten calving intervals

Mol-Mix Prime and Prime with Bovatec are both available for your herd in a convenient lick tank — there's no labor to put it out in the field, and all you have to do is monitor intake so you know when you need a refill. There won't be waste due to weather (extreme heat, rain, etc.). This all proves to be very economical!

So don't trust the nutritional value of the lush pasture jungle — call 1-800-GO-AGWAY or your local Agway Feed Sales Specialist today to find out more about supplementing with Mol-Mix Prime or Prime with Bovatec!

MOL MIX® Liquid Supplements

 Bovatec should not be fed to lactating dairy cows.

THE seed treatment for protection against seedborne, soilborne and foliar diseases.

Baytan 30 flowable fungicide/insecticide controls disease pressure both above and below the soil line. That means a better bottom line for your wheat, barley, oats and rye.

Baytan 30 protects against a broad spectrum of early season seed and seedling diseases - with up to eight weeks of activity against foliar diseases such as rust and powdery mildew. But the benefits of early plant health last much longer. This means your foliar fungicide application can be delayed, and sometimes eliminated.

With Baytan 30, you're not only on a [illegible] you'll see more of it at harvest. In 10 years of field trials throughout the country, seed treated with Baytan 30 has shown a yield advantage of 5 bushels an acre.

Baytan 30 is available only at Gustafson-certified seed conditioners. For the location nearest you, contact Gustafson at 1-800-658-1404.

'Mystique' Of Dairy Farm Provides Family Fun, Education

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

LANSDALE (Montgomery Co.) — Fred Seipt, partner with Freddy-Hill Dairy Farms, makes one observation about the thousands of people who visit his dairy farm and entertainment complex every year.

"Ice cream is entertainment," he said. "Ice cream is not food."

Seipt, who operates the 135-acre Freddy-Hill Family Fun Center and dairy complex, has dealt with the public long enough to know.

When it comes to selecting food to purchase, consumers are picky. They'll fuss over how much they'll spend on a gallon of milk. But on entertainment items — such as ice cream or pumpkins or 18 holes of miniature golf — "it makes all the difference in the world," he said.

Consumers have a completely different outlook on what they spend and how much they'll spend for the things they need.

"I've always said, if you can't eat it, you can charge anything.

"That's a fact. If they have to eat it, they have to price shop and get all carried away about what it costs and so forth.

"For some pumpkin, they'll pay anything for it. That's entertainment. It's a whole different psyche."

Seipt, who built his Freddy-Hill Family Fun dairy parlor in 1988, said, "We're not price-gouging people. I think you'll find our prices are very reasonable, but I'm telling you, it's easier as far as price-setting is concerned, and easier to eke out a profit when it's entertainment than it is with food. Food is extrememly competitive and extremely price-conscious."

Together with his three sons and one son-in-law, Seipt manages not only to manage a full-time dairy farm but also a milk and ice cream processing operation and farm store. He also helps manage two 18-hole golf courses, a batting cage, and a petting zoo.

And by the way — he finds time to grow crops to continue the operation.

Nancy Seipt, who helps manage the store, said there are about 30 part-time and five full-time workers. The store, open all year-round, said that dealing with lots of people "always presents a big challenge."

Fred Seipt operates his farm right off Exit 31 of the Pa. Turnpike, on 63 south in Towamencin Township. The township is home to many commuters, because the area is within 35 minutes of Philadelphia's International Airport and provides access to many locations in Philadelphia and Allentown.

Seipt farms a total of 500 acres with sons Vernon, Matthew, Bill, and son-in-law Matthew, in addition to helping operate the entertainment complex. They milk a total of 100 registered Holsteins with about the same number of replacement stock. They also finish another 50 head of Holstein steers. Latest DHIA averages are 20,784 pounds milk, 702f, and 642p.

While the dairy aspect remains profitable, Seipt indicated there was far more profit in the entertainment aspects of the farm.

"We realize how entertainment works," he said. "People want to be entertained. It's kind of amazing."

Two of the 18-hole deluxe miniature golf courses follow a complex southern-type design. One has a theme of national park locations.

The milking parlor is host to thousands of school students every year, who learn about farming, take in the miniature golf, and enjoy ice cream in the parlor.

"Ice cream is far more profitable for us than milk," said Seipt. "It shouldn't be that way, but it is."

Seipt, who said he would much rather be out chopping hay than taking care of the entertainment management aspects (built in 1991 at a cost of $1.2 million) said the ice cream parlor, built in 1988, was added to the milk processing center, which was constructed in 1972.

Seipt, a Penn State graduate, purchased the farm from his father Wilbur in 1967. The original farm milked 45 Guernsey cows on 98 acres. At this time, Seipt milks 100 head and farms about 500 acres, mostly on rented ground, some of which he travels to about 6-7 miles away.

The decision to build the entertainment center was a result of seeing how much business the ice cream parlor was attracting. Almost immediately, the miniature golf and batting boxes were successful.

Now, Seipt is trying to implement a deli sandwich counter.

Seipt admitted that is impossible to compete with the large processors near Philadelphia. As a result,

Fred Seipt and family manage not only a dairy farm, but the two 18-hole miniature golf courses, a batting cage, and other "entertainment" aspects of Freddy-Hill Farms.

Together with his three sons and one son-in-law, Seipt manages not only to manage a full-time dairy farm but also a milk and ice cream processing operation and farm store. He also helps manage two 18-hole golf courses, a batting cage, and a petting zoo.

Nancy Seipt, who helps manage the store, said there are about 30 part-time and five full-time workers. The store, open all year-round, said that dealing with lots of people "always presents a big challenge."

Seipt farms a total of 500 acres with sons Vernon, Matthew, Bill, and son-in-law Matthew, in addition to helping operate the entertainment complex. Here, Fred, left, discusses planting strategies with son Matt.

Ice cream is not food, it's entertainment, according to Fred Seipt, who also helps load milk crates to the truck.

Computers Another Tool In Fine-Tuning Poultry House Operations

ANDY ANDREWS
Lancaster Farming Staff

MANHEIM (Lancaster Co.) — Poultry house computers won't fix watering systems, replace torn belts, or care for sick chickens.

But as a tool, they can be used successfully to make the minor, labor-saving adjustments to the house environment to provide a "better bottom line because of better bird comfort," according to David Graybill, broiler flock supervisor, Pennfield Corporation.

Graybill spoke on Monday to about 30 poultry producers and industry representatives at the Penn State-sponsored Poultry Management and Health Seminar at Kreider's Restaurant.

For the past five years, Pennfield has been using computerized house environmental controllers in the company's broiler operations. If installed and programmed correctly, according to Graybill, computers can be a vital resource in managing time and improving growout efficiency.

Graybill asked those attending if they made use of a computer today. While many own and operate a computer of some sort, either a PC or a laptop, many indicated they hadn't used one that day.

Graybill showed them a digital watch, which makes use of computer technology. Automobiles and other equipment that contain electronic components make extensive use of computer "chips" just like the desktop PC.

"I think we've all put our trust in computers," he said. "We are inundated with computers, and we need to be aware of that. We trust them. Why wouldn't you trust them in the broiler house?"

Graybill noted that certain farm industries, including poultry companies, are reluctant to use computers because of the lack of knowledge and confidence about their abilities.

"Here in the broiler industry, it seems like we haven't picked up using computers as quickly as the swine industry. I hear of swine houses that are highly computerized."

Pennfield makes use of a variety of computerized controllers to monitor and adjust house temperature and other factors related to environmental quality. Graybill examined the features on many of them that do a highly accurate job of fine-tuning factors such as temperature and humidity. Also, computers can be used to time fans, adjust lighting, and control curtains.

"The dependability part of the computer is something that we can never overlook, because it's there and is available 24 hours a day," said Graybill.

Customizing the computer controls is vital. The controllers must fit into the particulars of the operation.

"The 'customizing' part is probably the one where we fall down the quickest, because it's the human side of the computer," he said.

When using computers, the following guidelines are essential for optimum effectiveness:

• Surge and lightning protection. Graybill indicated a service representative once told him that lightning causes most computer problems. "Lightning can knock computers out or severely hurt performance," said Graybill. Information on housing type and how prone the building is to lightning strike is critical when installing the systems. Installing surge and lightning protection is critical.

• Backup controls. When computerized, the house environmental control system is centralized. If something detrimental occurs and the computers are down, make sure preparations are made to ensure the smooth operation of the facilities.

• Hard wiring. Nearly five years ago, while installing the first systems at Pennfield, Graybill discovered that "we were doing our hard-wiring in such a way that we locked two, and maybe three, fans into one output off of the computer." Graybill said, as a result, "if we wanted one of those fans to run, we had to unplug the other two. Any time you do that, you limit the efficiency of your system and you set yourself up for possible disaster." Each component should be wired so that there is a multitude of ways you can have the outputs go to components in the house and create the exact conditions you want at different sections of the house. Also, conduit wiring (all wires through a pipe) is generally more reliable than plastic-covered wire, because poultry house fires often start after rodents chew on wires.

• Maintenance. A reliable technician is needed to make sure that covers are installed on the electronic equipment. "Spiders and their cobwebs can do a number" on electronic equipment, according to Graybill. Using a "common-sense" approach to maintenance and keeping units tightly closed is important. Also, Pennfield recently upgraded all the batteries (which normally last 5-7 years) in one system, and also updated the software on the computer chip to ensure the efficient operation of the units.

• Training. "Training is important and probably one of the things that we fail to do the most often," said Graybill. Personnel must be trained and adequately retrained on a regular basis "to get the most out of the computer system."

• Technical support. Support is necessary at the end of the phone line or the technician nearby when operational problems occur.

Growers should realize that a computer is simply one of many tools that are available to make the work more efficient. However, they can't do everything.

"I find that growers are going to spend the amount of time in there that they have to spend, whether they have computerized controls or not," he said.

As a tool, computers can be used successfully to make minor, labor-saving adjustments to the house environment to provide a "better bottom line because of better bird comfort," according to David Graybill, broiler flock supervisor, Pennfield Corporation, right. Graybill discusses environmental controllers with Richard Landis, layer and pullet serviceman, Melhorn Sales Service and Trucking, Mount Joy.

Joshua Troxell, state reporter, and Shannon Horst, chaplain, both of Garden Spot High School in Lancaster County.

Dwight Woelkers said that in his four years as Foundation president, he learned that FFA is one of the greatest opportunities for young people. He presented a check for $63,117 compiled from businesses, chapters, and individuals across the state who offer financial support.

Keynote speaker at the Tuesday evening session was Travis Hagen, national FFA secretary from California. In a stirring message, Hagen challenged members to be effective in today's society by making things happen, by giving 100 percent effort, and by learning from experiences.

Members competed in numerous judging, speaking, and skill events throughout the annual convention.

LEBANON® EXTRA
Granulated Starter Fertilizer

"THERE'S MORE TO IT THAN JUST NPK"

For over 47 years, farmers throughout the Mid-Atlantic Area from New York to Virginia have produced millions of dollars of crops using Lebanon Extra fertilizer.

Lebanon Extra is an ammoniated, homogenous. granular NPK fertilizer. With the increased emphasis on using less and precise applications of plant food, Lebanon Extra provides the nutrient sources that you can depend on, and not just NPK but also secondary and six micro-nutrients. The nutrient integrity of Lebanon Extra is superior to bulk blend fertilizer products. When using row applications or banding accurate amounts of plant food it can be important to use a safe, quality, uniform grade product. If you are using a blend with MAP compare the value of Lebanon Extra.

Secretary Seif Speaks Of The New Farmer Friendly DER

EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — In discussion of the impending legislation that would split the Department of Environmental Resources (EPA) into two new departments, Pennsylvania State Secretary James Seif said the House had passed the measure 193 to 6 last week, and it was being discussed in Senate committee as he spoke to the Council of Farm Organizations Monday morning. The new divisions would be the Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (DCNR) and the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP).

(Editor's Note: See Vern Achenbach's report on the background and update of this "split up" legislative activity.)

Seif said his department needed to work on attitudes and gave three principles that are to be incorporated into DER or the subsequent departments as the new way to work with farmers. The principles Seif proposed are:

• Moderation: problem solving rather than only enforcement.

• Integrity: to include intellectual, political and scientific integrity.

• Communication: work with ag advisory boards to get input for what is practical. "I think in communication we have a very solid framework between the adminstration and the agricultural community that goes way back to Tom Ridge's earliest campaign days," Seif said.

Wetlands have become an agricultural/environmental topic that has many farmers and developers at odds with DER. "We looked early on at the wetlands program, and we confirmed what you have been saying," Seif said. "A lot of it was not consistent with the federal program. We have too many disputes and discussions over very minor issues. We discovered that 80 percent of our permit applications involved wetlands of less than a half acre. And there was no organization to help match wetlands replacement projects with land owners who desired to have such projects."

Because of these problems Seif said the following proposals are at the top of his agenda:

1. State regulations will be consistent with federal requirements using the 1987 manual.

2. Converted wetlands into agricultural production prior to 1985 that are still in production shall be exempt from wetlands regulations.

3. A voluntary registery of land owners that have created wetlands on their property shall be kept. The registry will be made available to permit applicants and organizations seeking available sites for wetlands projects.

4. Permit requirements shall be simplified. He proposes a general permit to allow the filling of up to half an acre of wetlands for the construction of homes within established subdivisions. Applicants would contribute to the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation at a prescribed rate so that imporvements can be brought about in real existing valuable wetlands rather than mud puddles. This should be done to gain the benefit of wetlands throughout the state without dickering over five-tenths of an acre.

5. Make wetlands replacement and improvements easier and more affective. Seif's goal is to create more wetlands than the law requires.

6. Create a wetlands management advisory board of 16 members appointed by the deputy secretary for water management. Proposed members are to come, four from business/industry; four from environmental groups; four from state and local governments; two from federal government; and two citizens. Ag groups took issue with the make-up of this board because it contained no specific agricultural representatives.

7. Work with the State Department of Transportation to establish advance wetland compensation sites to satisfy the mitigation requirements for unavoidable wetland impacts resulting from construction and maintenance activities.

"Our purpose is to protect on a long term basis real wetlands and create more real wetlands," Seif said. "Wetlands do have environmental value, but we also want to make sure business, agriculture, and landowners can meet regulation requirements without going broke. I hope these items have your attention and that you will help us to get them right and implement them into an effective program.

State Legislators Reorganize Environmental Government

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The state Legislature is expected to soon approve legislation that would reorganize cabinet-level agencies that administer environmental law.

Provisions in the reorganization plan actually have several implications for agriculture.

The action is a fulfillment of Gov. Tom Ridge's campaign promise to narrow the responsibilities of the state Department of Environmental Resources (DER), and create a separate cabinet-level department that would deal with the state's forests, parks and other natural resources.

House Bill 1400, with 73 cosponsors in the House, has been approved twice on the full Senate floor, having received, as of Thursday, only two minor amendments that correct language.

Though nothing in state politics is certain, the bill is expected to receive approval on third consideration before the Senate (possibly this coming week), receive concurrence from the House on the amendments, and be signed into law by the governor.

As written, the law would go into effect July 1, if the governor signs.

The proposed law would be called the Conservation and Natural Resources Act to relfect the creation of a new state department. The governor would appoint a secretary of conservation and natural resources to oversee the department.

The gist of the proposal is not complicated, though specifics may be for those not familiar with the structure of state government.

Basically, the 70-page proposal is to create a new department that would take over control of the state's forests, state parks, recreational and heritage programs, and inventory and manage the state's natural resources.

The name of the new department would be the Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (DCNR).

At the same time, a much trimmed DER would be renamed to the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) and focus on enforcement, though with a directive to work with citizens and industry to achieve a safe and healthy environment.

Three other state departments would be affected if the proposal is made law.

The Department of Community Affairs' Bureau of Recreation and Conservation would become a DCNR bureau.

The Department of Health would pick up several responsibilities concerning living conditions and public health that had been DER's purview.

The Department of Agriculture would pick up responsibility for enforcing the Seasonal Farm Labor Act.

More specifically, the DCNR would assume all the responsibilities and people and funds previously allocated to DER for the management, administration and regulation of of the forest and park bureaus, as well as picking up responsibility for community recreation and heritage conservation programs that were previously assigned to the state Department of Community Affairs.

The proposal would also empower the DCNR to commission officers who would have regular police powers to "... preserve order in the state parks and state forests ..."

According to the proposal, its intent is to "... create a new Department of Conservation and Natural Resources to serve as a cabinet-level advocate for out state parks, forests, rivers, trails, greenways and community recreation and heritage conservation programs to provide more focused management of the commonwealth's recreation, natural and river environments.

"The primary mission ... will be to manage state forest lands to assure their long-term health, sustainability and economic use, to provide information on Pennsylvania's ecological and geologic resources and to administer grant and technical assistance programs ..." that help it achieve its role as advocate for the state's natural resources.

The reason for these proposed changes are many, but more or less add up to the fact that DER has become too large, unfocused and underfunded to take proper care of the forests, park systems and other resources of the state, in addition to handling the wide spectrum of environmental concerns that exist today, such as nuclear waste, reactors, heavy metals, air pollution devices, toxic waste, wastewater and water treatment, storm water runoff, landfills, solid waste, etc.

A long list of "findings" included in the proposal outline the deficiencies in giving proper attention to the state's natural resources.

There has also been a political effort to get state government to help develop some of the apparent economic potential inherent in the state's resources.

The proposal acknowledges that the tourism and recreation industry is the second largest, next to agriculture, in the state.

Given the proximity of the state to the heavily populated East Coast cities (practically one continuous megalopolis), it is considered that the potential to boost this industry is great and would mean economic growth in many areas of the state, as well as benefiting the living conditions here.

Support for the proposal is strong and has been growing for some time — the first secretary of DER, Maurice Goddard, had called for the division of DER about 10 years ago.

The current secretary of DER has also been an outspoken supporter of the idea.

Initially, current regulations will stay the same, until the new agencies have opportunity to review and revise them.

At another level, the proposed change also eliminates the Pennsylvania Energy Office and gives the new DEP responsibility over energy conservation, assistance and alternative fuels.

Meanwhile, the Department of Health is to take over DER powers and duties in the "... control of nuisances from grounds, vehicles, apartments, buildings and places within this (sic)Commonwealth, to the sanitary condition of tenements, lodging and boarding houses, to management of the sanitary affairs of this Commonwealth, the issuance of waterworks permits and to the control of water pollution."

The Health Department would also take over annual "... registration of organized camps for children, youth and adults ..." and the Public Bathing Law.

Conservation Commission

Also contained in HB1400 is a proposal to cut some of the strings that DER had to the State Conservation Commission (SCC).

This proposal comes directly as a result of some political uneasiness about the state Nutrient Management Act. Under the act, the SCC is to serve as the enforcement agency.

There has been some concern that with the relationships between the SCC and DER, that enforcement of the nutrient management act might come with too much input from environmental protection advocates.

The prime mover for this addition to the proposal comes from Lancaster Rep. John Barley, who had earlier called for the SCC to be transferred to PDA entirely.

However, while that met with resistance from many political entities including agriculture, the current proposal has been widely approved, except for a few objections from strong environmental protectionists.

This proposal would modify slightly the SCC, in that the chairmanship of the commission would no longer be given automatically to the secretary of DER (in the future DEP).

Instead, the state secretary of agriculture would share those duties, with the two secretaries alternating chairmanship annually.

The staff of the SCC currently is comprised of DER employees. That would change with the executive secretary of SCC not being connected to either DEP or PDA.

Further, PDA would be directed to support the SCC in with enforcement of laws when dealing with production agriculture.

According to the proposal, "... the secretary of agriculture shall designate an office and staff within that agency to coordinate and assist in the development, implementation and enforcement of programs adopted by the (SCC) that solely affect production agriculture."

Not only that, but that PDA office and staff are to act as advocate for production agriculture "... in the development of programs by the (SCC), assist in developing methods of managing excess manure in an environmentally sound manner, develop programs to assist those engaged in production agriculture to comply with the Nutrient Management Act and act as an ombudsman to help resolve issues related to county conservation district implementation of (SCC) programs solely affecting production agriculture."

At the same time, the secretary of DEP is designate its own office and staff to help the SCC with matters concerning the protection of surface and groundwater.

Further, as the SCC enforces the Nutrient Management Act, when violations are discovered that are violations of the state's Clean Streams Law then the DEP office and staff are to assist the SCC.

When any other types of possible violations are discovered in the course of enforcing the Nutrient Management Act, PDA's designated office is to assist the SCC.

Colemans Win Top Honors With Beef

CLAYTON, N.J.—Two young Salem County brothers, Tim and Grant Coleman, and their crossbred steers took top honors at the South Jersey Beef Show held at Mullica Hill on May 13.

Tim, of Elmer, was awarded grand champion, while brother Grant won reserve champion. The Colemans, along with other young cattlemen and cattlewomen from all over New Jersey, fitted and showed their steers and heifers at the annual preview show designed to allow youth to work their animal for the first time this season.

Other winners included: Crystal Dixon of Baptistown—Grand Champion Angus Heifer and Reserve Champion Angus Steer; Brittany Dixon of Baptistown—Reserve Champion Angus Heifer; Shaun Burger of Pitman—Grand Champion Polled Hereford Heifer; April Daley of Frenchtown—Reserve Champion Polled Hereford Heifer; Grand Coleman of Elmer—Grand Champion Simmental Heifer and Overall Grand Champion Heifer; Tom Capecci of Franklinville—Grand Champion Simmental Steer; Amanda Sylvester of Williamstown—Reserve Champion Simmental Steer; April Daley of Frenchtown—Grand Champion Polled Hereford Steer; Rose Marie Sylvester of Williamstown—Grand Champion Angus Steer; Showmanship in the Older & Bolder Division was won by Mr. Denny Dare of Monroeville. Fitting & Showmanship Division: Kevin Bisop of Elmer—Junior Fitting & Showmanship; Britty Dixon of Baptistown—2nd Place - Junior Fitting & Showmanship; Crystal Dixon of Baptistown—Intermediate Fitting & Showmanship; Shaun Burger of Pitman—2nd Place - Intermediate Fitting & Showmanship; Grand Coleman of Elmer—Senior Fitting & Showmanship; Steve Burger of Pitman—2nd Place - Senior Fitting & Showmanship.

Department Awards Grant To Statewide Group

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Agriculture Secretary Charles C. Brosius announced the Pennsylvania Council of Cooperatives has been awarded a $2,500 direct grant through the department's Agriculture and Rural Youth Organization Grant Program.

The grant will be used to provide partial scholarships for the Council's Summer Youth Institute scheduled for June 25-28 at Shippensburg University.

Based in Altoona, the institute is a statewide program that selects and trains approximately 100 outstanding rural youth annually, helping them develop an awareness of the cooperative way of doing business.

Young people attending the institute will focus on current issues in agriculture, learning how individuals and communities can work together to solve problems. There is also an opportunity for young people to meet with cooperative leaders and learn about career opportunities.

Under the Agriculture and Rural Youth Organization Grant Program, youth organizations such as 4-H and FFA apply for direct grants of up to $2,500 and matching grants of up to $15,000.

Direct grants may be used to fund educational projects, programs and seminars, and matching grants may be used to fund capital projects and equipment purchases.

with a receiving dock where trucks deliver tankers from the farm.

Each tank of milk is given a physical check including odor, the temperature must be no higher than 40 degrees, and samples are taken and tested in the laboratory to check for growth inhibitors (antibiotics inhibit growth), the freezing point which indicates adulterations, the butterfat content, and bacteria.

If the tank load checks out, it is pumped into silo storage tanks and cooler to 35 degrees. Milk that is received at noon gets bottled by midnight.

The plant operates full shifts six days per week. The dairy operation bottles only drinking milk, including chocolate milk, which pays producers the highest rate.

Atlantic Dairy Cooperative has been the sole supplier of milk to the plant and continues to experience a strong working relationship with the plant. Weis bottles about 350,000 gallons per week.

Anywhere from eight to 18 tankers of milk are received per day, with an average of about 12 to 14, said Berry.

In a large tile and stainless steel setting, workers all wear hairnets to operate machinery and monitor and clean and maintain equipment.

The milk comes from storage and is homogenized. They plant has two homogenizing machines, the fat is separated and it goes on its way through the line until it is bottled in either plastic gallon jugs that are manufacturing in the plant also, or in the traditional paper containers.

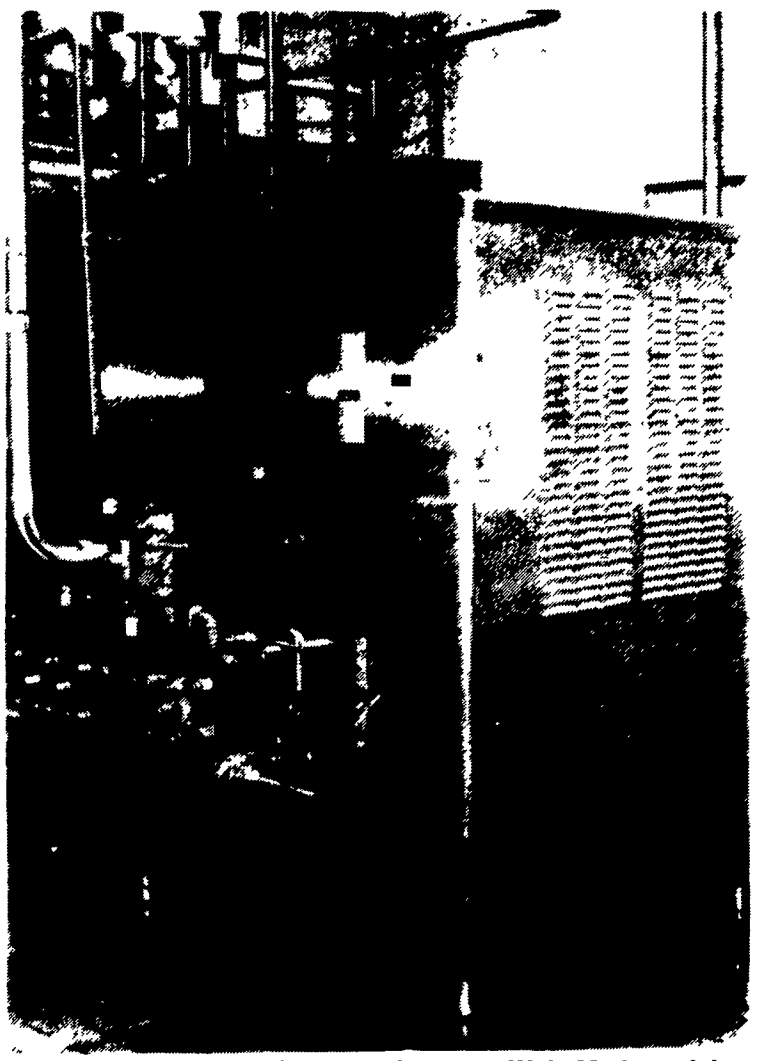
About 60 percent of the milk bottled is in the gallon plastic jugs, Berry said.

The plant is clean and efficient and has grown.

Weis Markets built its dairy in 1980, and it has expanded the plant twice, adding a second pasteurizing system and a second gallon

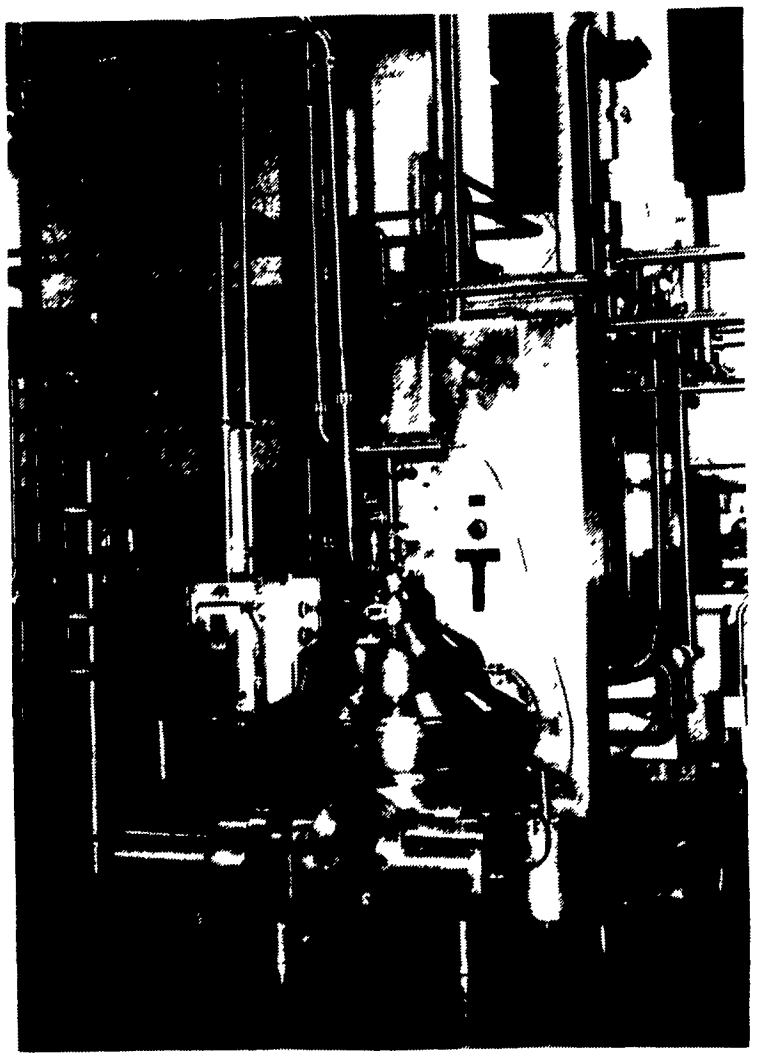
(Turn to Page A27)

These milk bottles and containers are on display in the office of Bryan Berry, director of dairy manufacturing for Dutch Valley Food Co. Inc., a subsidary of Weis Markets Inc.



This is one of two homogenizers the Weis Markets dairy plant has operating. The plant double its capacity in 15 years of operation.

These just-made plastic gallon milk jugs travel down the line for finishing. The plant bottles about 350,000 gallons of milk per week, and 60 percent of that is in the gallon jugs.



After the milk is pasteurized and homogenized, it goes through the separator — this large stainless valve-looking machine with stainless milk lines attatched.

Bottling and retailing milk in paper milk containers is a large part of the product marketing done by Weis Markets Inc.

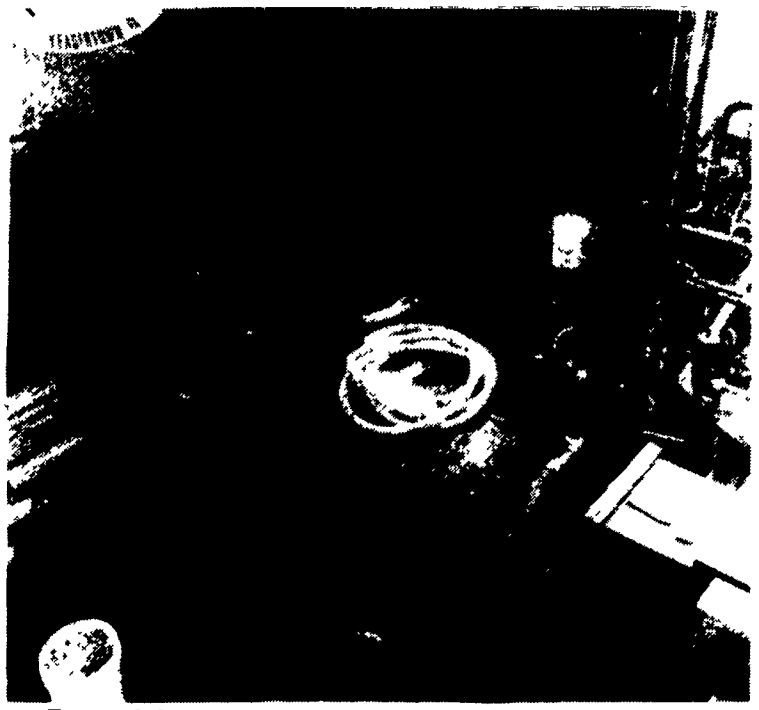
blow molding machine in 1989.

The dairy plant subsidary also bottles water, herbal and iced teas, fruit juices, and egg nog for the holiday season.

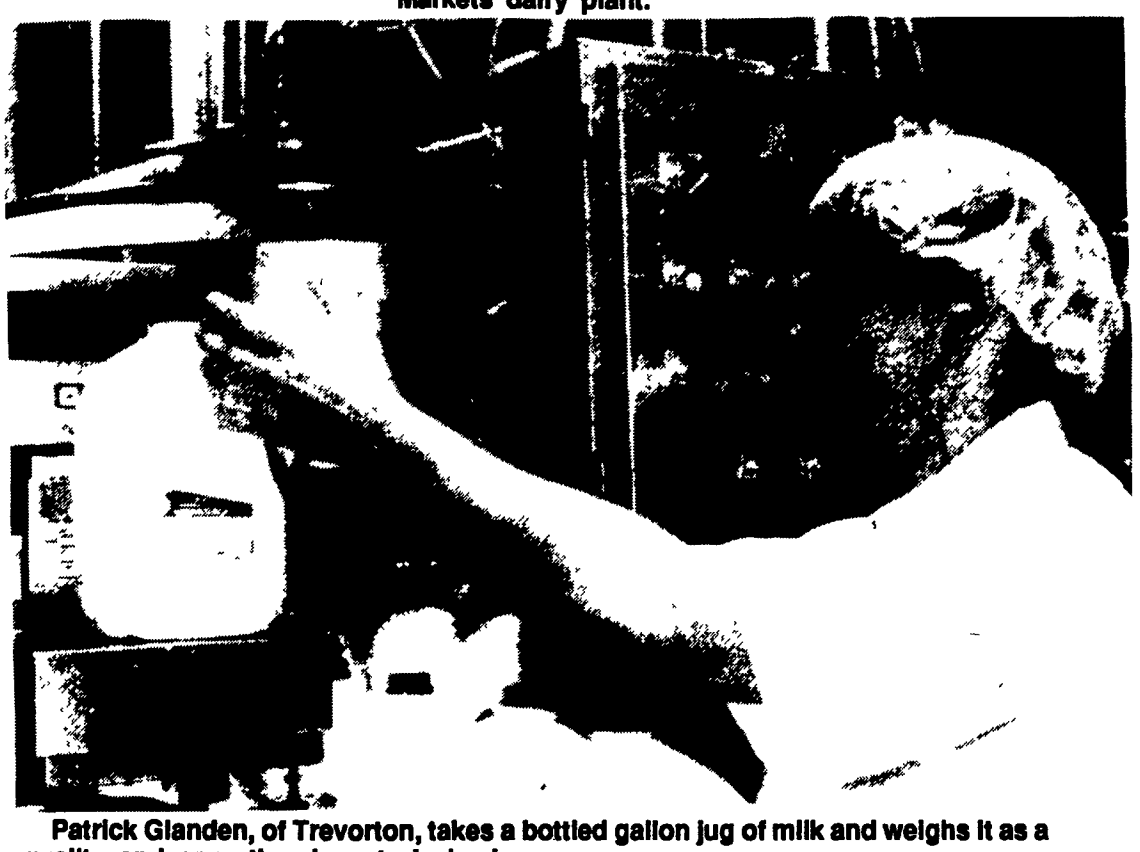
According to Berry, Weis Markets and local dairy producers should be in partnership for some time.

"Sales (of milk) are doing very well."



From eight to 18 truckloads of milk from Pennsylvania dairy farms arrive daily at the receiving dock of the Weis Markets dairy plant.

Bill Donmoyer, of Mifflingburg, runs tests on milk samples in the laboratory at Dutch Valley Food Co. Inc., the milk plant division of Weis Markets Inc.



Patrick Glanden, of Trevorton, takes a bottled gallon jug of milk and weighs it as a quality and operational control check.

Lancaster Chapter Alumni Honored

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.)—Lucy Meissner and Herb Zukauskas were honored as the Outstanding Members 1994-'95 of the Lancaster County Chapter of the Penn State Alumni Association at its recent annual meeting at the Crossgates Golf Club, Millersville.

Meissner, 2937 Kings Lane, Lancaster, was recognized for her many years of service as an Association charter member and as an active participant in the Women's Penn State Club.

Zukauskas, 453 Trena Avenue, Lancaster, received honors for his invaluable seven years on the Association's Board of Directors and his tenure at the Penn State main campus, University Park, as a member of the Alumni Council. He was also the first president of the School of Communications Alumni Council.

Ed Hyer, Dan Doremus, Claudia Prosack and Jackie Thomas were elected as new members on the Association's Board of Directors.

DAIRY SITUATION AND OUTLOOK

Bob Cropp
Dairy Marketing And Policy Specialist
University of Wisconsin Cooperative Extension

Milk production continues to increase over year ago levels. Milk production across the country ranges from near-peak levels in the South to seasonally increasing in most other regions.

However, April milk production numbers for 22 reporting states clearly show that the increase in milk production has slowed. April milk production was only 2.2 percent more than a year ago. This compares to increases for the previous three months (January, February, and March) of 3 to 5 percent.

The difference is explained by increases in milk per cow. Compared to year ago levels, milk per cow has been up 3.1 to 4.4 percent compared to an increase for April of only 1.9 percent. April milk cow numbers were .2 percent higher than a year ago.

What has brought down the relative increase in milk production per cow? The answer lies in the West and Southwest. It is quite evident that California floods have impacted on herd health. Compared to a year ago, California's milk per cow for April was down 1.2 percent. With 2.1 percent more milk cows, California still produced .9 percent more milk, but a far cry from earlier increases of 5 to 8 percent.

Milk per cow was even for Washington and down .7 percent for Idaho. Texas and New Mexico also experienced lower milk per cow — 4.8 percent and 4.9 percent, respectively. Since each of these states, except Texas, had more milk cows than a year ago (Washington 1.9 percent, Idaho 11.9 percent, and New Mexico 17.1 percent), each still had more total milk production (Washington 1.8 percent, Idaho 11.4 percent, and New Mexico 11.4 percent). The exception was Texas with .5 percent fewer milk cows and 5.2 percent less total milk.

Cows continue to milk much better than a year ago in the Midwest. April milk per cow was up 4.4 percent for Wisconsin and 2.6 percent for Minnesota. Wisconsin had .7 percent more milk cows while cow numbers were down 2.5 percent for Minnesota. Total milk production was up 5.1 percent for Wisconsin.

Milk production per cow has also improved in the Northeast. Compared to a year ago, milk per cow as up 3.7 percent for New York and 4.4 percent for Pennsylvania. While New York had 2.6 percent fewer milk cows, Pennsylvania had .6 percent more milk cows. Total milk production was up .9 percent for New York and 5 percent for Pennsylvania.

This increase in milk production, although at lower levels than previous months, has put downward pressure on farm level prices. But farm level prices could be approaching their low point this spring, especially if the West and Southwest continue to experience a slowdown in milk expansion.

The Minnesota-Wisconsin price (M-W) declined $.73 in April to $11.16 per hundredweight. This was $1.83 per hundredweight lower than a year ago. The decline reflects weakening cheese prices since mid-March. As of May 12, on the National Cheese Exchange, cheddar barrels had declined 9.75 cents per pound and cheddar 40 pound blocks 12 cents per pound. Cheese prices could decline further, but many are of the opinion that prices are near the low.

Buyers will once again feel more comfortable in building or maintaining inventories. Although nonfat dry milk prices are steady, there is some concern over increasing inventories. Butter supplies remain close in balance and prices have been firm.

No-Turn Composting Method To Be Demonstrated

COLLEGEVILLE (Montgomery Co.) — Boy Scouts at a local Scout camp are composting food wastes using a method unknown to many. A farmer in Horsham is composting horse manure and bedding using the same procedure. Both are utilizing a system developed in Canada to compost fish wastes. It is a low-tech, low-cost method which can be used by those interested in small to medium-scale composting.

This method of composting, the Passively Aerated Windrow System (PAWS) will be demonstrated at workshops to be held at two locations this summer. During the workshops, participants will see how a pile is constructed and learn about the compost process, compost quality, and end-product uses. Also included will be a discussion of different source materials that can be used to make a PAWS pile and a demonstration of how to dismantle a finished pile. This no-turning system can be used at places such as horse stables, farms, schools, camps, and by food processors and landscapers.

The first workshop is scheduled for June 22 from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at Arbor Meadow Farm in Horsham. Here the PAWS method is being used to compost horse manure and bedding and the finished product will be applied to vegetable fields. On July 24, the program will be at the Hart Scout Reservation from 12:45 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. and will focus on composting cafeteria discards.

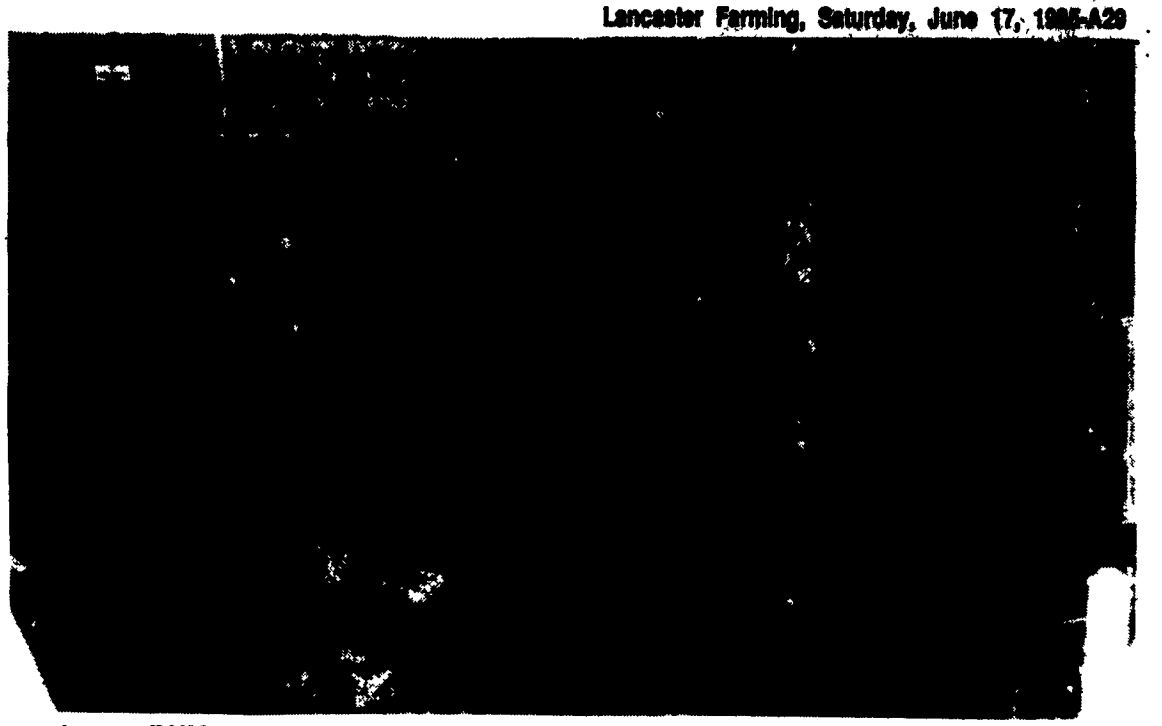
The workshops are sponsored by the Recycling Education Program, Montgomery County Cooperative Extension. There is no charge for either program. For directions or to register, call the recycling education office at (610) 454-1245.

Knott Joins Angus Assoc.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. — James Knott, Andrews Bridge, Pa. is a new member of the American Angus Association, reported Dick Spader, executive vice president of the national organization.

The American Angus Association, with more than 27,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on over 12 million registered Angus.

The Association records ancestral information and keeps records of production on individual animals for its members.



Latest DHIA averages for the Seipts are 20,784 pounds milk, 702f, and 642p.

'Mystique' Of Dairy Farm

the ice cream parlor business came about, and they still provide bottled milk for customers in the area.

Seipt said the farm provides a service to the community.

"It used to be that everybody's grandfather was a farmer," he said. "And they just went to see Grandpa in the summer and they knew what a farm was. But we're now one generation past that. Everybody's grandfather is not a farmer anymore. Kids don't know what a farm is. So we have an opportunity to show them the 'mystique' of the farm. And that's why the entertainment aspect became a viable option."

The greatest challenge Seipt faces is time. Because of the added responsibilities, time management is difficult. Many times, 18-hour days are the norm.

"I might as well admit it — the entertainment center is more profitable. It gets the attention. We should have been chopping some of this alfalfa last week, but we had problems (at the golf course), so we didn't do it. We didn't get it done, it's that simple.

"We should be done, and we aren't, as a result of these dividided loyalties."

Seipt sees no turning back. Without the entertainment aspects, including the ice cream parlor, "we would not survive in this area.

"Is that because we are farming for fun? My wife says, why don't you pack it in? The point is, this is our love."

Seipt said the dairy remains a profit center. But the entertainment aspect of the operation couldn't exist without the viable, working farm.

"They all work together. We couldn't have our Fall Fest without the farm. A lot of people come to the entertainment center because of the 'mystique' of the farm.

"But there's a whole lot less effort involved in the entertainment per dollar return that there is on the farm.

"You don't have to get up at 4:30 to milk the golf course. You don't have to get up on Sunday and seven days a week to do that."

Seipt emphasized the importance of what they do for the community.

"I think we provide a service. I think we're an educational arm. We're the front-line public relations for the farmer, when you get right down to it."

Derr Family Farm Is Profile Of Continuity, Experimentation

DAVID HEIBERT
Westmoreland Co.
Corresponsdent

DAWSON (Fayette Co.) — Adam Derr Sr. began dairy farming while in high school. He bought his first farm in 1971, while working in construction.

Now, with wife Janice, son Adam Jr., 22, and daughters Rebecca, 19, and Diana, 22, he has been farming on a 76-acre home farm in Dawson for the past eight years.

This past month the family was working to complete a double-six herringbone milking parlor for use three-times per day on the farm's 85-head Holstein milking string, while also trying to complete spring planting on the home acres and 300 additional rented acres.

Their family business strategy appears to be to meld continuity with experimentation, and to maintain day-to-day operations while reaching out to the community and the future.

When they first moved to the present farm, the family combined equipment that came with the new farm and equipment they brought from the old one.

At the time, the new farm included a house, machine shed, barn and two silos.

Over the past eight years, the Derrs have built three silos and added a heifer barn.

They use a soil conservation plan and a combination of no-till, chisel plow and low-till field preparation to raise crops, including corn for silage and high moisture corn, alfalfa, and soybeans.

Adam Jr. started working full-time on the farm in 1989. Through his initiative, the family purchased a highly rated Holtsein heifer, that he compared in expense to buying a new pickup truck.

As an investment, Adam Jr. said he knows it's a risky venture, but if the sale of embryos goes flat, the farm can still benefit from the quality of genes. The farm's goal is to increase production per cow, rather than expanding the herd size.

The cow they are counting on for genetics is Ha-Ho Tesk Melinda-ET, classified as a Very Good-85 percent. That is a strong rating for a first lactation cow.

Melinda is a daughter of Osdel-Endevor Bova Cubby. Her estimated first 305-day lactation, on a twice-per day milking schedule calculated out to production of 24,360 pounds of milk, 810 pounds of butterfat, and 701 pounds of protein. Her index is a PTA of +92P, +1.40#, and +1,308 PTPI.

The family is working with veterinarian Ron Kling, of Accident, Md., in a program of flushing and implanting. The plan is to offer some of the offspring for sale, rather than keeping all for herd replacements.

The move to marketing genetics has created additional levels to the farm's business.

First, the animal was bought sight unseen, which was a new experience for the family. A fascimile (fax) machine was purchased and installed in order to communicate more effectively and quickly with potential clients.

Also, more services were required from consultants and specialists. This required more time and study to adjust and keep on top of decision-making.

Tongue-in-cheek, Adam Sr. said, "Buying that heifer might have been the cheap part!"

There are other things keeping the Derrs active.

Adam Sr. is active in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association (Pa.DHIA), both as a member and past president of the Westmoreland County affiliate. (He is a member of Westmoreland County DHIA, even though he lives in Fayette County.)

He also serves as a leader with the Westmoreland County Holstein Association, currently in the position of a state director.

As a family, the Derrs intend to attend the National Holstein Convention set to be held this year June 25-28 in Pittsburgh. It is to be their first experience with the national convention.

But they have been involved with helping with the convention in several ways.

Adam Sr. is a member of the convention sale committee, which coordinates the consignments, and arrangements necessary to ensure a successful sale. Offered are to be a spectrum of genetics from pick-of-flush embryos to mature, well-built cows.

Janice has been doing her own part in helping to organize a "Cultural Pittsburgh" tour for convention goers.

The family is also outgoing to the area's community, offering their farm in 1993 to serve as a site for the county Farm-City Day activities.

Janice is also involved with the Westmoreland County Dairy Promotion Board. She has done such jobs as filling helium balloons printed with the words, "Drink Milk," and handing them out during the Farm-City Day event, and at the county fair.

She also has helped with scooping ice cream at a local hardware store for a promotion, when the store owner provided the ice cream, among othe activities, such as conducting a promotion event through distributing literature along with ice cream cones at a Scottdale store.

During the Christmas season, Janice also has taken to helping to decorate a tree that represents county dairy interests at a Sheraton Inn, in Greensburg, one of about 40 trees displayed there annually representing various professional and business interests.

Her tree is hard to miss, with decorations of ceramic cows, cheese and crackers, and red barns.

And while Adam said that activities such as opening their farm to the public for Farm-City Day does nothing for their immediate bottom line, it is a reflection of his attitude to get working now to build the future, whether it be in business or relationships.

Eric Kirby, son of Mark and Linda Kirby of Connelsville, gets a chance to see a close-up of a calf during Farm-City Day activities at the Adam and Janice Derr family farm.

Janice Derr fills a balloon promoting the drinking of milk to give away to visitors attending Farm-City Day activities at the Derr's farm.

As hosts of the 1993 Fayette County Farm-City Day, Adam and Janice Derr stand on their lawn welcoming people interested in learning about dairying. The bell in the background came from Adam's grandparents' farm.

Adam Derr stands in his farm's parlor, where he milks about 85 Holsteins. He said he expects that a new double-six herringbone parlor will help with the family's experiment to switch to three-times-per-day milking.

National Milk Promotion Campaign Offers Top Television Ads

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Dairy producers who support the Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program and MAMMA may be able to see some of the fruits of their milk promotion dollars this fall as a nationally award winning series of dairy promotion commercials can be expected to be seen across the nation.

The series of commercials were produced by the California Milk Processor Board and won acclaim within the advertising industry, going head-to-head against all other types of commercial television advertising campaigns.

PDPP is able to buy into the program because it is a member of a cooperative national agreement between milk promotion boards to share support of high quality marketing information and advertising production.

Dairy Management Inc. was formed this January to oversee the administration of collective promotion programs, with oversight provided by the board's of directors of the National Dairy Board and the United Dairy Industry Association.

PDPP is a partner in the UDIA.

On May 24 both boards voted to adopt the California Milk Processor Board's "Got Milk?" campaign for DMI's national fluid milk advertising.

The campaign includes a series of seven commercials, all based on "deprivation," according to Richard Norton, manager of the Middle Atlantic Milk Marketing Association (MAMMA).

Norton said Friday morning that he had just finished discussions in Chicago on Thursday about participating in the national campaign. He said that it is expected that every promotion board across the nation will be participating.

He praised the quality and effectiveness of the commercials, and said that after initially being aired in California, milk sales responded well.

He expressed confidence that this series should be effective in boosting milk sales nationally.

"Uniting behind one effective fluid milk message to consumers is the best way the industry can focus its resources and have the most impact," said Herman Brubaker, chairman of DMI and a dairy producer in West Alexandria, Ohio.

"DMI is providing the leadership needed to unite the industry behind one message to the consumer."

According to Brian Ross, manager of the PDPP, not only is the promotion program buying into the national promotion, but New York is as well.

"They're very good spots," said Ross. "They are some of the best on the market."

Currently, DMI has two of the largest fluid milk campaigns on the air — its "Milk. Help Yourself" series and the "Got Milk?"

According to a news release from DMI, "Both are behavior-oriented campaigns that complement the nutrition-oriented messages in the Milk Processor Promotion Board's 'Milk. What a Surprise!' print campaign launched in in January."

The seven "Got Milk?" commercials deal with different scenarios, but all the same theme — someone eats or wants to east a food that traditionally gets washed down with milk, such as chocolate chip cookies, a brownie, or a bowl of cereal; and there is no milk.

In the top award winner, called "Aaron Burr," a young man eats a thick peanut butter sandwich and just after it's in his mouth, the telephone rings.

This young man is an expert on Aaron Burr and is listening to a radio quiz show program offering $10,000 for the right answer to a history question. The answer is "Aaron Burr."

However, the young man doesn't have enough milk on hand to wash down the peanut butter sandwich and answer the question.

Others in the series are called "Baby & Cat," "Couple," "Heaven," "Insomniac," "Diner," and "Santa."

Without giving away the uniqueness of the commercials, in Baby & Cat, a father runs out of milk for his cereal and notices that his baby has milk in its bottle and the cat has a bowl of milk.

In the Couple, a young women tells her fiance that she can't believe what he did to her. Not knowing that she is upset about him drinking the last of the milk and leaving her without any for cereal, he then confeses that the diamond ring isn't real, and that he has a prison record.

In Heaven, an arrogant mean-spirited business man is killed by a truck and goes into the afterlife.

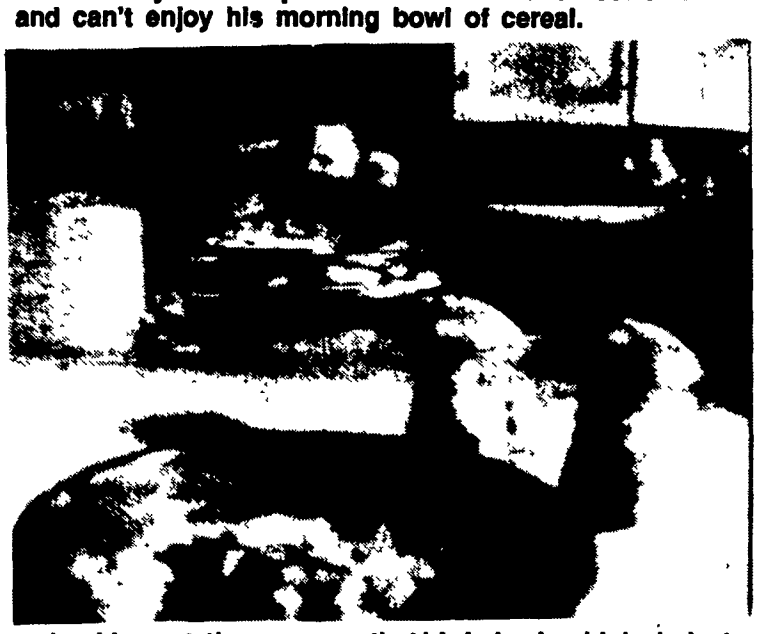
In the television commercial called Baby & Cat, this father/family man is upset because he has run out of milk and can't enjoy his morning bowl of cereal.



Looking out, the man sees that his baby, in a high chair at the other end of the table, has milk. In another scene not shown, the man also notices that the family cat is drinking milk from a saucer.

With this closeup of the baby and the milk bottle, the sound track indicates rejection of the idea of taking the baby's milk for the cereal. However, a cat howl is heard briefly after that.

of trustees.

Calling the dairy industry "knowledge-technology intensive," Joab Thomas said the new dairy center "fully embraces the land grant mission that includes teaching, research, and service. In my view, these three missions join together in the College of Agricultural Sciences better than anywhere else in the University.

"The Penn State partnership with the dairy industry and the commonwealth continues to to be an important focus, and we are delighted to reaffirm this relationship with the new dairy facility. Matching funds from the state made the new dairy research and education center possible. These very important investments by the commonwealth of Pennsylvania reaffirm the leadership role of the land grant university. It underscores the importance that Pennsylvania agriculture continues to have in the development of the economy of the state," Thomas said.

Harry Roth represented the dairy industry. "Historically, the performance of the Pennsylvania dairy industry has been significantly influenced by Penn State and the research and education generated by the dairy science faculty and staff," Roth said. "The influence of the ongoing Penn State dairy programs in research, education and extension may be difficult to measure quantitatively, but it is easy to observe. In the 1930s the efforts of Penn State literally kept the dairy farmers alive. In the 1940s the artificial insemination program was begun.

"Today the Penn State tradition continues. The potential of new technology that this new facility can produce is unlimited. We are at the right place at the right time. Penn State is close to one fourth to one third of the U.S. dairy population. The production practices that brought us through the 1950's and 1960's must continue to change to met today's and the future's dairy farm economic needs. Likewise, many good young men and women are eager for an education and the many new things to be discovered in agriculture. We know the educators and researchers have served our industry and specifically dairy farmers very well in the past. The awesome challenge is to continue to turn out the answers to the problems we have today and the problems we have tomorrow."

Lamartine Hood said the new state-of-the-art dairy facilities positions Penn State to attract the best faculty and the best students. "The products of these efforts give our cooperative extension system the kind of quality information that has been its hallmark in serving the industry at the grassroots level," Hood said. "Certainly in Pennsylvania and beyond, our College of Agricultural Sciences will continue its roll in contributing to research, extension, and resident education programs to the dairy industry.

"This new facility will allow us to enhance our research and to continue to provide the latest information to Pennsylvania dairy farmers. The profitability of our dairy industry depends on how well we work with industry and government partners to find new and practical solutions and scientific advances in production, distribution, safety, and consumer understanding of our products and processes. One of the ways the land grant university strengthens its commitment to the industries' competitiveness and the public's health and safety is to maintain facilities that provide the best arena to conduct research and provide learning experiences for our students."

The new Pennsylvania Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brosius said both he and Governor Tom Ridge share the belief that the profitability of farmers and farm families must be increased.

"It is appropriate that these new facilities position the university in the forefront of dairy research and education," Brosius said. "Since we all know Pennsylvania's dairy industry leads the commonwealth's number one industry—farming. The opening of these facilities represents the best in the partnership between the commonwealth and it's land grant institution, Penn State. I'm proud, humbled, to be able to participate in this important occasion."

Obie Snider said, "We accept with enthusiasm this tremendous facility. I bring from the trustees sincere thanks to the commonwealth for support of Penn State and the college's dairy research and education. We applaud your generous and discerning investment in the future of Pennsylvania's dairy industry.

"Remarkable progress is being made in breeding, feeding, health and nutrition. Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences will lead on the cutting edge. These facilities will encourage and challenge teaching and research for many generations.

"These facilities, like facilities of the past, will inspire dreams to come true. This dairy and research center will make giant contributions to an industry that is vital to a healthful economy in Pennsylvania. Indeed, we can only respond with great anticipation and enthusiasm by joining together to say 'we are Penn State.'"

Daniel Hagen said, "The new facilities put Penn State at the cutting edge of modern dairy practices. They will provide us with improved capabilities to conduct research and educational programs. Studies in ruminant nutrition, forage utilization, reproductive physiology and lactation, and young stock management benefit tremendously from these new, flexible facilities."

Because the primary functions of the new facility are research and education, it includes some features not found on a typical production farm.

For example, because of the size of the buildings and their public use, they were constructed without wood, and strict building codes required a sizable sprinkler system for fire control.

The feed center provides storage and mixing of feeds for all animals in the dairy operation. The facility has five new upright silos of various capacities for storing forages and grains for research studies. Sixteen overhead bins store ingredients for conventional and experimental feeds. Hay, bedding, and commodities are stored in a new pole barn. The feed center also includes three new horizontal silos.

The 60-cow tiestall barn is disigned with wide feed alleys to accommodate equipment to feed each animal individually for nutrition studies. Walls are constructed for maximum natural ventilation in the summer.

The heifer barn can house 160 replacement heifers from three to 24 months of age. The barn has a drive-through design with half freestalls and half bedded pack. The facility will be equipped for individual feeding.

Steve Spencer, professor of dairy science, helped design the center's computerized milking system, which has a data-acquisition and control system that transfers information from milk-flow measuring devices to computers.

The milking parlor, constructed almost entirely of stainless steel, consists of a double-10 herringbone stall arrangement with rapid-exit gates. For greater visibility, the stalls are arranged in front of the operators' area instead of at the rear.

Milking parlor gates, indexing rails, and rapid-exit stall fronts are operated by compressed air, furnished by two 7x5-horsepower two-stage compressors, with operator controls in three locations. It also has automatic teat dip sprayer units. The milking system consists of 20 automatic take-off units with arm-type detachers, milk meeters, and automatic cow identification. Vacuum is furnished by tow 10-horsepower water-ring vacuum pumps, chosen for their low noise levels. Milk is cooled within minutes and stored in a 4,000-gallon tank.

The freestall barn houses 120 adult cows and allows cows to be separated into groups of 20 for research. Equipment will be installed for individual feeding. Twelve-foot-wide outdoor blacktop travel lanes permit animals to be moved from one area to another without disturbing other groups.

An existing barn has been remodeled for intensive nutrition, physiology and biotechnology research with small numbers of cows. The unit can house eight cows and eight replacement heifers.

After the opening ceremony, participants were given a tour of the new facilities. At noon a lunch was served. About 300 stakeholders in the dairy industry attended.

In the afternoon, the first session of the Pennsylvania Dairy Industry Futures Committee's forum began at the Scanticon. The forum was scheduled to continue on Friday.

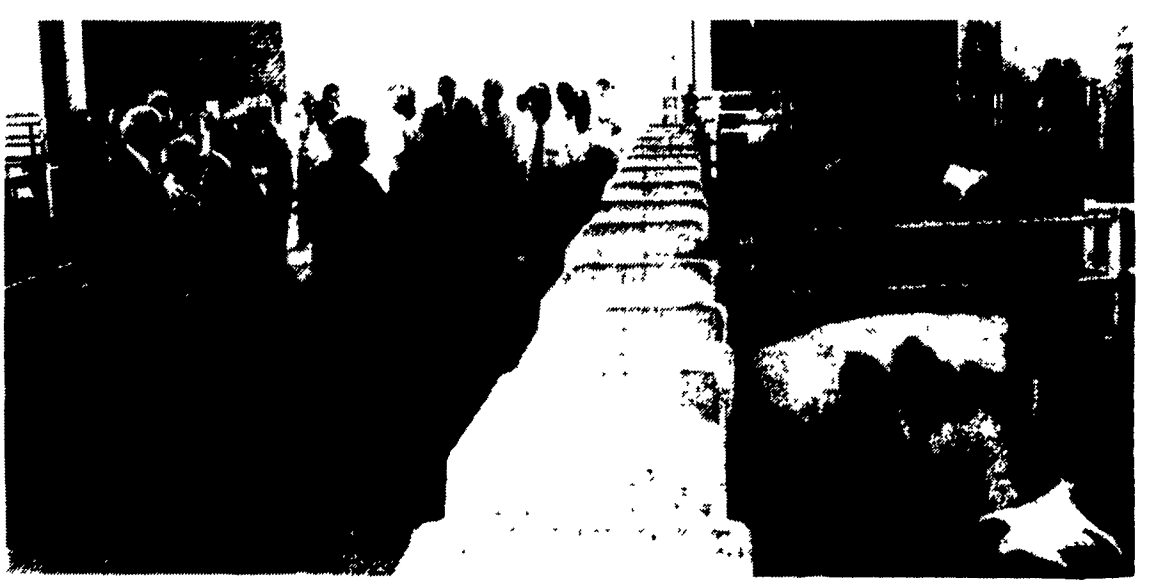
A nice crowd at the dedication.



One of the stops on the tour of the facilities was this calf area where each individual is limited to its own feed bin.

West Virginia Couple Heads Cooperative Leaders Conference

ALTOONA (Blair Co.)—For Michael and Dorrie Blue of Shannendoah Junction, West Virginia, the opportunity to gain leadership skills, the chance to make friends and the management skills that are shared are reason enough to convince any cooperative producer to attend the Pennsylvania Council of Cooperative's Young Cooperative Leaders Conference. The three day event is planned for July 5-7, 1995 at the Ramada Inn in Altoona.

Sponsored by CoBank, the Blues will return to the conference for the third consecutive summer, this time in the role of overall Chair Couple. As such, they have provided invaluable input into the planning process for the 1995 conference and will serve as host for approximately 70 producers from Pennsylvania and surrounding states.

Michael and Dorrie were first sponsored to the YCL Conference in 1993 by the former Dairymen, Inc. The Blues operate a 115 cow dairy in conjunction with four of Michael's brothers and one sister; they also raise replacement heifers, as well as a few poultry and hogs. It was through their appointment as 1994 Ambassador Couple for Dairymen that they first learned of PCC's program. Since then, they have traveled throughout the country to various leadership opportunities, but are convinced that Pennsylvania's program is the most thorough and the most progressive.

"I was really given a place to participate," explains Dorrie. "My involvement and interest were really encouraged." The program has also had a marked impact on both partners' leadership abilities. Dorrie feels that Michael has made the most noticeable strides, developing from a shy and quiet producer to a confident and involved cooperative member.

The Blues also value the unique opportunity the PCC program provides to bring different kinds of agricultural producers into one room. "As a dairy farmer, I never really gave much thought to how grapes or potatoes are produced or marketed," notes Dorrie. Adds Michael, "It was interesting to learn about producing for the Welch's label or about marketing potato chips." Just as significantly, they've learned that all farmers share many of the same joys and concerns. Weather, governmental regulations, and hired help are issues that besiege everyone.

Helping to cope with those management concerns is another important component of the YCL program. Each year, the conference features speakers on farm family relationships, finances and management techniques. The program also includes a one on one opportunity for participants to sit down with cooperative management and directors to ask specific questions about their businesses.

"With fewer and fewer farms and farmers, I feel that it is really important to be good neighbors and good cooperative members," states Michael. "PCC's program is a great place to learn how to do both."

For more information about this worthwhile conference, please contact PCC at (814) 946-9970. PCC is a statewide association of cooperative businesses owned and controlled by farmers and rural Pennsylvanians. Its membership includes major marketing and farm supply cooperatives, the Farm Credit Associations of Pennsylvania as well as rural electric cooperatives. Organized in 1933, PCC is the voice for agricultural and rural cooperatives operating in Pennsylvania.

Michael and Dorrie Blue from Shannendoah Junction, West Virginia are the chair couple for the Pennsylvania Council of Cooperative's young leader's conference. Shown with them at their dairy farm are their children Mychael Tiffany, 10; and Jake, 5.

Supplemental Feeding Of Grazing Beef Cattle

Grazing Gazette

PENNSTATE College of Agricultural Sciences in cooperation with USDA/ARS

J. W. Comerford and H.W. Harpster
Penn State University

The need for supplemental nutrients by beef cattle grazing pasture is not as great as for the lactating dairy cow. In fact, mature beef cows with calves should need only some mineral supplementation if they are grazing adequate quantities of high quality forage.

However, grazed stalk fields are an exception for mature cows. When properly managed, stalk fields can provide an inexpensive source of feed, particularly for the spring-calving beef cow. Usually there is enough protein and energy available in the stalks for dry, pregnant beef cows for about 30 days. After 30 days, supplemental protein and energy should be considered. Here are possibilities:

- Lick tank placed well away from water source to avoid overconsumption (1-2 pounds of a 40 percent CP supplement is adequate).
- 5 to 10 pounds of hay, depending upon condition of cows and amount of stalks in field.
- 3 to 6 pounds of corn, depending upon condition of cows and amount of stalks left in field.
- Some combination of the above.

Another situation where supplement is needed is the case of early-weaned beef calves (4-5 months vs. 7 months of age). This management practice is typically used to extend fall grazing of the cows. Calves may be confined away from cows and fed grain and stored forage while cows have access to pastures, or calves have access to pastures while cows are fed separately from calves with either stored forage or by following calves through a rotational grazing system.

Early weaning of calves provides a more efficient use of feed resources because: 1) cow feed costs are reduced since spring-calving cows have a relatively low nutritional requirement after the breeding season; and 2) calves will make more efficient gains from direct intake of grain compared to feeding cows to produce milk.

A recent study at Penn State has shown that early weaned calves will require supplemental grain feeding to achieve weaning weights as good as those calves that remain with the cow, even though forage may be abundant and of high quality. About 1 percent of body weight of calves in grain per day for early weaned calves will be needed to have equal performance with normally-weaned calves.

Replacement heifers will usually have adequate performance with well managed grazing. For spring calving herds this usually implies the heifers will be bred during the early part of the grazing season. Adequate winter weight gains prior to breeding will be more critical than gains during the grazing season because the heifers must reach targeted breeding weight. Maintenance of weight gains during the grazing season should be 1.0 to 1.5 pounds per day for most heifers, and this can usually be achieved with grazing. In the event grass becomes restricted, grain feeding should be used to maintain this performance. The amount of grain fed will be determined by the amount of forage that is available and the desired daily gains. Again, 1 percent of the body weight of the heifers in grain would be sufficient in most cases with restricted forage.

Backgrounding of beef calves typically involves using pastures to economically add weight to calves after weaning. The most common backgrounding system is grazing wheat pastures in major wheat-producing areas in the country. Stockpiled grasses, may also be used where they are available, as well as feeding maintenance rations to calves during the winter and then grazing the cattle the following spring and summer before they are shipped to feedlots for high concentrate feeding. In most cases the only supplemental feed used in a backgrounding system is minerals because the use of grain will increase the cost of gain or the cattle will become too fat before being switched to high concentrate diets. Calves that are too fat that enter feedlots tend to get sick easier and purchase weight recovery will be longer due to shrink and the conversion to grain diets. In some cases, however, limited grain feeding may be used because there is a restriction in forage availability or because the price of grain will be low enough to make higher gains economical. Cattle in the US are not "finished" on grass because it is difficult to reach adequate quality grades and because the color of the lean and fat tissue will be undesirable to consumers.

An economical delivery system for protein or energy feeds for cattle on pasture is usually difficult to obtain. One system that has been successful is using salt in grain mixes fed through self-feeders to limit intake of grains or protein supplements. The salt requirement for beef cattle is about .10 percent of the ration dry matter. Consumption of salt will vary due to the size of the cattle and the type of ration they are consuming. Cattle eating dry feeds and grain will consume only half as much salt as those on pasture or those eating silage. Heavier cattle will also tend to consume more total feed, including salt. There does not appear to be any detrimental effect of feeding high levels of salt as long as cattle have the free and unlimited access to water, particularly in winter. Cattle will consume varying amounts of salt if it is available, so only a general recommendation can be made for the salt component of a mixed feed. The feeder should be prepared to change and regulate the salt content of a mixture because of the length of time the cattle have access to the feed, their size and weight, weather conditions, the availability of water and the type of feeds being consumed. The following table shows how much salt should be added to a mixture when the cattle are eating .10 percent of their body weight daily of salt.

Another method of feed delivery on pasture is with molasses-based liquid feeds in "lick tanks." Previously, most of the protein supplements used in these feeds were urea, but this is not an effective supplement for young, growing cattle. New suspension technology will now allow the use of many types of feed ingredients in the molasses.

Early weaned beef calves, young dairy beef steers, and young dairy replacement heifers at 300-600 pounds will benefit most from supplemental protein while on pasture. Protein quality in pasture is usually not sufficient to meet the needs of these young, growing animals. High rumen-bypass proteins are most desirable to supplement these grazing cattle. However, palatability of these feeds is usually low. A study at Penn State with dairy beef calves has shown that calves with supplemental high rumen-bypass proteins (blood and feather meal) in molasses-based liquid feed while on pasture gained 35 pounds more than unsupplemented calves during a 160-day grazing season. The supplemented calves also tended to have heavier weights at 112 days and 168 days in the subsequent feedlot phase and had a slightly higher percentage of Choice carcasses.

The disadvantage of using lick tanks is the lack of control and subsequent inconsistency of feed intake. In the above study, intake of the liquid feed often exceeded 6 pounds per head daily. This level of intake exceeds the desired protein intake, and the cost of feeding becomes excessive, in spite of the additional weight gains. A system to regulate intake of these liquid feeds will be needed to make them cost-competitive.

In summary, most classes of beef cattle will have desirable performance in a well-managed grazing program. In some cases, growing cattle may require additional grain or protein in the diet, but the delivery system should be easy to use and economical. Self-fed salt and grain mixes may be useful, and molasses-based liquid feeds can be used if intake can be controlled.

PRUA Elects Officers

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.)—Pennsylvanians for the Responsible Use of Animals (PRUA) selected a new slate of officers for its board and executive committee for the coming year at a recent meeting.

Robert Junk of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Union was chosen as the board president. Junk replaces Karl Brown of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, who served on the board as president for the past eight years.

"We appreciate the work Karl has done to preserve our quality of life through the responsible use of animals," Junk said. "We look forward to keeping the programs that are already established strong and working to establish initiatives that demonstrate the role of animals in our society."

PRUA is an association of more than 20 organizations and advisory groups that promotes the responsible use of animals for food and clothing production, biomedical research and education, wildlife management and entertainment. PRUA opposes organizations that seek to stop the use of animals through terrorism, misinformation, and intimidation.

Other members elected to the board for the 1995-1996 term and organizations they represent are vice president: Ray Martin, Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen Clubs; secretary: James C. Mentzer, Pennsylvania State Grange; treasurer, John Henry Brubaker, Pennsylvania Association of Meat Processors; at-large members to the executive committee: Tony Dobrosky, Pennsylvania Livestock Association, and Joel Rotz, Pennsylvania Farm Bureau.

Anyone interested in joining PRUA may write to PRUA, P.O. Box 61, Elizabethtown, PA 17022, or call (717) 367-5223.

Leading Living Lifetime Winners Announced

REYNOLDSBURG, Ohio — Briarcliffs Magic Princess, E-91%, topped the Leading Living Lifetime Production Contest in both the milk and protein categories. She is owned by The Billings Farm, Woodstock, Vt. Generators Favorite Heather, E-90%, is the lifetime fat production winner, owned by John R. Miller, Chesterfield, Mass.

The Leading Living Lifetime Production Contest is sponsored each year by the American Jersey Cattle Association. It recognizes Jerseys alive as of December 31 of the contest year.

In order to be nominated, cows must have a lifetime production of 150,000 pounds milk, or 7,500 pounds fat, or 5,000 pounds protein.

Only DHIR production credits are used to calculate the standings. The total lifetime production achieved by the winners of 1994 Leading Living Lifetime Production Contest is a credit to the producing ability of the Jersey breed.

Briarcliffs Magic Princess E-91% is working on her 11th lactation, producing a total of 251,579 pounds milk, 8,959 pounds protein, and 10,576 pounds fat in 4,209 days. She has a mature equivalent average on 10 lactations of 23,052 pounds milk, 956 pounds fat, and 803 pounds protein. The 14-year-old cow has completed six lactations of more than 18,000 pounds milk and 680 pounds protein. This cow also ranked second in fat production. Generators Favorite Heather, E-90%, produced 10,698 lbs. fat to take top honors in that category. This cow also placed fourth in milk production and protein production. She has completed 12 lactations in her lifetime.

The Leading Living Lifetime Production Awards will be presented during the AJCA-NAJ annual meetings in Albany, N.Y., July 1.

For more information, contact Sara L. Gaetz, American Jersey Cattle Association, 6486 E. Main St., Reynoldsburg, OH 43068-2362, (614) 861-3636.

NEWS

AJCA Announces Production Award Winners

REYNOLDSBURG, Ohio — Beths Magical Lana, E-92%, owned by George Crews, Star, ID, has been named the winner of the 1994 President's Trophy by the American Jersey Cattle Association. This trophy is designed to recognize the cow that has excelled over any other in production for a single year. This is the fifth year the award has been based on mature equivalent protein production. "Lana" won the award for her m.e. average of 26,423 lbs. milk, 1,230 lbs. fat, and 1,122 lbs. protein. Her actual production at 8-3 in 305 days was 26,690 lbs. milk, 1,230 lbs. fat, and 1,122 lbs. protein.

AU Tillies Legend Twinkie, E-91%, owned by Kurt and Carol Alberti, Buhl, ID, has been named the winner of the Hilmar Cheese Award. This award is based on a 305-day lactation completed in 1994. It is computed using the modified cheese yield formula for 38% moisture cheddar. "Twinkie" won the award for her actual production at 7-0 in 305 days was 28,840 lbs. milk, 1,400 lbs. fat, and 1,155 lbs. protein. Her record yields a winning total of 2,748 lbs. of cheese. The award is sponsored by the Hilmar Cheese Company, Hilmar, CA.

The President's Trophy and the Hilmar Cheese Award will be presented at the AJCA-NAJ Annual Meetings in Albany, NY, July 1.

California Consignment Tops Pride West Sale

REYNOLDSBURG, Ohio — Sunset Canyon Karate-ET, consigned by Eric Silva, Turlock, CA brought $26,800 to top the Pride of the West Sale held May 12. "Karate" was purchased by Network Genetics of Hilmar, CA.

Duncans Princess Belle was the high selling female bringing $20,000. "Belle" was consigned by Cedarcrest Farms, Faunsdale, AL and purchased by Blaxland Jerseys, Victoria, Australia.

The Pride of the West sale was held in conjunction with the 14th World Jersey Conference hosted by the United States and held in Monterey and Modesto, CA. The conference drew attendees from 20 countries, including the United States. Approximately 600 people attended the sale.

A total of 51 animals were sold averaging $3,790.

National Milk Promotion Campaign

In an all-white room in an ethereal setting, he sees a large chocolate chip cookie on a table, eats it and says, "This must be Heaven."

He then goes to a refrigerator filled to capacity with milk cartons. All empty.

He wonders where he really ended up.

The Insomniac commercial has a women who can't sleep wanting to eat a bowl of cereal while watching television.

Her milk carton is empty, and then everything on television that she watches has to do with milk.

The Diner commercial has a young man at a luncheon counter needing a glass of milk to finish his meal, when the waiter tells him that the young woman several seats away has the last one. In this one, he gets his milk, but it has good situation comedy.

The Santa commercial has Santa Claus eating the cookie that was left for him, but discovering there is no milk. He leaves no present, and takes the tree up the chimney.

Another commercial, not titled, has to do with a young priest eating a huge chocolate brownie from a vending machine, and then is unable to get a carton of milk out of another machine to wash it down. Nuns appear and tell him, with chocoalte on his face, that it's time to start church service.

"While we believe that our current campaign is excellent and has been effective in selling more milk, the 'Got Milk?' campaign could allow the entire industry to put greater weight and support behind one campaign," said DMI Chief Executive Officer Tom Gallagher.

"Our goal here is to sell more milk, and this move will allow our promotion dollars to have the most impact."

Pa. Holstein To Hold Junior Judging Schools

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — The Pennsylvania Junior Holstein Association Judging Schools are scheduled to be held mid-July, and registration is due June 26.

The state association offers two schools to all junior-aged people interested in dairy cattle, regardless of breed, one in the western region of the state, the other in the eastern region. It is not reserved just for junior members of the Holstein Association.

Last year, because of concern over Bovine Viral Diarrhea (BVD), the western school was cancelled. This year, there are to again be two schools.

The schools teach basics of cattle judging through visits to different herds, discussions, actual judging and comparing of notes. The attempt is to cover the basics of animal evaluation and reasongiving.

Those who attend have the opportunity to learn terminology, animal and class breakdowns, and how to effectively give reasons justifying the judgements.

Participants will get a chance to judge Holsteins, Jerseys, Ayrshires, Brown Swiss and Guernseys.

The schools are held on two consecutive days, running from noon to noon.

For those living close to the schools, who do not need overnight accomodations, the cost is $15, which covers school costs and an evening meal.

For those needing overnight accomodations, the cost is $25, which covers the school, an evening meal, and the cost of a hotel room.

A second member of a family who attends will receive $5 off the registration cost.

The western school is to be held July 10 and July 11, with the Butler County Holstein Club serving as host. Tom Smith, of Lancaster, is to teach the school.

Students are to judge Holsteins at Norman and Stella Graham's farm, and also at Marburger Dairy Farm; Ayrshires at Harold and Barbara Rader's farm; Guernseys at James Moser family farm; Brown Swiss at the James Kennedy family farm, and Jersey at George and Peggy Dean's farm.

The eastern school is scheduled for July 12-13, with the Bradford County Holstein Club serving as host. David Castrogivanni, of Montrose, is to teach.

Cattle to be judged inlcude Jerseys from the William Eick family, and Stuart and Elain Noble; Holsteins from Kenny and Jerry Young, Al Calkins, and Richard and Marylin Packard; Ayrshires from Mark Carter, and Doug Stewart; Guernseys from Paul, Owen and Jon Brackman; and Brown Swiss from Blain and Tammy Yurkanin.

In order to register, complete a form and mail it with a check made payable to the Pennsylvania Holstein Association, 839 Benner Pike, State College, 16801.

For more information, call the association at (814) 234-0364.

Northeast DHIA Urges Proper ID

ITHACA, N.Y. — Northeast DHIA field technicians will soon have the ability to bring more records to the farm. In order to provide the best possible records service for the 4,200-member cooperative, good cow identification is essential.

Northeast DHIA is encouraging members to take a closer look at their herd for potential ID problems.

Are there any duplicate numbers between the cows and calves?

Is the tag from cow #76 removed when she is beefed, only to be assigned immediately to a fresh heifer?

Are heifers re-numbered when they enter the milking herd? Do you do this according to the DHIA CCN sequence?

Any of these ID practices on your herd will make it difficult for you to take advantage of the new capabilities Northeast DHIA will offer.

The new rules are simple. Each animal can have two forms of member-assigned barn identification; a barn number and a barn name (or an alternate barn number series).

Additionally, all the animals on the dairy are considered to be in one herd. That is, cows and calves are handled in one file.

After the change to the new records system this fall, a calf will not have to be "entered into the herd," she will just calve. In fact, the ideal system would be to have a "lifetime" number for each animal in the herd.

You are encouraged to clean up IDs now, so the records will be more useful to you later. If you have questions about how best to identify animals, contact your DHIA field technician or call the Northeast DHIA Center at 1-800-DHI-COWS (1-800-344-2697).

PFB Presents Position On Farm Bill

HAMBURG (Berks Co.) — A spokesman for the state's largest farm organization today called for vigorous programs to strengthen export markets under the 1995 Farm Bill which will be debated and written by Congress this year.

Berks County dairman, John Stump of Bernville testified on behalf of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau (PFB) at a field hearing conducted by Congressman Tim Holden (D-6th Dist.) on the dairy provisions of the next farm bill.

Stump is a member of PFB's Dairy Committee and chairs the Berks County Farm Bureau dairy committee. Rep. Holden is Pennsylvania's only congressman on the House Agriculture Committee.

"Much Farm Bill discussion is taking place to revamp or eliminate federal dairy programs such as the Dairy Price Support Program, Federal Order Program, and Dairy Export Incentive Program," Stump said.

For the current year, USDA is predicting a 4 percent to 6 percent drop in dairy producer income. More price reductions are forecast next year regardless of changes in farm policy.

According to the Food and Agricultural Policy Research Institute, elimination of various combinations of the dairy support, export incentive or federal order programs would mean an additional 73 cents to $1.68 per hundredweight reduction in the all-milk price in 1996.

"Clearly," Stump testified, "elimination of these programs without some feasible replacement would only hasten the exit of many Pennsylvania dairy farmers."

Accordingly, Stump said, "PFB recommends the 1995 Farm Bill vigorously work to strengthen export markets, particularly in the area of value-added dairy products."

Any savings due to the reduction of federal spending for the dairy support program should be used to develop this area. Stump said, and the Dairy Export Incentive Program should receive the maximum federal funding allowed under the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT).

"We would support check-off dollars to help pay for such a program," Stump said, pointing out that such a check-off should not be confused with the present deficit reduction dairy assessments to which PFB is totally opposed.

In addition, Stump said, "Federal orders should be strengthened rather than eliminated. However such changes need to be made by an expeditious hearing process, rather than legislatively."

One item needing correction, Stump said, is to allow parts of a Federal Order to be amended without risking elimination of the entire Order.

Commenting on the Clinton Administration's 1995 Farm Bill proposal, Stump said it suggests the support price level could be phased down in exchange for reductions in dairy assessments.

"Before this is done," Stump testified, "other replacements for the support price, such as a loan program for processors, should be considered."

In addition, the Administration's plan suggests a phase-down of fluid differentials, and implementation of multiple basing points.

"If greater equity among producers is being sought through these actions, cost of production differences should also be considered for each region," Stump said.

The Administration's farm bill proposal also addresses environmental concerns relating to water quality. Pennsylvania already has a strict nutrient management law, Stump noted. "Any attempts to encourage greater environmental protection should be accompanied by adequate revenue to implement such plans," he said.

Finally, Stump testified, the new farm bill "should not prohibit the states from enhancing the ability to enjoy an adequate supply of milk. As long as states do not infringe upon interstate commerce, they should be allowed to establish minimum producer, wholesale, and retail price levels."

Pennsylvania Farm Bureau is a voluntary, statewide farm organization which represents 26,167 member families in 54 county farm bureaus. About 44 percent of PFB's members are dairy farmers. PFB is affiliated with the nation's largest general farm organization, the 4.4-million member American Farm Bureau Federation.

TENT CATERPILLAR TACTICS

I have been increasingly concerned over the past few days to read and hear individuals saying that the best way to take care of the eastern tent caterpillar and to get rid of the ugly tents is to soak the tents with a flammable liquid and then set fire to them. Others have said that they just take a small torch and burn them out.

These methods are, simply put, the worst ways to take care of this pest. Not only is this dangerous but it is also damaging to the tree!

Eastern tent caterpillars build their tents in the smaller, younger branches of the tree. These smaller branches have thin bark. Even if the bark shows no visible charring after burning out the tent, the cambium layer under this thin bark will be damaged. This will cause a dead area of cambium. This dead area is the perfect spot for other insects and/or fungal diseases to invade the tree. Over the long run this will decrease the trees health and vigor.

The best and safest way to take care of these pest at this stage of their life is treatment with a chemical pesticide. The tents should be opened with a knife and then the inside and outside of the tent should be thoroughly sprayed with a registered pesticide.

If you have questions on pesticides that are registered for use on eastern tent caterpillars and their use, call us at the extension office at (717) 265-2896. We will be happy to help you.

DAVID BIGELOW
Training Coordinator

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Pa. DHIA completed the 1995 Spring Conferences. The Spring Conferences are just one part of the educational process at Pa. DHIA.

With the ever-increasing changes taking place in the dairy industry, it is vitally important that Pa. DHIA keeps their technicians updated.

Along with the Summer and Fall Conferences, the Spring Conferences allow the time needed to update each technician.

The Spring Conference is mandatory and it is required that each technician bring his or her computer to receive the latest computer updates.

This year's Spring Conference agenda included a roundtable discussion to voice any concerns or ideas. Dean Amick, director of Field Operations, facilitated the roundtable discussion.

An update of the innovative programs was given by Amick. The importance of being flexible in today's DHIA market was greatly stressed.

Recognition was given to each technician who has completed one year of employment. The respective region manager presented these awards.

David Bigelow, training coordinator, covered the Due Process (rules) of Pa. DHIA and National DHIA. Along with covering the rules, Dave had the opportunity to remind technicians about the availability of Optional Reports that the dairyman has the ability to select.

The highlight of the conference was the introduction of the new Nutrition Program.

The new Nutrition Program gives the dairyman the flexibility to record up to 13 feeds. At the same time the dairyman may report the feed on a dry matter basis.

Along with that introduction an update was given to each technician, which allows them to present eight ready-made Westfalia Dairy Plan reports for each dairyman. Along with the opportunity to tailor-make virtually any report the dairyman requests, Pa. DHIA technician service is even greater.

If we can assist you in your dairy operation, call Pa. DHIA at 1-800-344-8378.

Pa.DHIA Hires Yoder

DAVID BIGELOW
Training Coordinator

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Pa. DHIA is happy to have James T. Yoder as part of their team.

James brings a wealth of farming knowledge as well as a strong leadership background to his DHIA circuit in Somerset County.

Having a full circuit, James still finds time to be involved in several different organizations such as the Somerset County Republican Committee, Lincoln Township Republican Committee, Somerset County Beef Producers Association and Pennsylvania Farm Bureau.

Once growing up in Lincoln Township, Somerset County, he participated in the Steaks and Chops 4-H Club. For three years James was president of that club.

Upon graduation from Somerset Area High School in 1993, James had a great love for the agriculture industry. It was at this point that he decided to devote much time to the pastime he loved so much.

James Yoder

Currently James also farms 100 acres consisting of hay and small grains.

Some hobbies that he participates in are hunting and fishing.

When asked what he likes most about working as a technician, he responded by saying he enjoys working with his dairymen, and likes the flexible hours.

James currently resides with his father and mother, Buddy and Clara.

Pa. DHIA invites the dairy industry to welcome James as part of their team.

Feel free to contact Pa. DHIA at 1-800-344-8378, if we can assist you in your dairy business.

Offers Same-Day Reports

DAVID BIGELOW
Training Coordinator

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Modern technology continues to play a major part in today's dairy industry.

The advent of the laptop computer has revolutionized dairy record analysis to even greater heights. Not only does the Pa. DHIA technician have the ability to enter basic herd information into the laptop computer, but the technician now has the ability to create reports on test day.

At Pa. DHIA, we feel that having this information available in such a timely fashion, will create yet another way the dairymen can use our service to better manage their herds.

Currently the Pa. DHIA technicians enter herd data into the Quick Barn Sheet Program. After data collection is complete, the data collected will then be transferred or updated to the Westfalia Dairy Plan program.

The Westfalia Dairy Plan program processes milk, breed, herd health and veterinary information for daily management and decision making. Dairy Plan gives you the information you need, just the way you want it by creating your own reports or by using the several reports that come with the system.

Not only can Dairy Plan present herd data in a report format, but Dairy Plan can present data in a graph format. The sophistication of this program will allow the dairymen to select which program best suits their needs. Reports are lists of cows in useful ways. Graphs are visual charts of your data. Dairy Plan has many different options for customizing reports and graphs.

Vet checklists are also available through Dairy Plan at Pa. DHIA. A "vet checklist" can include activities such as pregnancy checks and dry-off dates.

Technicians Have Same-Day Reports

DAVID BIGELOW
Training Coordinator

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Recently Pa. DHIA completed its Spring Conferences and same-day reports were the central theme.

Along with being educated on how to create reports and graphs, technicians were given eight already-made reports installed into each laptop computer. The reasoning behind this installation was to give each Pa. DHIA technician the quick ability to turn to a popular report without actually designing a special report on their own.

Included in the eight reports are:

1. Cows to Inject with BST
2. Cows to take off BST
3. Quick Overview Report
4. Persistence Report
5. Cows Due to Calve
6. Cows to check for Pregnancy
7. Vet Action List sorted by action
8. Vet Action List sorted by name

The quick definition of each report includes:

1. Cows to inject with BST - This report is designed to allow a dairyman to know when each cow is qualified to be injected with BST.

2. Cows to take off BST - This report is designed to allow a dairyman to know when each cow should be taken off BST.

3. Quick Overview Report - This report gives an overview of each cow in the herd. Each cow is listed from high to low milk according to test day production.

4. Persistence Report - Cows in the herd are listed by alphabetical order. A total test day milk production along with each test day weight for the last 5 months is listed. A current status of the cow is also listed.

5. Cows Due to Calve - This report is similar to the Reproductive Report that is currently available. This report can be very instrumental in a dairyman's breeding program.

6. Cows to check for pregnancy - Current list includes cows that are eligible to be pregnancy checked.

7. Vet Action sorted by Action - Required "Vet Action" needing action will be addressed accordingly by date and action.

8. Vet Action List sorted by name - Required "Vet Action" needing action will be addressed accordingly by date and name.

Feel free to ask your technician to present their already-made reports at your farm.

Feel free to call Pa. DHIA at 1-800-344-8378, if we can assist you in your dairy management.

Pro Ag Members Lobby In Washington

WASHINGTON, D.C.— Several members of the Progressive Agriculture Organization (Pro Ag) spent time in Washington recently, lobbying for the Dairy, Nutrition, and Conservation Act of 1995 (DNCA).

According to Arden Tewksbury, manager of Pro Ag, different teams from the group spent time with officials of Pennsylvania and New York state representatives and senators, explaining the Dairy Act. In addition, aides from 20 other legislator offices were visited.

The entire group met with John Enrich, ag aide for Congressman Joe McDade and Jeff Harrison, ag aide to Congressman Steve Gunderson. Gunderson serves as chairman of the House Subcommittee on Dairy.

They also met with representatives from the offices of Senators Specter, Santorum, Leahy, Jeffords, D'Amato, Moynihan, and Harkin.

Accompanying Tewksbury on the trip were Donald Gregory from Luzerne County, Diana Slater and Joan Lawrence from Susquehanna County, Kirk Rhone from Wayne County, and Sherri Boyanowski from Wyoming County.

Speaking from Meshoppen, Tewskbury said, "Milk prices paid to area dairy farmers now have plummeted below the 1981 level and will probably go below the 1980 price this summer." It's unthinkable, he said, to ask dairy farmers to continue their dairy operations in this type of economic climate.

The group urged all members of Congress to give serious consideration of the DNCA as a viable method of resolving the financial plight facing dairy farmers.

The DNCA was finalized during the past winter through the efforts of Congressman Bernie Sanders of Vermont, along with the National Family Farm Coalition and Pro Ag.

The proposed Act will price milk to dairy farmers based on the national average cost of production, will allow dairy farmers to produce milk in line with the domestic market, will provide milk products for the Dairy Nutritional Program, will further reduce the already low cost dairy programs in the USDA, and will allow dairy farmers to comply with mandated conservation programs.

The Pro Ag members informed everyone they met with, that the amount of dairy products in USDA storage is near an all-time low. Actually, according to officals of Pro Ag, there has been no extra cheese in the United States for three successive years.

According to Tewksbury, different congressional aides informed us that the House Subcommittee on Dairy will start assembling its dairy policy by the end of June.

Dennis Boyanowksi, president of Pro Ag, stated that the organization will accelerate its efforts during the next 30 days in an attempt to have the DNCA considered by Congress.

Pro Ag officials believe it's important for consumers to realize the seriousness of the dairy farmers' plight, and if the consumers want to be sure of a local supply of a fresh wholesome milk, then they must get behind the efforts of the local dairy farmers.

For more information regarding how consumers can aid in passing the DNCA, call Pro Ag at (717) 833-5776 or (717) 924-3518.

Thank You For Everything!

It's not easy concentrating a full year of gratitude in a single day. It certainly isn't easy expressing a lifetime of admiration with a few short sentences. But these are the thoughts that our readers sent as a small token of admiration for their dads and husbands.

ONE UNIQUE FATHER

Although a large family and duties at home keep my dad extremely busy, he always has time to spare for people in the community who need him. He loves children, and unlike some men, he always acknowledges them and speaks to them. Also, unlike some parents, he has not seemingly forgotten his youthful days, which gives him an important asset in understanding us — his children.

I may sound prejudiced, but I still say, I have never yet met a person as tender-hearted, forgiving, and thoughtful as my father — and I doubt that I ever will.

DAD'S FAVORITE CANNED TOMATO SOUP

2 gallons cut tomatoes
4 large onions
1 stalk celery (leaves and all)

Cook together slowly. When soft, put through a sieve. Add:

2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons salt
Dash red pepper
½ pound butter
1 cup cornstarch (mix with a little water)

Bring sieved tomatoes, onions, celery, sugar, salt, and pepper to a boil. Add cornstarch and butter. Cook until thickened. Put in jars and cook about 15 minutes.

HUSBAND IS SPECIAL

He is special — because he is a loving and kind person. My husband's name is Walter Rank. He likes to paint and take care of flowers. He also likes to go to farm sales. We have one son who is in the Air Force and three grandchildren, who live in California at Edwards Air Force Base.

My husband's favorite food is taco salad.

TACO SALAD

Corn tortilla chips
1 pound ground beef
½ cup salsa
1 cup grated cheddar cheese
1 cup shredded lettuce
Tomato wedges

Brown ground beef. Add your favorite salsa and simmer 5 minutes. Cover the bottom of a plate with tortilla chips. Arrange or layer meat, cheese, lettuce, and tomatoes on the corn chips.

Marie Rank
Myerstown

HE'S A REMARKABLE HUSBAND

Lucius is a remarkable person and deserves to be honored on Father's Day. Even though he has an unusual form of degenerative arthritis (chondrocalcinosis), he still manages much of his farm work. He deserves an A+ for putting up with our cat. Ten years ago, he was far from being a cat lover.

This recipe for apple dumplings is one of my husband's favorite recipes.

APPLE DUMPLINGS

Pastry: Combine ¾ cup of your favorite shortening with 2¼ cups flour. Dissolve ½ teaspoon salt in 5 tablespoons ice water and then add to flour-shortening mixture. Mix just long enough to wet the flour. Using a rolling pin, roll out the dough to ⅛ -inch thickness. Cut in six 7-inch squares.

Apples: peel six apples. Place an apple on each pastry square after coring. Fill cavity of apple with mixture of ½ cup sugar and 1½ teaspoons cinnamon. This allows about 3 teaspoons to each apple. Dot with a little piece of butter. Bring points of dough around apple and seal. Place about two inches apart in dish and pour hot syrup around dumplings.

Syrup: Combine 1 cup sugar, 2 cups water, and 4 tablespoons butter. Boil together 3 minutes.

Preheat oven and bake at 400 degrees until golden brown, approximately 40 mintues.

HE'S A GREAT FATHER

My father Lavern Rutt loves this pudding. I made it a lot for him before I was married. After milking cows for 33 years, he sold them and is now doing hauling with a flatbed truck. He is a great father to his five children. Happy Father's Day!

OLD-FASHIONED CRACKER PUDDING

4 tablespoons margarine
7 cups milk
1¾ cup sugar
28 soda crackers (2-inch square)
4 eggs
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup milk
2 cups coconut, optional
1 tablespoon vanilla

Melt margarine. Add milk, sugar, and soda crackers. Bring to a boil. Beat together eggs, cornstarch, and milk. Add slowly to hot mixture. Bring to a boil again. Add coconut and vanilla.

MY DAD IS SPECIAL

Dad is special to me because he cares for and loves his family. He is a hard worker and provides well for his family.

Thanks for all you do for us, Dad!

This is one of my dad's favorite drinks. It's great on a hot summer day.

GOOD'S PUNCH

2 quarts ginger ale
46-ounce can pineapple juice
2 packages lime Kool-aid
2 cups sugar
1 quart ice
1 quart water

Mix together all ingredients and serve. Note: When we make this punch, we generally use one quart ginger ale and 2 quarts water in place of the the 2 quarts ginger ale.

HE'S MORE THAN A HUSBAND

On June 25, my husband and I will be married 12 years. In that time we've become more than a husband and wife, we've become friends. That is what is special about him along with the blessing of a son. I work full time, he is disabled. My mom does the grocery shopping, the wash and cares for our son two days a week. Here is one of his favorite recipes.

MACARONI PIZZA

1 Kraft macaroni and cheese dinner
2 eggs
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
4-ounce can mushrooms, drained
1 teaspoon oregano
1 teaspoon basil
1 pound Italian sausage, cooked, sliced
1 cup shredded mozzarella cheese

Prepare dinner as directed. Add eggs. Mix well. Spread into a greased 12-inch pizza pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 10 minutes. Combine tomato sauce, mushrooms, and seasonings. Spoon over dinner. Top with meat and cheese. Bake 10 minutes more.

I make this recipe lower fat by using skim milk, light margarine, egg beaters instead of whole eggs, turkey sausage, and fat-free mozzarella.

I LOVE MY DAD

My name is Amy Lynn. I am 7 years old. My dad's name is Robert Frantz. I like my dad because he takes me in the truck and plays games with me.

One of dad's favorite treats is chocolate cake and milk. He is a cattle dealer. He also tells good stories.

SCREWBALL CHOCOLATE CAKE

2 cups sugar
3 cups flour
½ cup cocoa
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking soda

Sift and mix well in 9x13-inch pan in which cake will be baked. Make 3 holes and add:

2 teaspoons vinegar
2 teaspoons vanilla
⅔ cup oil

Over all of this, pour 2 cups cold water. Mix well. Drop three times (right side up, of course). Bake at 350 degrees about 30 minutes. This cake stays moist for several days.

DAD'S SPECIAL 'CAUSE . . .

My dad is special 'cause he takes me a lot of fun places. My dad also does a lot of things for me. My dad buys me a lot of things and he gives me a nice warm home to live in. Sometimes my dad helps me with my homework and helps me study for my test.

CHOCOLATE CHIP COOKIES

1 cup softened butter
¾ cup firmly packed brown sugar
¾ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
2¼ cups flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup coarsely chopped nuts, optional
12 ounces semi-sweet chocolate-flavored chips

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Beat butter, sugars, vanilla, and eggs until light and fluffy. Mix in flour, baking soda and salt. Stir in nuts and chips. Drop from teaspoon, 2 inches apart, on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake about 10 minutes or until golden brown. Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

MY DADDY IS A GOOD DADDY AND A GOOD FARMER

My daddy loves his Lancaster Farming and usually reads it all by Sunday night. My daddy isn't a Holstein farmer but is a Hereford farmer.

My daddy likes feeding our cow, Gabriel, and likes to give her kisses!

We bought a small farm, 35 acres in Wyalusing, in January. My daddy takes me with him to the farm and we work together to clean up the barns. I helped daddy put up an electric fence on Saturday. Daddy is a good daddy and a good farmer.

OUR DADDY IS LOTS OF FUN

We love when our daddy teases us. We especially love when he plays with us and takes us along to the barn to do chores. We have lots of fun with our daddy!

HUSBAND IS WONDERFUL EXAMPLE

On a regular basis my husband Elvin serves others! The occasion may be a friend who needs a tire on a holiday, a neighbor who needs some help with his tractor, a fellow worker whose chain saw or lawn mower needs a new part, a relative who needs help with a furnace or leaky faucet, and the list goes on . . . .

What a wonderful example his life of serving others is to our sons! So on special occasions, I make Irene's Chocolate Cake for a very special man!

IRENE'S CHOCOLATE CAKE

1 cup sugar
2 tablespoon butter
1 egg
2 squares melted baker's chocolate
1¼ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup boiling water

Mix together sugar, butter, egg, and chocolate. Combine flour, baking powder, and salt and add alternately with ½ cup water. Combine together the following ingredients:

½ cup water
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon vanilla

Add to mixture. Batter will be thin. Pour into 13x9-inch baking pan and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Icing:

2 egg whites
1½ cups granulated sugar
⅓ cup water
2 tablespoons King Syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cook in top of a double boiler and beat with beaters until stiff.

Add 1 cup miniature marshmallows, beating continually until they are melted. Put on cake smoothly.

Melt 2 one-ounce squares chocolate and ½ teaspoon butter. Spread smoothly on top of frosting.

Kim Cuculis and sons, Luke and Mitchell, think their dad and husband is the best ever.

BEST FATHER EVER

Bill is the best father there is. He's always taking time out of his busy schedule to spend time with our two boys, Luke, 5, and Mitchell, 3.

We have a small farm in northern Harford County, Maryland. Bill is a full-time electrical contractor and part-time farmer. The boys and I love him very much.

This is my husband Bill's favorite recipe because it is tasty and nutritious.

Caribbean Jerk Catfish

1½ pounds catfish fillets
3 tablespoons McCormick Caribbean Jerk Seasoning
3 tablespoons vegetable oil
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon cider vinegar

Combine all ingredients except catfish in glass dish. Add catfish and turn to coat on all sides. Refrigerate for 30 minutes. Broil or grill 7-10 minutes on each side.

Ida's Notebook

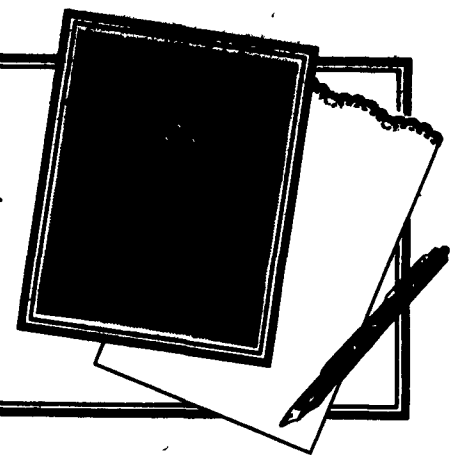
Ida Risser



Last week was busy because of our children were visiting us. This week is busy because we have so many strawberries to pick. And, the sugar peas are ready at the same time. Often I work late into the night freezing them. While I'm doing this, I hear our son, Philip, with his tractor and baler making round bales in the meadow by our house. Without lights, neither of us would work past sundown.

When I was a child my parents put a kerosene lamp on the table and that is where we did our homework. It was a large table in the kitchen that was big enough for all nine of us. Sometimes we listened to a radio, that used a battery, which sat on a sideboard.

My father was always interested in politics, sports and opera. That last item sounds odd for a dirt farmer but he took his daughters to their first opera in Lancaster. My mother never cared for the soprano singers and would say, "What if I screamed like that." Everyone has their own likes and dislikes.

Today we have the Sunday newspaper delivered to our home. Long ago we would stop on the way home from church and buy a paper for a nickel. That was another "bone of contention" between my parents as my mother though that nickel was a great extravagance. She probably was busy all day with children and had no time to read it while my father could relax with his pipe and paper.

Some of us are busier than we really want to be but doing nothing would be far worse.

Cream Of The Crop Recipes

What better time to showcase American's dairy farmers, the dairy industry and its products than June Dairy Month — a celebration that has been observed nationwide since 1937.

Lancaster Farming holds an annual dairy recipe contest as a salute to dairy farmers who produce nutritious milk and other dairy products to make these delicious recipes.

We thank the many readers who sent in recipes. Each week during June D ry Month, a portion of the entries ..ll be printed. Winners in the Cow Mania Contest will be published on June 24.

A special thanks goes t the readers who wrote something about themselves and ..nt a picture. It's our readers who make this contest and the dairy recipes a popular event.

So, during June Dairy Mon.h, thank a farmer by trying several of these delectable recipes.

SCANDINAVIAN RICE PUDDING

2 cups milk
½ cup uncooked rice
½ cup light cream
⅓ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter

In a double boiler, heat milk and stir in rice. Cover and cook over simmering water, stirring occasionally as mixture thickens, adding more milk if necessary until rice is tender, about 1 to 1½ hours. Stir in cream, vanilla, salt, sugar, and butter. Remove from heat and allow to stand over hot water until ready to serve. You may sprinkle with cinnamon and nutmeg and serve with cream or just eat it plain.

My husband and I are semi-retired. We still live on the farm, which is operated by our son and his wife, and help with the farm work.

"Today Show"
Red Velvet Cake

2-¼ cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
1-½ cups sugar
½ cup (1 stick) butter
2 eggs
2 ounces red food coloring
2 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa powder
1 cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 tablespoon white vinegar
1 teaspoon baking soda
Cream Cheese Icing (recipe follows)

Preheat oven to 350°F. Sift flour and salt together; set aside. In a large bowl with an electric mixer cream sugar and butter; add eggs and beat well. Stir together food coloring and cocoa; add to creamed mixture. Add buttermilk alternately with flour to creamed mixture. Stir in vanilla. Pour vinegar into a small deep bowl; add soda (it wil foam). Stir into batter (do not beat). Pour batter into 2 buttered and floured 9-inch cake pans. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until a wooden pick inserted in the center comes out clean. Cool cake in pans for 10 minutes. Remove cakes from pans; cool completely on wire racks. Fill and frost with Cream Cheese icing.

YIELD: one 9-inch layer cake

Cream Cheese Icing

1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
1 pound confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Place all ingredients in a large mixer bowl. Beat until fluffy and smooth.

HONEY MILK BALLS

1 cup oatmeal
1 cup powdered milk
½ cup honey
½ cup crunchy peanut butter.

Combine all ingredients. Mix well. Form into one-inch balls.

Hi! I live on a dairy farm with my parents, Irvin and Anna Mae Wenger. I like to play with my brother Dwight and my baby sister Rachelle. I am three years old. I help my mom feed calves. I like to play with my kitty and ride my trike in the barn. When I am hungry, I like this candy for a snack.

RIBBON SALAD

4 4-ounce packages Jell-O in strawberry, raspberry, lime, and blueberry flavors
½ gallon vanilla ice cream
1 pint sour cream
4 cups boiling water

Spread a thin layer of sour cream on the bottom of a 9x13-inch pan. In a small mixing bowl, combine 1 cup boiling water with the strawberry Jell-O. Mix until dissolved. Add 2 cups softened ice cream and blend until smooth. Pour over sour cream in pan. Refrigerate for 15 minutes or until set.

Top with another thin layer of sour cream, refrigerate. Repeat the process for the continuing layers of Jell-O and ice cream mixture, using the lime, raspberry, and blueberry in that or any order. No sour cream on the last layer. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

Note: Use more Jell-O and ice cream for extra layers in deeper pans.

I am a dairy farm wife and the mother of 5 children, ages 3 to 11. My husband's name is Tom and together we run the dairy part of our farm. We have one son and four girls. We milk 64 animals. For the last two years, we have shown some of our animals in the local fair. My husband is a director for the Centre County Holstein Association. Until recently, I was a representative to the board for the local dairy promotion committee. I am a 4-H leader in the Centre County 4-H club and am active in promoting the dairy industry in my county. I enjoy restoring my home along with my husband to a more country look.

I also collect antiques, sew for my children, enjoy cooking and making crafts. I believe that a good sense of humor and a strong belief in God are what is essential to make it through some of life's ups and downs.

MOTHER'S CHOCOLATE CAKE

½ cup shortening
1¼ cup sugar
2 eggs
½ cup cocoa
2¼ cups cake flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ cup sour milk or buttermilk
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening and add sugar gradually. Beat until fluffy. Add eggs and continue to beat. Add vanilla. Sift flour, measure, and sift again with cocoa and salt. Add alternately with sour milk. Add baking soda to boiling water. When it is dissolved, add all at once to mixture.

Stir only enough to blend ingredients. This makes a very thin batter and a very moist and fine-textured cake. Pour into greased, lightly floured 9x13-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes.

My mother has been making this cake for years. She uses a milk chocolate icing on it, but it would be delicious without it. Peanut butter or some other icing would be fine.

When my husband and I were married six years ago, this was one recipe I wanted to take along with me. My husband absolutely loved it and told everyone that it was the best (he still tells people).

Dave and I are living and working on the dairy farm he was raised on. A new piece was being added to the barn the day he came home from the hospital. We have a 67-cow tie stall barn, raise our own replacement heifers, and grow corn, alfalfa, wheat, and soybeans.

Our two children, Candace, 4½, and Brendon, 2½, love to help milk the cows and feed the calves.

Isaac and Sharon Horst — a newly married couple, work for us, doing most of the milking and Isaac helps with the field work.

COOKIES-N-CREAM

1 large package Oreo cookies, crushed
8 tablespoons butter, melted

Combine cookies and butter. In a separate bowl, mix together:

8 ounces cream cheese, softened
½ cup milk

Add:

3 cups milk
2 3½ -ounce instant vanilla pudding mix
2 cups whipped cream topping

Put half of cookie mixture into bottom of class bowl. Add cream mixture. Place other cookie mixture on top and chill. Serves 10-12.

I live on a farm in Manheim with my husband Mike and our three little boys. Their names are Matthew, 4; Timothy, 2½; and Mark, 9 months.

My husband has been farming with his father ever since he was a little boy. They have dairy, hogs, corn, tomatoes, and tobacco so they keep very busy all through the year.

Farm life was a bit of a new experience for me, but I love it. I'm finding out that the farm is truely the best place to raise children.

I'm a full-time mom and I feel so blessed to be able to stay at home and raise our family. And, you've probably guessed that there is never a dull moment in our home.

Things that I enjoy doing are spending times with family and friends, enjoying the outdoors whether it is at work or play, shopping, baking, and counted cross stitch.

Dave and Almira Kline with children Candace and Brendon.

The recipe that I submitted is wonderful dessert for all ages. Adults love it just as much as children do. It's light, creamy, and tastes delicious. Enjoy!

JELL-O TAPIOCA

4 cups water
7 tablespoons tapioca
6-ounces Jell-O
1 quart vanilla ice cream, softened

Bring sugar and water to a boil. Turn heat low. Add tapioca and boil until clear, 6-8 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in the Jell-O. Blend in 1 quart softened vanilla ice cream. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

For orange-pineapple flavor, use orange Jell-O and 1 cup crushed pineapple. You can also use strawberry Jell-O and mashed strawberries. Serves 10-12.

We live on a dairy farm with our six children near Mount Joy. We also raise a lot of vegetables in the summer to sell; mostly sweet corn and beans, which go to a roadside market. We do consume our share of dairy products too.

BUTTERMILK POUND CAKE

1½ cups sugar
½ cup shortening, heaping
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons lemon flavoring
3 eggs
1 cup buttermilk with ½ teaspoon baking soda stirred in
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder

Cream sugar and shortening. Add flavoring and salt. Add one egg at a time, beating well with each addition.

Add other ingredients. Pour into a greased, floured tube pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until done.

We have recently returned to farming after a hiatus of five years. We are currently raising registered Dorset sheep, which is a change from our past experience with Angus cattle.

Our other family members are our son, Steven, 6, and his older sisters, Melanie, Barbara, and Christine, who are all college graduates.

This recipe was given to me 25 years ago by my next door neighbor, Joann. It is a pound cake recipe that goes with everything, especially strawberries and ice cream.

EASY CHEESE DIP

1 can cheddar-cheese soup
3-ounces cream cheese
Garlic salt to taste
Corn chips or crackers

Combine cheddar cheese soup and cream cheese in blender or with mixer. Stir in garlic salt. Serve with corn chips or crackers. Enjoy!

I am the 9-year-old daughter of Patricia A. Greek Jones of Airville and Dennis W. Jones of Parkton, Md. The recipe I have sent in was my demonstration at the Airville 4-H Milk and Money Dairy Club. I have been a member 2 years. I don't live on a farm, but live really close to Ridge Hill Farm owned by my uncle, Leonard Greek. I love to go and help him with the baby calves.

My other interests include dancing. I have been at the Shrewsbury Dance Academy for six years. I also like to read and play. I do not have any brothers or sisters, but I have seven cousins.

PEACHES AND CREAM CHEESECAKE

¾ cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 small package vanilla pudding
3 tablespoons butter, softened
1 egg
½ cup milk
8-ounces cream cheese, softened
½ cup sugar
15-20-ounces peaches
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Beat the following, flour, baking powder, salt, vanilla pudding, butter, egg, and milk for 2 minutes at medium speed. Pour into a 9x13-inch cake pan. Place peaches (drained well, reserving juice) over this.

Beat cream cheese, ½ cup sugar, and 3 tablespoons reserved peach juice for 2 minutes at medium speed. Spoon mixture over cake batter to within one inch of edge of batter.

Combine 1 teaspoon sugar and ½ teaspoon cinnamon. Sprinkle over cream cheese filling. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes.

I am married to Duane Shelley, a dairy farmer. We have a son Derek who is 3 years old.

I'm a seamtress at Lyon Fashion DMC in McAlisterville. We make more than 1,000 dresses, jump suits, pant suits, etc. There are about 150-200 women in the plant who work 8 to 9 hours a day, five days a week.

I'm also a housewife and my three-year-old likes to help cook. He really keeps my husband and me very busy.

My hobbies include sewing, planting flowers, collecting cow items, and shopping.

RHUBARB PIE

2 cups rhubarb (cut in ¼ -inch pieces)
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup sugar
½ cup raisins
¼ cup walnut meats, chopped
1 beaten egg

Mix all the above ingredients together after dough is in the pan, so it doesn't run. Use one pie crust recipe and make a lattice top. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

Cook's • Question • Corner

If you are looking for a recipe but can't find it, send your recipe request to Lou Ann Good, Cook's Question Corner, in care of Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. There's no need to send a SASE. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible.

Answers to recipe requests should be sent to the same address.

QUESTION — Maryann Santini, Alpha, N.J., would like a recipe to make sauerkraut in a five gallon crock and another recipe to make Kosher dill pickles in a 5-gallon crock.

QUESTION — Katie Stoltzfus, Christiana, would like to know how to make Spam, which is available in cans at the store.

QUESTION — Arlene Snyder, Manheim, would like a recipe for Horehound candy made with horehound flavoring.

QUESTION — Arlene Snyder, Manheim, would like a recipe using banana creme flavoring.

QUESTION — Dorothy Wilson, Middletown, writes that several months ago a recipe for No Peek Chicken was printed. It was made with white rice, cream soup, chicken and Lipton onion soup mix, covered and baked for two hours. She made it for her family who loved it. When she looked for the recipe recently, she could not find it. Since we do not keep files on all the recipes, perhaps a reader has clipped it and will send it in to be reprinted.

QUESTION — A Berks County reader would like a recipe for granola cereal that tastes like that sold by Dutchway Store in the bulk food department.

QUESTION — Judy P. Looney, New Castle, is looking for a cake recipe with a hot milk dressing served over it. It was one of her favorite foods made by her grandmother.

QUESTION — B.W. Pue, Rocky Ridge, Md., would like directions for making realistic gingerbread people that are used in crafts. Some are puffy and others are thick and flat. How is the dough made and colored and the features painted?

QUESTION — B.W. Pue, Rocky Ridge, Md., would like the recipe and directions for Slow-Ball Dip that appeared in Woman's Day on July 5, 1983, page 98. She recalls that it contained 3 cans chopped clams and cream cheese. It is baked in a round loaf of bread that has been scooped out.

QUESTION — Sarah Clark, Breezewood, would like a recipe for Autumn Soup, which contains hamburger, celery, corn, potatoes, tomatoes, onion, basil, salt and pepper.

QUESTION — Sarah Clark, Breezewood, would like a candy called Decadent, which she thinks is made in North or South Carolina. She'd also like a bread recipe called Arkansas Travelers Bread, a fruit cake called ice box fruit cake, which includes marshmallows, Hi Ho Crackers, evaporated milk, mixed candied fruits, and nuts, and a cherry pie made with red Kool-Aid.

QUESTION — A Chambersburg lover of Section B would like recipes for "all fruit" jellies without artificial sweeteners and granulated sugar. She'd like details on using a smoker. Do you burn charcoal or wood? How do you keep the fire hot while adding wood? How do you keep ashes off the meat? How can you tell if it's hot enough?

QUESTION — Nancy Price, Jarrettsville, would like a recipe for fruit sauce such as they serve with ham at Horn and Horn Restaurant. She has tried other recipes but none is as good as Horn and Horn's.

QUESTION — Dick Taylor, Allentown, N.J., would like a recipe for hot pepper sauce using lime juice and carrots as opposed to the traditional method of using vinegar and tomatoes. He writes that lime juice enhances the pepper flavor more than vinegar.

QUESTION — Dee Crowder, Gettysburg, is looking for a recipe similar to Rotel or Chi-Chi's Tomato and Green Chilies.

QUESTION — Lena Hoover, Shippensburg, would like recipes for instant vanilla, chocolate, and butterscotch puddings.

QUESTION — Andy Andrews, Brownstown, would like the recipe for pecan collision, a pecan/chocolate cheesecake served at a Lancaster County smorgasbord.

QUESTION — Gina Hawbaker would like to know how to make a salad dressing similar to the house dressing at Atrim House Restaurant in Greencastle.

QUESTION — Brenda Scott, Bellefonte, wants a recipe for cabbage slaw to put on ham and pork barbecues.

QUESTION — Brenda Scott, Bellefonte, wants a recipe for a basting sauce to baste a 225-pound roasting pig as it's being cooked in a large pig cooker.

QUESTION — Sue Werner, Lebanon, would like a recipe for alfalfa jelly. She writes that her family tasted it at the Farm Show. Although she felt like she was eating grass, her son loved it.

QUESTION — A reader would like a recipe for Dutch Loaf made with beef and pork.

QUESTION — Karen Kinnane, Shartlesville, would like a recipe for cranberry candy, which is made with canned cranberry sauce, red Jell-O, and chopped nuts. It's poured into a pan to chill, cut into bars and rolled in granulated sugar. It's a very pretty, bright red with a sparkle from the sugar.

QUESTION — Janet Rutz, Carlisle, would like recipes to use dried cranberry beans.

QUESTION — Frank T. Cat of Millerstown, would like a recipe for English toffee cookies like those sold by Weis Markets. The cookies are great tasting and don't crumble for children.

QUESTION — Karen Kinnane, Shartlesville, would like a recipe for clear cranberry jelly that can be molded in shapes.

ANSWER — A Lebanon County reader wanted a recipe for copper penny salad. Thanks to Peggy Kurtz, New Holland; Lisa Luken, Ono; Rachael Gromley, Manchester, and others for sending recipes.

Copper Penny Salad

2 pounds carrots, peeled, sliced, cooked, cooled
1 medium green pepper sliced into rings
3 medium onions, sliced into rings

Place carrots in large dish with onions and pepper in layers. Sprinkle each layer with salt and pepper.

Dressing:
¾ cup sugar
½ cup salad oil
¾ cup vinegar
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 can tomato soup

Blend together dressing ingredients and pour over salad. Refrigerate at least 24 hours before serving. Keeps indefinitely.

ANSWER — Sallie Martin, Denver, wanted a recipe and any related background information on chess pie. Thanks to Lisa Luken, Ono, and Rachael Grumley, Manchester, for sending recipes.

Lisa writes that in the South, a chess pie is a thick, sweet, butter-smooth mixture. One explanation of the derivation of the word "chess" is a "corruption of cheese." Another is that chess derives from chest, where keeping of "chess" pies were stored in the days before refrigeration. Recipes for chess pies vary significantly throughout the South. What is called a chess pie in North Carolina is known elswhere as a brown-sugar pie (see recipes that follow). In Kentucky, a chess pie is a thick, sweet, egg-custard pie flavored with vanila.

Blue Grass Chess Pie

1½ cups sugar
½ cup butter, softened
3 large eggs
2 tablespoons flour
¾ cup light cream
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoon vanilla
9-inch unbaked pie shell

Cream sugar and butter until smooth; beat in the eggs, one at a time, using a wooden spoon. Beat in the flour, then blend in the cream, salt, and vanilla. Pour filling into pie shell and bake at 325 degrees for about 45 minutes or until puffy and amber colored. Cool to room temperature before cutting.

Brown Sugar Pie

2 cups packed light brown sugar
4 large eggs
¼ cup light cream
Pinch salt
⅓ cup melted butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
9-inch unbaked pie shell

Using a wooden spoon, blend together the sugar, eggs, cream and salt. Add the butter gradually, beating hard. Stir in the vanilla. Pour filling into pie shell and bake at 325 degrees for 50 to 60 minutes or until pie is puffy and browned. Cool to room temperature before serving. The filling will fall slightly and take on an almost jelly-like consistency. Cut the slices small — this is sinfully rich.

FROZEN CHOCOLATE PEANUT BUTTER PIE

1 quart milk
2 boxes instant chocolate pudding
1 package dream whip (prepared)
1 16-ounce package chocolate sandwich creme cookies
½-1 cup chocolate chips (optional)
Peanut butter

Break ¾ of a pack of chocolate cookies over the bottom of a 13-inch by 9-inch by 2-inch pan. Make chocolate pudding with one quart of milk according to package directions. Fold in prepared dream whip and chocolate chips. Spread over broken cookies. Drop spoonsful of peanut butter into pudding mixture, however thickly you desire. Top with remaining cookies, broken. Place in freezer. Remove from freezer about 10 minutes before serving, for easier serving. This is delicious and refreshing on a hot summer day.

We are busy dairy farmers, milking 55 cows three times a day and farming 175 acres. We have seven living children — six sons and one daughter ranging in age from 18 years to four years. Our baby, who would be two years old on June 11, died in a farm accident at the age of 15 months. We miss him so much!

We use lots of milk — 24 gallons every week. This recipe is a favorite of my husband and children. They all like chocolate/peanut butter combinations. I formulated this dessert one hot summer day when I needed something quick, easy, and cold.

I very much enjoy reading and using the recipes you print. Thanks for doing such a good job!

God has been so good to us! We feel privileged to live on a farm, close to nature, daily reminded of our utter dependence on the One who "does all things well."

YUMMY CUPCAKES

Batter:
2 cups sugar
3 cups flour
½ cup cocoa powder
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 teaspoons baking soda
2 tablespoons vinegar
⅔ cup vegetable oil
2 cups water

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly.

Filling:
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
1 egg
½ cup sugar
Dash of salt
12-ounce package of chocolate chips

Cream cheese, egg, sugar, and salt. Add chocolate chips and blend well. Fill cupcake papers ½ full of batter and top with 1 teaspoon of topping.

Baking time is 15-20 minutes at 350 degrees. Yields about 3 dozen.

I am 14 years old. I have four brothers and two sisters. We all enjoy these cupcakes. We milk 37 cows and also have horses, chickens, two dogs, and some kittens. My hobbies are reading and babysitting.

On Being a Farm Wife (and other hazards)

Joyce Bupp

Shiny black eyes peek out from a narrow gap between the two walls.

Slowly, I stretch my hand in toward the eyes, which retreat even further back into the shadows. And though they can't be seen with a quick glance, other pairs of eyes watch this action.

While Tiger, our mother cat is tame, affectionate and loves to be cuddled, her five kittens harbor less friendly feelings for us human types who invade their hiding places around the barn. It took several weeks initially to even see a glimpse of the litter, which she kept well hidden somewhere between the stone foundation of the old bank barn and its upstairs hay storage floors.

As they outgrew that nest, Tiger moved her kittens to the feed alley between the original front of the barn and the cattle freestall area, which was added on to the barn several decades ago. When the dairy herd moved to the new stall barn, the old freestall section became overnight and bad weather shelter for the bred heifers. They're out on pasture most of the time, so the only other critters usually sharing the kittens' playground are the noisy roosters which, well, roost there.

Other weaned calves and young heifers are housed in nearby pens in this young-stock-raising area. Trying to catch glimpses of the elusive four orange and one black kittens has become a sort of game for me, while doing the feeding and bedding chores. But one look at this dangerous, intrusive person stalking them and the kittens zip into hiding.

The narrow, dark gap between the bank barn foundation and the old milkhouse addition is probably their favorite hideaway. Only about four inches wide, the opening makes an ideal hallway to the outside for the furry babies, to run and play tag through, as well as a refuge from pesty farm wives feeding heifers nearby.

As the kittens have grown, so have their appetites, outstripping Tiger's ability to satisfy their hunger with milk. So she hunts for them for hours every day, stalking sparrows and prowling the pond's cattails for tender frogs. Even that extra meat on the table isn't enough, so mother and kittens get a supplemental snack of milk when I feed the calves.

After a couple of weeks of sneaking up to the wide milk dish only some time after it's been filled, the kittens are now growing either hungry or confident enough to edge closer when the milk bucket shows up. This morning, they even allowed me to gently pet them while they lapped up breakfast.

Growing almost as tame are the three, pudgy baby squirrels romping through the maple trees behind the house. Of course, they should be pudgy. With their mother, they chow down several pounds of corn and sunflower seeds every week, plus what they bury in my flower containers scattered around the porch and patio.

If we step outside and disturb their chores, the bushy-tails hang upside-down on the tree trunks, cussing at us in irate squirrel language. I can't speak it — but I get the message.

Tamest of all this year's baby critters are the six Canada goose youngsters. They're now in that awkward adolescent stage, with smooth, brown-feathered backs and lengthening black tailfeathers, but their necks and heads still covered with the fuzzy beige-colored down of infancy.

As soon as they spy one of us, they begin paddling in our direction. And, if food isn't forthcoming they'll yank on the shoestrings of our sneakers, dangling down at their eye level from the pond's wooden pier.

So along with our hungry bovine mouths to feed, we have kittens, squirrels and goslings lined up daily, expecting handouts.

Maybe we could list them as dependents on our income tax?

Half Pints Invade Dairy Farm

KAREN BUTLER
Maryland Correspondent

MIDDLETOWN, Md. — Farm tours, hayrides, ice cream making, and a picnic made a day of fun for a group of 60 kindergartners from Spring Ridge Elementary recently. The group visited the Middletown farm of Randy and Karen Sowers and family at the culmination of a school unit on farming and farm animals.

Randy and Karen Sowers have two children, Abigail, 18, and Ben, 13. Abby is the Frederick County Dairy Princess. The Sowers farm approximately 900 acres in total. The original farm is in Ag land preservation, and the additional acreage they own, which runs up the side of South Mountain, is under a conservation easement for Battlefield conservation, for the Battle of South Mountain. They plant 350 acres of corn, 150 of beans, 100 of a small grain, and about 150 of alfalfa and grass hay. Two hundred ten acres are devoted to pasture. They milk 160-170 head, raise 200 heifers and about 50 Holstein bull calves, and have a 70 head Hereford cross beef herd. In addition, 109,000 layers are part of the operation, and a few pigs.

The diversity of the farming operation offered a good representation of Maryland agriculture to the children, whether they realized it or not! As far as they were concerned, it just made for a whole lot of fun. Accompanying the children around the farm and livening things up in general was Heidi, a mischievous goat belonging to Ben Sowers.

Daughter Abby, the county Dairy Princess, graduates this week, and plans on attending Frederick Community College as a business major. She has been active in 4-H up until her senior year, and is also involved with the Big Brother/Big Sister program, is a volunteer at the Cancer Society, a member of a vocal ensemble at school, a third grade Sunday School teacher at United Church of Christ, Middletown, and likes to line dance once a week. Her chores on the farm include milking at 1 in the morning on weekends, and on weekdays helping with the 5 a.m. milking, and feeding calves.

In addition to opening their farm to the school children of Frederick County in an effort to promote a better understanding of agriculture, the Sowers were honored with the Master Farmer award, given by Pennsylvania Farmer magazine in January 1995. Farmers from New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Virginia were eligible for the prestigious award. They were also voted Outstanding Young Farmers in 1987 in a statewide honor given by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

"I'd like the opportunity to say how fantastic, thoroughly fantastic, the Sowers have been. They have just been great. I can't say enough about how wonderful this has been for the children," raved Ann Miller, Team Leader at the school.

She said, "This has reaffirmed that farming people are a part of the county. I have children living in ¼ million dollar homes and children from housing projects in the inner city. This has been a wonderful experience for them." Miller said that she explains to the children that everyone who lives on the farm is a farmer, that the whole family is involved.

Head after tiny head peeking out of a neat row of calf hutches brought shrieks of delight from the children. Bottle feeding the babies at "calf kindergarten" was a thrill for some of the more adventurous youngsters. A Brown Swiss had just had twins the day before the tour, and one of the calves was available to pet.

The group was led through the holding area into the double six parlor, where, later in the day they would return to see the herd being milked. They learned that no matter how tempting it may be to try to climb a shiny bulk tank, it's almost impossible to scale the slippery sides.

Everyone, chaperons included, stood in awe of the big equipment when they came to it. But as soon as Randy Sowers made the suggestion, there was a mad scramble to "drive" the haybine, the combine, and the forage harvester.

Washing with hot water keeps the Sowers' equipment sparkling clean. The forage harvester, one year old, cut 900 loads last year, yet it shone like brand new. Supervised climbing on the equipment provided an exciting opportunity for hands-on learning about where food comes from.

"Is this what you make ice cream with?" asked an innocent voice, the child scooping up a handful of corn. "Well, in a way it is," chuckled Mr. Sowers. "The cow eats that, and gives the milk, and we use that milk to make ice cream," he explained to the fascinated group.

"Do cows really sleep lying down?" The questions continued as the tour passed the freestall barn. "What happens if Heidi jumps in (the manure pit)?" "How many chickens lay all those eggs?" "Can I take this home and plant it? Will it grow?"

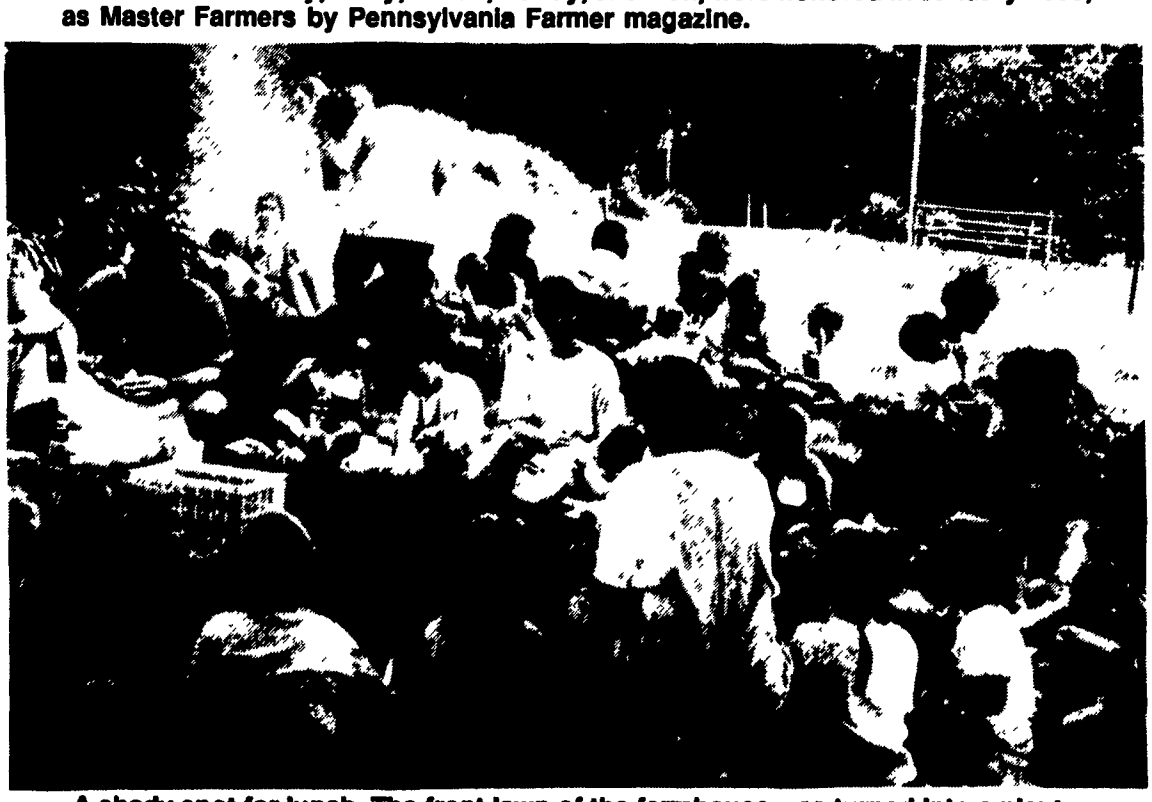
And, finally, the question everyone had been waiting for . . . "Have you kids ever been on a hayride?" The excitement of the hayride was compounded by the fact that by this time, Frederick County Dairy Princess Abby Sowers had come home from graduation rehearsal, and joined the children. Abby joined one of the wagons as they paraded through the farm fields, leading the children in a chorus of every farm song they could think of.

As the wagons slowed to a halt at the crest of a sun-drenched hill, with the Sowers' farm nestled far below, and a "real Princess" in their midst perched on a bale of bright straw, the children could hardly have wished for any better field trip. Then the wagons once more rocked into motion, carrying their precious load down for the promise of a picnic and some home-frozen ice cream.

"Calf Kindergarten" was something the children could relate to. The sight of head after tiny head peeking out from the neat row of hutches delighted the group.

His first hayride. When asked what he thought of the wagon ride, this youngster exclaimed, "Fun!"

The Sowers family, Abby, Karen, Randy, and Ben, were honored in January 1995, as Master Farmers by Pennsylvania Farmer magazine.



A shady spot for lunch. The front lawn of the farmhouse was turned into a picnic grounds for the hungry youngsters.

SMEAR KASE (CHEESE SPREAD)

2 quarts whole milk
5 pounds White American cheese
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon butter

Heat milk and cheese in large double boiler until melted. Remove from heat and add the baking soda and butter. Cool and serve with snitz pie and pickles! Makes about 4 quarts of spreading cheese.

This is a usual specialty at an Amish church lunch. It is a delicious spread on bread with strawberry jam on top. Lots of people also put a dab on a piece of snitz pie and keep the pickle dish within easy reach. Sound like an odd combination? Try it . . . it's delicious!

COCOA CAKE

1 cup water
1 cup butter
6 tablespoons cocoa (heaping)
2 cups sugar
2 cups flour
2 eggs
½ cup milk with 2 tablespoons of lemon juice
1 teaspoon baking soda

First, fix milk with lemon juice. Set aside. In a saucepan, bring to boil water, butter, and cocoa for one minute. Remove from heat. Add sugar and stir. Add flour and mix well, then add eggs one at a time. Pour in milk and baking soda, stirring well. Pour into a 9-inch by 13-inch greased cake pan or a 10-inch by 14-inch pan for brownies. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes.

This recipe has been in my family for many years. It's good with any kind of frosting or a can of cherry pie filling with lots of whipped cream.

My husband Rolland and I live on a small ranch in northeast Montana, six miles south of Culbertson. We raise cattle, sheep, and some horses, so it's pretty busy around here all year long. Also, we have three young adults that go with the place, which we have raised from babies: Justin, 21, who works in town; Jaylene, 19, who is home from college; and Jory Ray, 17, who is in high school. So if you or your readers are up this way, stop by — the coffee pot is always on. Have a great summer!

MICROWAVE CREAM OF BROCCOLI SOUP

¼ cup butter
1 medium, chopped onion
¼ cup unsifted all-purpose flour
2 cups milk
1 can (about 14 ounces) chicken broth
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen chopped broccoli

In 1 quart casserole, cook butter and onion in microwave on high for two minutes. Stir in flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Blend in milk. Cover with plastic wrap and vent. Cook on high 4 to 5 minutes, stirring occasionally until thickened. Add broth, adding enough water to make 2 cups. Add broccoli and cover and vent. Cook on high about 6 minutes until hot.

Fresh broccoli, cooked and mashed, may be used. Also, homemade chicken stock can be used or chicken boullion.

CHOCOLATE RASPBERRY BARS

1 cup all-purpose flour
¼ cup confectioners' sugar
½ cup butter

Filling:

½ cup seedless raspberry jam
4 ounces cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons milk
1 cup vanilla-flavored chips, melted

Glaze:

¼ cup semi-sweet chocolate chips
2 tablespoons butter

In a bowl, combine flour and confectioners' sugar, cut in butter until crumbly. Press into an ungreased 9-inch square baking pan.

Bake at 375 degrees for 15-18 minutes (until browned). Spread jam over warm crust.

In a small mixing bowl, beat cream cheese and milk until smooth. Add vanilla chips; beat until smooth. Spread carefully over jam layer. Cool completely. Chill until set about 1 hour.

For glaze, melted chocolate chips and butter; spread over filling. Chill 10 minutes. Cut into bars; chill another hour. Store in the refrigerator. Yields: 3 dozen.

We live on a dairy farm in Mercersburg, Franklin Co. We milk 80 Holsteins and raise replacement heifers from our herd.

The main crops we grow are corn, alfalfa, some oats and soybeans. I plant a small garden and love working with all my flowers— roses, irises, tulips, marigolds, mums, snapdragons, and many annuals.

My husband Laban and I both teach Sunday School classes at Calvary Bible Church in Greencastle and thank God for his grace and love bestowed upon us and our desire to culivate his soil.

We have four grown sons, Mark, Glen, Stan, and Jere. We also are privileged to have five grandchildren.

I look forward to reading the B section of Lancaster Farming every week.

NO-BAKE CHEESE PIE

Beat together until creamy:
8-ounces softened cream cheese
½ cup sugar
Fold into mixture:
8-ounces whipped cream topping

Pour into pie crust. Spread with a knife dipped in hot water.

Top with your favorite pie filling (cherry, strawberry or blueberry)

Crust:

1¼ cups graham cracker mix
3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons Jell-O mixture

Press into pan.

I enjoy looking at all the recipes in Lancaster Farming and it is very interesting throughout the whole paper. I am a great one to collect recipes.

We have a big farm, the Silvertrin Farm. It has been in operation for 70 years or more. I am from the family living next door. My brother Robert Silvertrin, who is 57 years old, and my son James Bryan, 33 years old, operate the farm. My sister Dorothy lives on the farm and is the house woman. They are now milking more than 100 cows a day. It is a very long and interesting farm of use and long hours.

TUNA CASSEROLE

1 small can tuna fish
20 crackers (crumble)
2 tablespoons butter
⅛ teaspoon minced onions
1 teaspoon minced parsley
½ pound (cooked) macaroni
¼ cup shredded or grated ricotta cheese
1½ cup milk

Cook macaroni in salt water. Separate half of macaroni into 1 casserole bowl, topped with a layer of tuna, then another layer of macaroni, topped with a layer of tuna. Cover with cheese and put the milk on top. Bake in the oven at 375 degrees for 20 minutes until the cheese melts.

This is from our church recipe book:

A PRAYER FOR COOKS

The eyes of all wait upon thee, O Lord, and thou givest us our meat in due season Truly, as thou has created all things for the good of mankind, thou has given us food to eat. Bless the endeavors of my hands. May the food which is prepared be spiced with thy love for the physical strengthening of our bodies and the spirited blessing of our souls. I ask in Jesus' Name, My Lord and Saviour, Amen.

We live in Mertztown. We work with outdoor and indoor furniture, including oak wood. Also, we enjoy working with clothes trees, toy chests, cedar chests, rocking horses, child swings, child tables and chairs, baby cradles, doll cradles, cedar animals, bean bag games, pig cutting board, porch swing, serve carts, loveseats, coffee tables, foot rests, gliders and glider chairs, rocking chairs, quilt rack, Adirondac chairs, and loveseats, small benches, etc.

We like to work together in the Biehl Shop. We have two cats, Katie and Snowflakes.

We go fishing and deer hunting together. We work together in our garden with all our vegetables, and we love them all. We make homemade jelly. I freeze strawberries, pears, and peaches. I love to collect salt and pepper shakers and cookbooks, and I cut recipes out of Lancaster Farming. I sew my patch bedspread, and enjoy cooking, baking, and knitting. I make homemade bread and buns. I enjoy baking for the church.

This is our favorite recipe for tuna casserole. When we come in for dinner from the shop, this tastes good. I love to watch the cook on television — she gives me more ideas of new recipes to eat. We watch game shows and movies together and read the Lancaster Farming. It's going to be 23 years that we've been reading the paper. The years go fast.

I like to read the Family Living Extension Agent Beth Van Horn and Ida's Notebook by Ida Risser, and Farm Wife by Joyce Bupp, and I love All Gardens Great and Small by Tom Becker, and Taking Time by Rebecca Escott (I watch her on channel 39 on TV).

I just love your Home on the Range recipes when I read the paper every Saturday night.

OLD FASHIONED LEMON PUDDING CAKE

3 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
¼ cup unsifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
Rind and juice of 1 lemon

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. In small mixing bowl, beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Set aside. In medium bowl, combine sugar, flour, and salt. In small bowl, beat egg yolks; stir in milk. Grate rind of lemon and juice lemon. Add to egg yolks and milk. Add this to flour mixture and mix well. Fold in egg whites and pour into 1-quart baking dish. Place in larger pan, fill with 1 inch of hot water. Bake 50-55 minutes or until top is very brown. Cool about 30 minutes before serving. Spoon pudding over cake in serving dishes. If there is any left, refrigerate. Serves 6.

RHUBARB CREAM DELIGHT

Crust:
1 cup flour
¼ cup sugar
½ cup butter (melted)
Rhubarb layer:
3 cups fresh rhubarb cut in ½ inch pieces
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
Cream layer:
8 ounces cream cheese, softened
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
Topping:
8 ounces dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Crust: Mix flour, sugar, and butter. Pat into 9-inch or 10-inch pie pan. Set aside.

Rhubarb layer: Combine rhubarb, sugar, and flour. Toss lightly and pour into crust. Bake at 375 degrees for 15 minutes.

Cream layer: Beat together cream cheese and sugar until fluffy. Beat in eggs one at a time. Pour over hot rhubarb layer. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Topping: Combine ingredients and spread over hot layers.

Hi! My name is Jennifer Christman, but I go by the name of Jenny. I am in the 6th grade at Greencastle-Antrim Middle School. I just joined the 4-H Dairy Club for the first time this year and have a heifer named Heather that I am working with. I hope to show her at the county fair in August. I am 12 years old and also attend the Ebenezer United Brethren In Christ Church. This is family's favorite dessert recipe.

When it is rhubarb season, we can never seem to get enough of it. Try it, you'll like it, I'm sure.

I have three sisters and one brother-in-law. My sisters are Venita and Heidi. Venita goes to Shippensburg University, and Heidi is 9 years old and in the third grade. My sister Regina and her husband and are coming after spending nine months in Moldova, teaching English in the local school. Moldova was once part of Russia and is located between Romania and the Ukraine.

My family lives on a small dairy farm near Greencastle.

CREAM PUFF CAKE

1 cup water
½ cup butter
4 eggs

Bring water and butter to a rolling boil. Remove from heat and stir in 1 cup flour. Let cool. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Line bottom and sides of a 9x13-pan with dough. Spray bottom only of pan with vegetable spray. Bake at 350 degrees for 35-40 minutes. Let cool.

Cream filling:
3 boxes instant vanilla pudding
4 cups milk
8-ounces cream cheese
Whipped cream topping

Beat pudding and milk together until thickened. Add cream cheese. Pour into shell. Top with whipped cream topping. Chill overnight.

My mother-in-law gave me this recipe recently. It is very good.

My husband Wilbur and I and our four children live on a dairy farm close to Bernville. We farm about 100 acres of corn, hay, speltz, and soybeans. We have 45 cows. Our two oldest boys are a big help on the farm.

I enjoy reading the B section of Lancaster Farming each week.

ZUCCHINI CASSEROLE

4 cups zucchini, grated or one quart grated frozen zucchini, lightly thawed
1 onion, chopped
½ cup butter, melted
¾ teaspoon salt
3 eggs, beaten
1 cup biscuit mix
1 small can mushrooms, drained and cut up
⅓ cup parmesan cheese, grated
1 cup cheddar cheese, grated
⅓ cup milk
½ teaspoon oregano
1 teaspoon parsley
Dash of garlic powder
Dash of black pepper

Mix all ingredients together except ¼ cup cheddar cheese. Pour into large greased casserole dish. Sprinkle reserved cheese on top before baking. Bake at 350 degrees for 40-50 minutes or until lightly brown around edges, and set in center.

I have lived in Lebanon County all my life and esepcially appreciate the rich fertile limestone soil of Millbach Springs. My husband, Robert, grows many vegetables in our little garden. We usually have an abundace of zucchini. Sometimes we make zucchini chow-chow, which is delicious, and we also grate and freeze zucchini in quart freezer boxes. If allowed to completely thaw, it will be watery. But if used for casseroles when only slightly thawed, the results are wonderful. Try it.

RASPBERRY AND ICE CREAM SALAD

1 6-ounce box raspberry gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup vanilla ice cream
3 tablespoons organge juice
1 8-ounce can crushed pineapple
1 large banana, diced
½ cup pecans, chopped

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add ice cream and orange juice. Combine first four ingredients. Blend well. Chill until thickened. Add crushed pineapple, banana, and pecans. Chill at least three hours. Makes 6 servings.

My husband, Lucius and our son, Jody, and I live on a farm in McGaheysville, Va. We raise beef cattle. Besides being the leader of the Mountain View 4-H Club, I am active in our church. I enjoy creating recipes.

HAMBURGER CHEESE PIE

¾ pound ground beef
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup drained mushrooms
1 cup drained green beans
2 cups shredded cheddar cheese
¾ cup mayonnaise
¾ cup milk
4 teaspoons cornstarch
3 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 9-inch unbaked pie shell

Cook ground beef and onion in skillet until browned. Add mushrooms and green beans. Arrange meat mixture and cheese in pie shell. Beat together mayonnaise, milk, cornstarch, eggs, salt, and pepper in bowl until blended. Using rotary beater, bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes or until golden brown and puffy. Serve pie warm. Serves 6.

STICKY CINNAMON ROLLS

2 packages (¼ ounce each) active dry yeast
¾ cup sugar, divided
½ cup warm water (110 to 115 degrees)
2 cups warm milk (110 to 115 degrees)
¾ cup shortening
1½ teaspoons salt
2 eggs
7¾ -8¼ cups all-purpose flour
2 tablespoons butter, melted
Topping:
1 cup sugar
¼ cup packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons ground cinnamon
Icing (optional):
1 cup confectioners' sugar
2-3 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

In large mixing bowl, dissolve yeast and ¼ cup sugar in warm water. Aded warm milk, shortening, salt, eggs, remaining sugar, and 3 cups flour. Beat until smooth. Add enough remaining flour to form a soft dough. Turn onto a floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic, about 6-8 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning once to grease top. Cover and let rise, about one hour. Punch dough down and divide into thirds. Roll each portion into a 12-inch by 8-inch rectangle and spread with melted butter. Combine topping ingredients and sprinkle over butter. Roll up tightly, starting at long end. Slice into 1-inch rolls. Place in three greased, 11-inch by 7-inch by 2-inch baking pan. Let rise until nearly doubled, about 30 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-30 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from pans to wire racks and cool. If desired, make icing. Beat all ingredients until smooth and ice cooled rolls. Yields 3 dozen.

These rolls are delicious when served warm. They never stick around long with my two hungry, growing boys, Justin 7 and Matthew, 5½. Also, Heidi loves them, too. We milk 41 cows.

STRAWBERRIES IN THE SNOW

8 ounces of cream cheese, softened to room temperature
1½ cups confectioners' sugar
1 package (12 ounces) dairy whipped cream
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1 baked angel food cake
1 quart strawberries, sliced
2 packages strawberry glaze

Mix cream cheese and sugar until creamy. Add whipped topping and vanilla. Tear angel food cake into small pieces. Mix strawberries and glaze together in a bowl. Put a layer of cake first in a large bowl, then follow with a layer of cream cheese mixture, then strawberry glaze mix. Continue layers in this manner. Spread cream cheese mixture on top and refrigerate.

I'm a country gal who lives on a dairy farm with her parents and brothers and sisters. I'm kept busy with my jobs away from home, so I don't help out in the barn. When I am at home, I spend time in the kitchen preparing food or doing whatever else needs done in the house. I like looking at the recipes in the Lancaster Farming. We've sure gotten a lot of delicious recipes from the newspaper!

Every summer we have a large garden, so I'll be putting time in it when I'm home from work. Fresh vegetables always taste so good!

Have a safe and happy summer!

CHOCOLATE CHEESECAKE

Crust:
2 cups chocolate wafer crumbs
5 tablespoons melted butter
Filling:
3 packages (8 ounces each) cream cheese, at room temperature
1 cup granulated sugar
5 large eggs
2 ounces (2 squares) semisweet chocolate, melted
Frosting:
6 ounces (6 squares) semisweet chocolate, melted
½ cup sour cream

To prepare crust, in a medium bowl, mix together chocolate crumbs and melted butter until well blended. Press into a 9-inch springform pan.

Preheat oven to 300 degrees. To prepare filling, in a large bowl, beat together cream cheese, sugar, and eggs at medium speed until smooth and fluffy. Spoon half of cream cheese mixture into crust. Stir chocolate into remaining cream cheese mixture until well blended. Drizzle over batter in crust to make swirls. Bake cheesecake for 50 minutes. Transfer pan to a wire rack. Cool completely. Transfer cheesecake to a serving plate, cover with plastic wrap, and chill for two hours. Uncover cheesecake. Carefully remove the side of pan.

To prepare frosting, in a small bowl, mix together chocolate and sour cream. Spread over cheesecake. Chill briefly until frosting is set.

I enjoy reading Lancaster Farming, especially the recipe section.

My husband and I are semi-retired and enjoy auction sales, flea markets, garage sales, etc. We do own a farm, but have rented it to a neighbor.

Keep up the good work. I hope to be able to read all the good recipes sent in for the cow mania drawing.

CHEESE CAKE PIE

Crust:
¾ cup graham cracker crumbs
½ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup butter, melted

Mix together in a 9-inch pie pan. Take out 2-3 tablespoons mixture and keep for topping.

Press remainder of mixture into the 9-inch pie plate.

Filling:
1 package instant vanilla pudding
8-ounce package cream cheese, warmed
1¾ -2 cups milk

Put warmed cheese and pudding in a small mixing bowl along with ½ cup milk. Beat with electric mixer until well mixed. Gradually add remainder of milk while beating.

When thoroughly mixed, pour into pie pan. Top with reserved crumbs. Refrigerate a couple of hours before serving.

My husband Clifton and I moved on our farm almost 44 years ago. He has spent his life dairy farming. I was an elementary school teacher at the time of our marriage. After the birth of our son, I did some substitute teaching and then went back to full-time teaching until retirement.

Our son and his family do most of the farm work and milking the dairy herd of Holstein cows.

The recipe is a "stand by" for covered dish meals, family reunions, and other functions.

"Home On The Range" is a very nice part of Lancaster Farming.

THREE-CHEESE QUICHE

1 9-inch deep dish pie shell, unbaked
4 eggs
1 cup heavy cream
⅓ cup shredded cheddar cheese
⅓ cup shredded Swiss cheese
⅓ cup shredded Colby cheese
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
½ cup diced broccoli (optional)
½ cup slivered ham (optional)
½ cup slivered mushrooms (optional)

Beat eggs and heavy cream together. Add shredded cheese, salt, and pepper. Mix thoroughly. Stir in optional ingredients. Pour mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until set and golden brown.

My family has enjoyed this quiche. I find myself returning to this recipe quite often.

My husband Eric and I have a 17-month-old daughter, Janae. We farm with Eric's father and milk about 60 cows. We also raise about 17 acres of tobacco. I enjoy being outside and gardening. I have a large garden which keeps me busy, canning and freezing all summer.

I enjoy playing volleyball and baking for my husband. I also enjoy traveling.

I am the secretary for our milk co-cop (Milk Marketing, Inc.) young cooperators division, which gives us the opportunity to travel a few times a year.

FRUIT CAKE

2 eggs
1½ cups sugar
½ cup oil
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups fruit

Bake in greased 9-inch by 13-inch baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until it's done.

Frosting:
½ cup Carnation milk
¾ cup brown sugar
½ cup butter

Boil together five minutes. Add nuts if desired.

My name is Fannie Stoltzfus. My parents are Jonas and Sara Stoltzfus. I have two sisters, Emma, 12, and Martha, 14 months. I also have three brothers: Ephraim, 10; Andy, 8; and Mose, 5. We live on a 100-acre farm.

I really enjoy the B section in Lancaster Farming. Well, I should get to work because we have a busy day ahead. Bye-bye.

CORNSTARCH PUDDING

4 cups milk
4½ tablespoons cornstarch
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs
½ cup white sugar
½ cup brown sugar

Bring milk to boiling, and add sugars to keep from scorching. Mix eggs, cornstarch, and ½ cup milk. Add to boiling milk and boil until thickened. Remove from heat, add flavoring and ¼ teaspoon salt.

I use this recipe a lot. We milk 52 cows, so milk is always plentiful. A good way to use up some cake or cookies that didn't get nice or got too dry: cut them in bite-size pieces and layer them with this pudding and bananas (optional) and put whipped cream on top.

BUTTERFUDGE FINGERS

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
⅓ cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
¾ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Melt chocolate and butter over hot water. Beat in sugar and eggs. Sift dry ingredients together and stir in. Add nuts. Spread in greased 8-inch square pan. Bake 30-35 minutes or until top has dull crust.

Topping:

Brown ¼ cup butter over medium heat. Blend with two cups sifted confectioners' sugar. Blend in 2 tablespoons cream and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Spread on brownies.

Melt 1 square of unsweetened chocolate and 1 tablespoon butter. When cooled, spread very thin coating over topping.

Hi! My name is Becky Fisher. I'm 15 years old. My hobbies are baking, cooking, and sewing. This is our favorite brownie recipe, although we do make others. I look forward to June dairy month because we always find lots of good recipes! I hope you like this recipe!

BAKED TORTILLA TWIRLS

8 ounces cream cheese
2 ounces cheddar cheese
¼ cup scallions, chopped
1 teaspoon mild chile powder
¼ cup Monterey Jack cheese (spreaded)
¼ cup chopped red bell peppers
2 tablespoons fresh cilantro, chopped
6 flour tortillas

Mix together all ingredients except tortillas. Spread about 4 tablespoons of mixture on each tortilla and roll tightly. Wrap in plastic wrap and refrigerate for an hour or up to three days ahead. Heat oven to 400 degrees. Cut rolls into ½ -inch slices. Place on baking sheets. Brush with olive oil. Bake for 5 minutes, turn over. Bake 5 minutes more or until twirls are lightly brown.

You may add any or all of 1 fresh jalapeno pepper, chopped
¼ cup chopped fresh tomatoes, drained
¼ cup roasted pine nuts.

These were served on a local kitchen tour. They were terrific!

HAM AND NOODLE CASSEROLE

½ pound egg noodles, cooked
1 pound diced cooked ham
1 cup evaporated milk
1 cup grated cheese (cheddar, American, etc.)
Onion to taste, chopped

Mix cooked, drained noodles with chopped meat, milk, and cheese. Pour into greased casserole dish. Sprinkle a little bread crumbs and grated cheese on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until crust is golden and heated through.

My family loves casseroles. This is one of their favorites. We raise our own pork and I am always looking for new ways to serve it. My mother-in-law passed this recipe to me and boy, it is a hit at our house.

Amy Espenshade Writes About Struggles And Successes Of American Farmers

Disasters, development, adsence of a younger genration to replace the old, sky-rocketing land and equipment prices, hard-nosed environmentalists, livestock diseases — no wonder farmers have so much trouble doing their jobs today. As we see farmland acreage dwindling, fear rises for our country's future. Where will our food be grown without any land? We can't survive without food. Let us examine some of the challenges confronting farmers today and the methods by which they meet them.

More frequently today we see precious farmland being gobbled up by big-time developers. As a farmer from New Jersey once stated, "...if I sold this land and put the money in the bank, we'd make more just on interest. As the value of land grows, so does the pressure to sell." Banks and investors offer farmers "big-bucks" in return for their land and, sadly, too many farmers accept their proposals.

I live on a dairy farm and I can remember looking over the hill beyond our property line to a neighboring farm. Where rolling hills once laid there now stands two housing developments, while construction on another development across the street fills the air with the sounds of rumbling bulldozers. Sometimes I feel isolated on my small farm and wonder if other families like mine will decide to keep their farms. Our farm has stayed in my family for over 125 years and we intend to keep it at least that many more!

Farmers also face the soring costs of buildings, such as barns and silos, and necessary equipment like computer software and milking machinery. Jim Dickrell, a journalist for the Dairy Today magazine, published an article titled "Sticker Shock". In his article, Dickrell tallied up the cost of building a dairy farm to house 400 cows. The results were staggering. A 380 foot by 94 foot freestall barn, where the cows are free to walk around and feed as they wish, reaches a value of $339,527. Two bunker silos, each 144 feet long, to hold haylage and silage (finely chopped hay and corn respectively), to feed the animals, costs $75,782. Three thousand five hundred dollars ($3500) barely covers the price of computers and software used to manage the herd and keep track of expenses and profit. We haven't even gotten the milk out of the cow yet! The milking machines along with a milk cooling and storage tank comes to about $218,655! Of course, not everyone decides to build a 400 cow dairy every day, but a grand total of $1,631,029 can empty a farmer's pocket mighty quickly.

Once a farmer has a barn, silos, and machinery in order, there still remains a problem of waste disposal. Phosphorus, a natural element, happens to be found in livestock manure. You wouldn't think such a simple substance could cause so much controversy, but it has. You see, phosphorous flows along with eroded soil and finds its way into bodies of surface water such as lakes and streams where it becomes highly toxic to fish and other aquatic life. In recent years the Surface Water Improvement Act (SWIM) and the Coastal Zone Management Act have been harassing farmers to limit the amount of nitrogen, another byproduct in animal waste, they spread on fields as fertilizer. Now that farmers have modified their farms to meet these standards, SWIM and the Coastal Act move in with even tougher restrictions on phosphorous. To comply with these reguations, average sized dairy farms with approximately 70 cows, will need to spend between $73,000 and $123,000 to limit erosion and build larger capacity manure storage tanks. The average farmer just doesn't have that kind of money.

I haven't even mentioned natural disasters, the lack of interest in the younger generation, hard-nosed environmentalists and livestock diseases that farmers must face! But we are still hanging on. American farmers are learning how to manage their land and money to provide food for millions of people every day. I have tremendous pride knowing I'm part of the world's most indispensable industry providing the basic necessities of life. Agriculture forms the backbone of our entire earth, and that's something I want to continue to be part of throughout my existence. Every time I sit down to a meal, I thank the Lord for the food before me, but I also thank the farmer and remember the tremendous hard work and care they take to produce that food.

Obviously, we can't live without farmalnd. Extinction of farms would leave no place to grow food and leave millions of people without jobs. This concern has sparked many agriculturally related people to discover solutions to the industry's problems. American farmers learn how to manage their land and money to provide food for millions of people every day. The agriculture industry faces hard times, but with increasing technology and new programs, hope remains.

Huntingdon Abounds In Dairy Promotional Help

GAIL STROCK
Mifflin Co. Correspondent

An exciting evening in dairy promotion took place June 2 in Huntingdon County. The Huntingdon County Dairy Princess Committee, led by Brucette Metz, saw the fruits of their labor come to a successful conclusion with the crowning of Crystal Couch as Huntingdon County's new Dairy Princess for 1995.

Competing with three other girls, Crystal also shared the stage with five dairy maids, six dairy misses, and five li'l misses. The strength of the dairy princess program in Huntingdon County was evident not only by the number of girls coming "up through the ranks," but also by the number of sponsors and contributors showing their support.

More than 57 sponsors and contributors, and those attending the event, enabled the Huntingdon County Dairy Promotion Committee and the Dairy Princess Committee plan and implement a memorable evening for all involved.

Emcee James Palmer, agricultural education instructor at the Huntingdon Area High School, introduced the current princess, Monica Goshorn, and her court as the Belles and Beaus of Huntingdon Area High School sang a cappella.

After introducing the four contestants, each judge, and guests, Palmer announced each contestant's creative presentation.

Posing as Cowgirl Crystal with Chit Chat and Udder Things, Crystal took to the stage first. She is the 17-year-old daughter of Bill and Ann Couch of RR2, Huntingdon. A junior at the Huntingdon Area High School, Crystal is president of th Stone Valley 4-H Club. She is a member of the 4-H Dairy Club, the 4-H County Council, Big Valley Grange, PA Jr. Holstein Club, Huntingdon County Dairy Bowl Team, Spanish Club, and the Media. Crystal works on her family farm and at the Stone Valley Pizzarene.

Second on stage for her creative presentation was Apryle Hoover. A 16-year-old sophomore at the Tussey Mountain High School, Apryle told the story of Geraldine the Cow. Apryle is the daughter of Douglas and Susan Hoover of Saxton. She is a member of the Student Council, the SADD Chapter, and the Marching Band Color Guard. Apryle has been involved with the Dairy Princess program for two years.

The future of Dairy Promotion in Huntingdon County looks bright as more than 16 girls volunteer as dairy maids, dairy misses, and li'l misses.

Emily Metz took to the stage as the Real Seal. The daughter of Larry and Brucette Metz of Allensville, Emily is a sophomore at the Huntingdon Area High School. An honor student, Emily is a member of the varsity field hockey team, the HAHS Chamber Singers, and the Key Club. She is president of both the Big Valley 4-H Club and the Huntingdon County 4-H County Council. She is employed on her family's dairy farm in Big Valley.

Amanda Zook of Petersburg introduced Casey the Cow for her creative presentation. The daughter of Renee and Marvin Zook, Amanda is a junior at the Juniata Valley High School. She is secretary for the Blue Juniata FFA Club, president of the 4-H Countywide Dairy Club, and the 4-H Shavers Creek Community Club. Formerly serving as a dairy maid, Amanda works on her home farm.

The evening ended with Monica Goshorn's farewell speech and the crowning of Crystal Couch. Crystal will compete in the State Pageant in Harrisburg on September 23.

Jodi Colton's Dream Comes True

CAROLYN N. MOYER
Bradford Co. Correspondent

ATHENS (Bradford Co.) — "It's like a dream come true," said an excited Jodi Colton after being crowned the 1995 Bradford County Dairy Princess in ceremonies held Saturday, June 3, at the Athens Middle School.

Colton, the daughter of Debbie and Daniel Colton of Canton, clinched the title after a day-long dairy celebration, culminating with the 32nd annual pageant.

Selected as first alternate was Ellen Keeney, daughter of William and Bonnie Keeney, of Wyalusing.

Named second alternate was Robin Wilson, daughter of Gordon and Mabel Wilson of West Warren.

Pageant judges Stephanie Myers, New York State Dairy Princess coordinator and ADA/DC representative; Cathy Young, member of the Cortland County, N.Y. dairy promotion committee; and Jim Barnette, member relations manager for Atlantic Dairy Cooperative, commented that all three contestants are winners and will make an effective dairy promotion team.

Rounding out the dairy promotion crew are five dairy maids, Kimberly Davis, Stacey Mattocks, Holly Mattocks, Desi Pepper, and Christina Saxton.

During the pageant, each contestant was required to give a creative presentation.

Colton wowed the crowd as "Ellie May Clampton" who was headed back to her uncle Fred's dairy farm with her critters.

"Drink Milk, white gold, moo juice, the real thing .... You're all invited back next year to this locality to have a heaping helpin' of the dairy industry. The dairy farmers want me to ask for your help. Don't forget on grocery day to buy some cheese or milk," she sang.

Keeney's presentation focused on the big game between the junk foods and the dairy products.

"Those dairy products sure know how to play ball," she explained. "The (newspaper) article said that the junk foods came out slow and weak and didn't look like they had any energy at all, but the dairy products came out strong and looked as if they could have played all day and all night if they had to."

In her skit, Mike Milk, Chester Cheese, Sammy Sour Cream, Yogi Yogurt, and Ike Ice Cream went head to head with the members of the junk foods.

"Each and every one of the dairy products added their own ingredients to help make them part of a complete food group," she said.

In her "Chat with Bessie," Wilson informed the audience about the benefits of milk by spreading all the latest news. Her chat included the pregnant neighbor's need for four servings of dairy products daily, Little Tommy Tucker's need for three servings, and how an elderly Mrs. Cook can stand straight and tall because she has always enjoyed drinking milk.

After the skits, the mood of the pageant soon changed from fun to serious as each candidate was asked "the question."

Each contestant had only a few seconds to compose an answer to the question: "What skills and abilities do you have that would make you an effective dairy princess?"

"I like to entertain," said Colton. "I believe in milk and I believe in the dairy industry, and I'm not afraid to talk in front of people. Every day I like to try to expand what I already know and every day do something above my ability."

Jodi Colton was selected as the 1995 Bradford County Dairy Princess in ceremonies held June 3 at the Athens Middle School.

Keeney's answer included such qualities as being open and honest. She also said that she loved to meet new people and share her knowledge of the dairy industry with them.

Wilson commented that she has the ability to talk in front of people and that she knows how the dairy industry operates.

The 1994 Bradford County Dairy Princess Jani Burke along with first alternate Kirsten MacBride and second alternate Dani Pepper were on hand to crown the new dairy royalty.

In a tearful farewell address, Burke thanked everyone who had a part in making her year a success. She also sincerely hoped that she had lived up to the expectations of the farmers in the area.

"After I won last year, my life became a whirlwind. Besides my other activities in school, I found time to promote the dairy industry. Being a senior (at the same time) was hard, so I hope I pleased all you farmers in trying to get your product out there, she said."

As outgoing first alternate, MacBride also thanked everyone for their support. She hoped that she had made some contribution to the education about and the promotion of the dairy industry in her more than 150 appearances.

Bradford County Dairy Princess coordinator Arlene Wilbur summed up the evenings activities by saying thank you to all who made the pageant and festivities possible. Singled out in her remarks were Dennis Chaffee, who served as the master of ceremonies for the evening and her entire family, who helped with every aspect of the pageant.

Cream Of The Crop

CORN BREAD

½ cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup cornmeal
1½ cups flour
2 teaspoons soda
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cup buttermilk

Cream butter and sugar. Beat in eggs. Add cornmeal. Sift dry ingredients together. Alternately add dry ingredients and buttermilk. These can be put in muffin tins lined with papers or double the recipe for a 9-inch by 13-inch baking dish. Bake at 375 degrees (muffins for 20 minutes and large pan for 45 minutes or until it springs up when tested in the middle).

My husband, Ira, and I live on his dad's dairy farm in Elizabethtown. We have six children: Audrey, 14; Darla, 13 and Daryl, 13 (twins!); Melanie, 10; Jonathan, 7; and Ryan, 4. The four older children and I take our turns in the barn. We enjoy camping and fishing when we take a little break.

The children enjoy this recipe fresh from the oven when they come home from school. I remember eating this corn bread before we were married and I thought it was the best! Thanks for the recipe, Mother!

EASY CLAM CHOWDER

4 cups diced potatoes
1½ cups diced celery
2 10-ounce cans minced clams
½ cup melted butter
½ cup flour
2 cups milk
2 cups half and half
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon vinegar

In a large pot, combine potatoes and celery. Then drain the juice off the cans of clams and pour the juice over the mixture. Add enough water to cover the vegetables and simmer until tender.

While vegetables are cooking, mix the butter and flour in a small pan. Then add milk, half and half, salt, and sugar. Cook until thickened. Combine sauce with vegetables and liquid. Stir in clams and vinegar. Enjoy!

We are the Whipkey family. Doug and I were married on Valentine's Day. We have been married for four wonderful years. We have three children: Jason, 9; Douglas, 3½ ; and Megan, 2.

Sherry Whipkey
Breezewood

EGG CUSTARD

4 cups milk
4 eggs
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Beat eggs slightly. Add sugar, salt, and vanilla. Scald milk, then pour slowly over egg mixture. Stir until mixed. Pour into custard cups, filling ⅔ full. Sprinkle with cinnamon and set cups in pan with hot water (level with custard). Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Do not let water boil in pan.

This is a great recipe to use milk and eggs and is a favorite of our family. I always make a double batch because one does not last very long with four hungry boys ages 1, 3, 5, and 8.

2 packages active dry yeast
¾ cup sugar divided
½ cup warm water, 110-115 degrees
2 cups warm milk, 110-115 degrees
¾ cup shortening
1½ teaspoons salt
2 eggs
7¾ -8¼ cups all-purpose flour
2 tablespoons butter melted

Topping

1 cup sugar
¼ cup packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons ground cinnamon

Icing

1 cup confectioner's sugar
2-3 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

In large mixing bowl dissolve yeast and ¼ cup sugar in warm water. Add warm milk, shortening, salt, eggs and 3 cups flour, ½ cup sugar, beat until smooth.

Add enough remaining flour to form a soft dough. Turn onto a floured surface. Knead until smooth and elastic about 6-8 minutes. Place into a greased bowl, turning once to grease top. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled, about one hour. Punch dough down. Divide into thirds. Roll each portion into a 12x8-inch rectangle, spread with butter. Combine topping and sprinkle over butter. Roll up tightly starting at long end. Slice into one-inch rolls. Place into three greased baking pans 11x17x2-inches. Let rise until doubled about 30 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-30 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from pans to wire rack to cool. When cool, put icing on the rolls.

We all love these roll. They don't stick around long at our house. We are milking 40 cows.

BUTTERMILK CHOCOLATE CAKE

1½ cups sugar
½ cup lard
2 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup cocoa
2 cups flour
1½ teaspoon soda dissolved in a little hot water
1½ cups buttermilk or sour milk

We live on a dairy farm, and we have 39 cows. I have 6 brothers and 3 sisters. Their names are David, 16; John, 15; Eli, 13; Fannie, 12; me, 10; Daniel, 9; Mary, 6; Ruth, 4; Christ, Jr., 2; Elmer, 1.

ROLLS

½ cup sugar
1 package yeast
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups warm milk
1 beaten egg
3½ cups flour
3 tablespoons melted shortening
3½ cups flour

Put sugar, yeast, and salt in a bowl and add warm milk and beaten egg. Add 3½ cups flour. Beat until smooth. Add shortening. Knead in 3½ cups flour and let rise to double in bulk. Punch down once, make into rolls, and let rise to double in size. Bake at 375 degrees for 10-12 minutes or until nice and brown. Brush with butter to keep soft. Makes about two dozen rolls. You can make one dozen rolls and put the remainder in bread pan for a nice-sized loaf of bread.

SALMON LOAF

1 cup flaked canned salmon (save liquid)
1 cup stale bread crumbs soaked in
1 cup scalded milk
1 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks, beaten
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon onion juice
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Combine ingredients in order given, fold in egg whites last. Place in well-greased and crumbled loaf pan. Bake in 350 degree oven until firm — about 30 minutes. Serve with the following sauce:

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1½ cups scalded milk
½ liquid from salmon
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 egg yolk

Melt butter, add flour, then heated milk gradually. Add liquid from salmon and lemon juice just before removing from heat. Just before serving, beat sauce into egg yolk. Serve hot over the baked salmon loaf.

My husband, four children, and I live on the east side of Cayuga Lake in the beautiful Finger Lakes of central New York. Our county is the largest producer of corn in New York and dairy and crop farming are prominent here. We farm 1,000 acres, growing corn, soybeans, red kidney beans, hay, oats, and wheat.

This year, we are growing 100 acres of sweet corn and 50 acres of peas for a cannery. Our oldest son raises sweet corn, sunflowers, squash, gourds, and Indian corn for a roadside stand and pick-your-own pumpkins.

Another son raises beef cattle. Our daughter is a pharmacist and our youngest son is a critical care nurse.

CHEESE DIP

3 egg yolks
3 teaspoons sugar
3 teaspoons vinegar
3 teaspooons milk

Cook until thickened. Then cool.

Add 2 packages 8 ounces cream cheese and mix. Cheez Whiz can be added.

My name is Eunice Weaver. I have two sisters and 6 brothers. My parents are Ben and Ruth Ann Weaver. We don't live on a farm anymore but still raise strawberries, corn, etc. for a produce stand.

CHEESEY POTATOES

2 pounds frozen hash brown potatoes, thawed
¼ cup melted butter
1 can cream of mushroom soup
2 cups sour cream
2 cups grated cheddar cheese
¼ cup chopped onion

Mix together and place in 9x13-inch pan. Top with:

2 cups crushed corn flakes
½ cup melted butter

Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

My husband Ed, myself, and a son Adam live on a two-acre farmette where we raise all kinds of animals and have a large vegetable garden.

We are also the parents of three other children, Darren, husband of Lisa; Sharon, wife of James Williams, and Amy. We have three grandchildren, Douglas, Alisha, Andrew, and are expecting a fourth in November. The two oldest grandchildren love to visit the "farm" and enjoy the animals.

TUNA LASAGNA

½ pound lasagna noodles
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup onion, chopped
2 6½ -ounce cans water-packed tuna, drained
10½ -ounce can cream of chicken soup
½ cup skim milk
½ teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups cottage or ricotta cheese
8 ounces mozarella or Swiss, thinly sliced
Grated parmesan cheese

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Cook noodles as package directs. Melt butter in saucepan, saute onion. Add tuna, soup, milk, and seasonings. In buttered 7x11-inch baking dish, place alternate layers of noodles, tuna mixture, cottage cheese, and sliced cheese, ending with sliced cheese. Sprinkle Parmesan over top. Bake 30 to 45 minutes. Let cool 10 minutes before cutting to serve. Makes 6 servings. Approximately 275 calories per serving.

My husband Leonard is retiring from farming. Potatoes and grain have been our main crops. Dairying in the past and now feeding beef are part of the operation. Two of our seven sons are actively farming and are taking over the operation now. We also have four daughters — all married — and have 14 grandchildren. We enjoy traveling (we never took enough travel time while dairying so we're doing so now while we have the health to enjoy it.

Our family all enjoy Lancaster Farming, especially one daughter living in New York and working for New York City. She — like myself — tries many of the recipes. We would like to see more recipes that show us how to cook healthy but also cut calories and cholesterol.

Another dairy idea: Buy Aunt Wick's Root Beer. It's packaged like Kool Aid and usually found near it in supermarkets. Follow directions on packages except substitute milk for the water. A great drink! Good for those who may not tolerate chocolate.

CREAM CHEESE TUNA SPREAD

8-ounces cream cheese, softened
6 ounces tuna, drained
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup chopped celery (optional)
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
1 capful lemon juice
Old Bay seasoning (optional)

Thoroughly combine all ingredients. A sprinkle or two of Old Bay seasoning is good. Shape into a ball. Roll the cheese ball in chopped nuts or parsley. Refrigerate until chilled. This spread is great on crackers, especially Triscuits.

My husband Bob and I enjoy Lancaster Farming very much (although different features draw our attention). We have three children, Bobby, 17; Jennifer, 16; and Joey, 11. This is Joey's favorite snack.

We are born-again Christians and attend New Covenant Church of God. When I began taking this cream cheese tuna spread to the fellowships, it became such a favorite that now many of my friends have their own unique additions.

FUDGE TRUFFLE CHEESECAKE

1½ cups vanilla wafer crumbs (approximately 45 wafers)
½ cup confectioners' sugar
⅓ cup unsweetened cocoa
⅓ cup butter, melted

In medium bowl, combine above ingredients. Press firmly on bottom of a 9-inch or 10-inch springform pan.

3 8-ounce packages of softened cream cheese
1 14-ounce can sweetened condensed milk
2 cups (12 ounces) semisweet chocolate chips, melted
4 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla extract

Preheat oven to 300 degrees. Prepare chocolate crumb crust. In large mixer bowl, beat cream cheese until fluffy. Gradually beat in sweetened condensed milk until smooth. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well.

Pour into prepared pan. Bake one hour and 5 minutes (or 55 minutes if you use a 10-inch pan) or until center is set. Cool, chill, and garnish as desired. Refrigerate leftovers.

My name is Sadie Ruth Glick. I am 9 years old. I live on a farm. We milk 40 cows. We also have heifers and calves. I usually help with milking in the evening. I have two sisters and two brothers. We have eight mules, four cats, a dog named Lassie, a pony, a horse, and a duck. It is really fun to work on the farm.

HAWAIIAN ICE CREAM

Makes 4 quarts

Mix:

1 quart milk
3 heaping tablespoons cornstarch

Using a double boiler, boil until custard-consistency.

Mix:

3 eggs
1½ cups sugar
1 can condensed milk
1 tablespoon vanilla

Put into blender and blend. Add to custard mix and blend in blender.

Add:

2 cups whipping cream
2 cups light cream
1 package Knox unflavored gelatin
1 cup orange juice
1 can drained crushed pineapple
4 or 5 bananas, sliced
½ jar maraschino cherries, halved
Coconut

Mix and place ingredients into ice cream freezer and freeze according to manufacture's directions.

Irene and her husband Mark J. Harris live with their two boys Aaron, who turned 4 on May 17, and Jared, who will turn three on July 25. They live outside Middleburg, where Mark and Irene both grew up. Mark is self-employed driving truck and dispatching for Jones Motor Company and Irene is a housewife and office manager.

We recently purchased a 120-acre farm in R.D.#3 Middlebrug and are in the process of fixing it up. We plan to live there before the end of the year. Our plans are to raise dairy heifers and beef cattle.

Aaron and Jared are both little farmers and enjoy anything that has to do with farming. We recently purchased our first dairy heifer, Daisy, and the boys enjoy taking responsibility for her.

Lebanon Selects Schoffstall As Dairy Princess

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — The Lebanon County Dairy Princess Committee held its annual dairy princess pageant June 10 at the Lebanon County Area Vocational Techincal School.

A panel of three, non-resident judges selected the county dairy princess, an alternate, a dairy maid and two lil' dairy misses to carry out county promotion activities for the next year.

Selected as the 1995 Lebanon County dairy princess was Kristi Schoffstall, 18, daughter of Dennis and Karen Schoffstall, of Grantville.

Employeed at the 500-acre Barry Donmoyer dairy farm, which has a herd of 230 Holsteins, Schoffstall is a senior at Northern Lebanon High School with plans to attend Messiah College to study nursing.

In school, she is in involved with varsity field hockey, winter track, softball, chorus, musicals, Northern Lites, Varsity Club, and S.H.A.D.E.

She is also involved in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, her church youth group, NAC competitions, bible quizzing and volunteering at Lebanon Valley Brethren Home.

During the program, princesses are judged on several different qualifications, such as speaking ability, intelligence and knowledge of the dairy industry, appearance (stressing healthfulness and neatness), poise and personality.

They are also judged on their creativity and stage presence. Each contestant prepares and performs a short promotional sketch or skit that could be used to entertain and deliver convincing messages about the healthful attributes of dairy products.

In her presentation, Schoffstall portrayed a husband/farmer talking about his health and the need for him to drink milk and consume dairy products, as well as the need for his wife to do the same.

Stephanie Buck, 16, daughter of Harry and Annette Buck, Annville, was selected as the alternate dairy princess.

Buck, who was involved in dairy promotion activities last year, lives on her family farm where she owns three Holsteins. Her family 150-acre farm is named Buck-View and they have about 95 Holsteins.

A sophomore at Palmyra High School, she is involved in band and soccer, while she has served as secretary of the South Mountain 4-H Club, NoSoAnn Dairy Club, has participated in the county dairy bowl, and is a junior member of the Holstein Association.

She also attends Hershey Free Evangelical Church and is in involved in the Senior High Oasis. For her hobbies she said she enjoys playing piano, teaching piano, ceramics, cake decorating and playing volleyvall and soccer.

In her presentation, designed for young audiences, Buck used a cow hand puppet and dialogue to bring out the beneficial aspects of dairy products.

Andrea Bashore, 15, daughter of Ricki and Roberta Bashore, Lebganon, was selectd to serve as a county dairy maid.

A student at Northern Lebanon High School, and a FFA member, she is also involved in the Norlebco 4-H Dairy Club and is a junior member of the Holstein Association.

Two lil' miss dairy princesses were selected.

Faith Heagy, 5, daughter of Luke and Carol Heagy, of Lebanon, helps with some chores around her parents' 80-acre farm, where they milk about 60 Holsteins and Jerseys.

Elizabeth Smith, 7, daughter of Earl and Marilyn Smith, Lebanon, also helps her parents at their 146-acre Meadow View Farm. They milk about 80 Holsteins..

Stacy Krall, outgoing county dairy princess, crowned Schoffstall and congratualted her on being selected.

Prior to the selection of a princess, Krall addressed the audience, reviewing the past year, its challenges and opportunities. She thanked those who supported her and who gave her the opportunity to serve as dairy princess.

The judges for the contest were state Rep. Arthur Hershey, Chester County, Joanne Peifer, of Lancaster, a former coordinator for the Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program, and Sue Bashore, currently involved with the Hosltein Association, a former coordinator for the state dairy princess program, and outgoing executive secretary of the Pa. Dairyman's Association.

Rebecca Sonnen Bube, a program director for the Middle Atlantic Milk Marketing Association, served as the master of ceremonies and interviewed contestants. Bube is a former Lebanon County and state dairy princess.

Following the program, an ice cream social was held.

For more information on the program call Terry Shuey, booking chairperson, at (717) 933-8995.

Lancaster Fashion Revue

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Lancaster County 4-H Fashion Revue will be held on June 27 at the Farm and Home Center in Lancaster. Four-H members from all parts of the county will model their sewing handiwork in a fashion show beginning at 7 p.m.

Winners will be announced and ribbons awarded following the evening fashion show. The top winners in the junior and senior divisions will compete in Regional 4-H Fashion Revue on Thursday, June 29, at Colonial Park United Methodist Church in Harrisburg.

For more information contact Marilyn Holloway at the Lancaster County 4-H Office, phone (717) 394-6851.

Dauphin Fashion Revue

DAUPHIN (Dauphin Co.) — Approximately 50 children between the ages of 8 and 18 will be participating in a Clothing Fashion Revue on Saturday, June 24, at the Dauphin County Agriculture and Natural Resources Center, Dauphin. The children will be judged on garments they constructed in 4-H clothing projects in the past year. The projects include all skill levels and a range of garments as well as needlework and quilting.

The public is invited to a Fashion Show at 1 p.m., at which time 13 participants will be chosen to move on to a regional competition on Thursday, June 29.

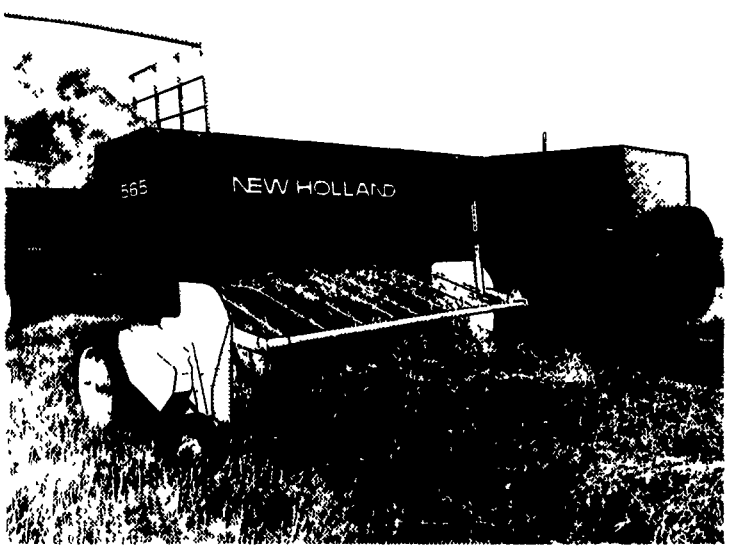
YOU'RE IN CONTROL

The Model 900 forage harvester puts you in control of your harvest:

- Rugged 21-inch, 12-knife cutterhead for a uniform chop.
- Exclusive flip-up feedrolls provide convenient access to the shearbar and smooth roll scraper.
- Electromagnetic clutches provide instant response in controlling feedroll and attachment drives.
- Optional Metalert® II metal detector protects cutterhead and your valuable animals.

Let us show you how the Model 900 puts you in control.

NEW HIGH CAPACITY



MORE OF THE THINGS YOU WANT

More capacity, improved reliability and better bale shape.

- Big Capacity. Wide, Super-Sweep™ pickups get the short fine hay ordinary pickups miss.
- Efficient Feeding Systems. A rotary system on the two larger balers adds capacity and improves bale shape. The "565" has a beefed-up Flow-Action® feeder.
- Increased Reliability. Heavy-duty materials in the bale case and plunger, and accurate knotters or twisters, complete the story.

Check out the New Holland "565," "570" and "575" square balers...from the hay-baling experts.

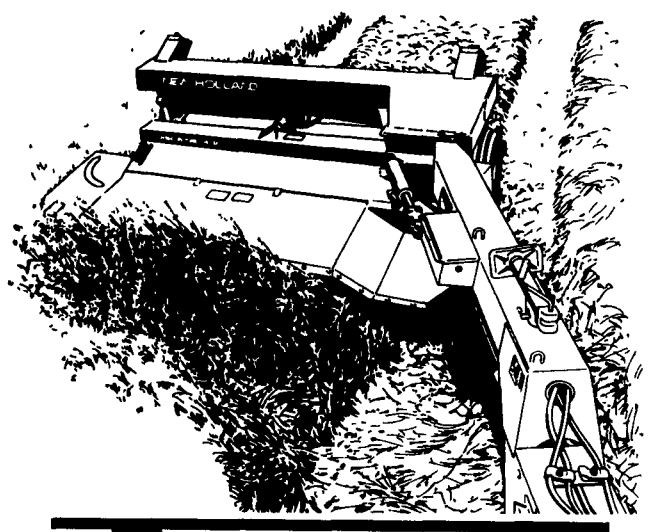
DISCBINE PERFORMANCE



ECONOMICAL FLAIL CONDITIONING

The Model 412 Discbine® disc mower-conditioner gives you a 9'9" cut and uses an economical flail conditioning system that scuffs plant stems for fast drying. And, the "412" has the responsive header flotation you've come to expect from a Discbine. See it for yourself.

BALE IT DRY OR WET

HAY OR SILAGE

You can make both with the Model 640 Silage Special. Here's how:

- The heavy-duty feeder has a position designed especially for silage baling.
- Steel-welded loops and a heavy-duty sharpened steel scraper on the sledge follower roll and tailgate nose roll eliminate crop residue buildup.
- Endless belts provide added durability in tough crops.

For dense, uniform 4' x 5' bales in dry or high-moisture crops, stop by and see the 640 Silage Special.

Southern Chess Pie
Golden Transparent Custard
Originally from England

Pastry for 9-inch pie crust
4 eggs
1½ cups sugar
½ cup butter
2 tablespoons cream
2 tablespoons cornmeal
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons vanilla
Dash salt

Combine eggs, sugar, and butter; beat 5 minutes on high speed on mixer. Blend in remaining ingredients. Pour into pastry-lined pie pan. Bake at 325 degrees for one hour, or until knife inserted 1-inch from edge comes out clean.

ANSWER — Jackie Hall wanted a recipe for a strawberry and banana dessert like that served at Shoney's Restaurant. Thanks to an anonymous reader for sending this recipe and to another one who wrote that an employee said they use a strawberry pie glaze.

Strawberry-Glazed Fruit Salad

1 quart fresh strawberries, halved
20-ounces pineapple chunks, drained
4 firm bananas, sliced
16-ounces strawberry glaze

In large bowl, gently toss strawberries, pineapple, and bananas; fold in the glaze. Chill for one hour. Yield: 6-8 servings. Strawberry glaze can often be found in produce section of grocery store.

ANSWER — Dee Crowder, Gettysburg, was looking for a salsa recipe. Thanks to Joy Diffenderfer, Elizabethtown, for answering.

Salsa

4 large fresh tomatoes or 29-ounce can whole tomatoes
2-3 small garlic cloves, minced
½ or more green bell pepper, chopped
½ or more onion, chopped
1-2 jalepeno peppers, chopped (remove seeds)
Salt and black pepper
1-2 teaspoons cilantro

Drain tomatoes and lightly squeeze to remove excess liquid. Chop into small pieces. Stir in other items and refrigerate a few hours if you have time.

Note: becomes hotter the longer it stands. One year, I canned salsa, but we prefer the taste of fresh salsa, which is fairly quick to make with a food processor.

ANSWER — Fannie Stoltzfus, Christiana, wanted a recipe to make rice cakes. Thanks to Sarah Clark, Breezewood, for answering.

Golden Rice Cakes

1½ cups uncooked regular rice
2¾ cup water
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter

Heat rice, water, and salt to boiling in 3-quart saucepan, stirring once or twice. Reduce heat. Cover and simmer 14 minutes. Do not lift cover to stir. Remove from heat. Fluff rice lightly with fork; cover and let steam 5-10 minutes. Stir in butter. Smooth top of rice; gently press. Cover and cook until rice is light golden brown on bottom, about 30 minutes. Set saucepan in bowl of ice water 10 minutes. Loosen edge with spatula. Unmold on serving plate. Cut into wedges. Serve warm or cold. Serves 6.

ANSWER — Here is a rhubarb recipe from Mary Lou Happ.

Rhubarb Dessert

1½ cups flour
¾ cup butter
⅓ cup confectioners' sugar

Combine ingredients and beat with mixer to form dough. Pat into 9x13-inch pan. Bake 10-15 minutes at 350 degrees.

Filling:

4 eggs
2¼ cups granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup flour

Beat until foamy. Fold in 4 cups rhubarb, sliced thin. Pour over baked crust. Finish baking at 350 degrees for 40-60 minutes.

ANSWER — Thanks to Rachel Stoltzfus, an eighth grader who lives on a dairy farm, for sending a barbecue sauce recipe that she writes is delicious.

Chicken Barbecue Sauce

1½ quarts vinegar
1 cup salt
3 cups vegetable oil
1 quart boiling water

ANSWER — A recipe for sweet and sour chicken was requested by a Lebanon County reader. Thanks to Anna Mary Wenger, 390 Sleepy Hollow Rd., Lititz, PA 17543, for writing that this recipe is in the Hammer Creek Cookbook, "From Mother's Cupboard," which is available from her for $10 plus $3 for postage and handling.

Sweet And Sour Chicken

1 pound boneless chicken, cubed
2 tablespoons oil
1 cup carrot strips
1 cup green pepper strips
1 garlic, minced
1¼ cups chicken bouillon
½ cup soy sauce
3 tablespoons vinegar
3 tablespoons brown sugar
½ teaspoon ginger
8-ounces chunk pineapple in juice
1½ cups Minute rice

Saute chicken in oil until lightly browned. Add vegetables and garlic. Stir-fry 2 to 3 minutes. Add bouillon, soy sauce, vinegar, sugar, ginger, and pineapples with juice. Bring to a full boil. Stir in rice. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 5 minutes. Stir before serving. Makes 4 servings.

ANSWER — Gina Hawbaker's brothers wanted to know how to fix chestnuts by roasting and other ways. Thanks to B.W. Pue, Rocky Ridge, Md., for sending five different methods.

Five Methods For Chestnuts

- Cut an X in flat side, microwave 12 on a plate for one minute. Peel when cool.
- In conventional oven, try roasting in a little water for 20 minutes at 375 degrees.
- Cut a gash in the flat sides of nut to keep them from bursting when heated; place on cookie sheet. Bake at 475 degrees for 15-20 minutes or until outside shell and inner brown skin pulls away. Cool slightly and peel.

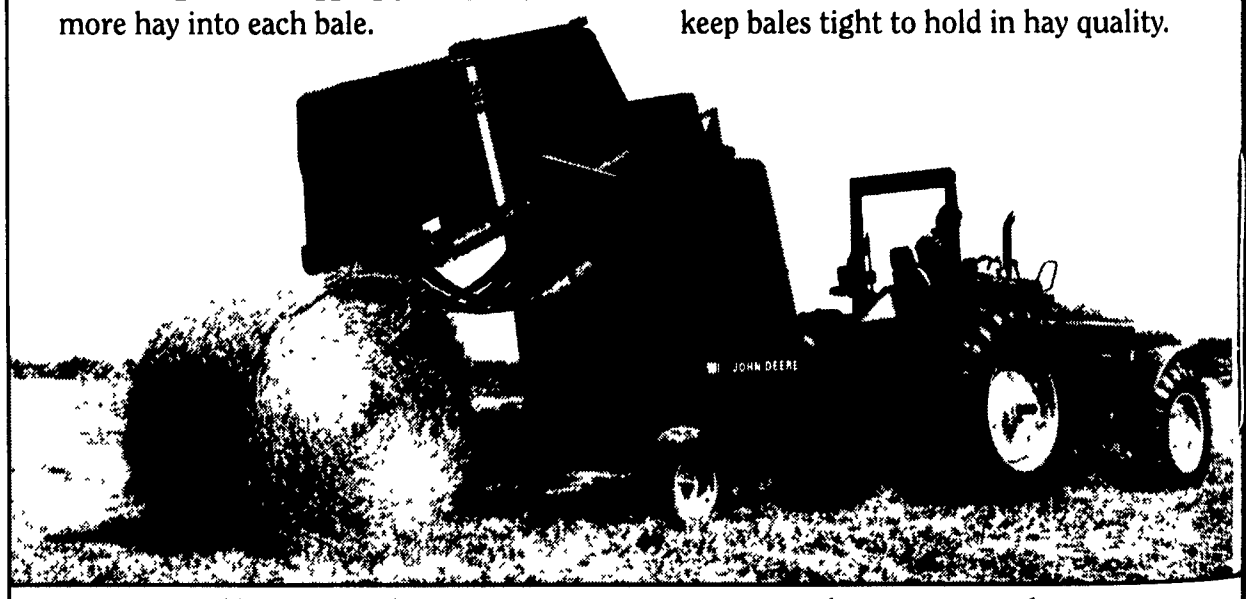
JOHN DEERE

QUALITY AND PRODUCTIVITY YOU'LL TAKE TO QUICKLY

John Deere 375 and 385 Round Balers, like all John Deere round balers, include a wide array of hay-saving features – starting with the ground-hugging pickup to put more hay into each bale.

Side flares and optional converging wheels help guide big or wayward windrows into the large feed opening. Then, dual hydraulic cylinders and exclusive diamond-tread belts keep bales tight to hold in hay quality.



Keep rolling with great savings on John Deere bearings

Quality John Deere bearings are a small price to pay for acres of trouble-free performance. It's a smart investment that will pay big dividends in the future. Farming with a different brand? Our JD Cross-Search® cross-referencing system can match the right John Deere bearings to many brands of equipment.

Don't let a one-inch bearing stand between you and success. Keep jobs moving smoothly by making durable JD8665 bearings part of your equipment. Depending on your brand of machine, these bearings work for a variety of functions.

Just $5.74 (JD8665)

John Deere 1⅛-inch bearings give your equipment OEM quality and maximum long-range performance at a price that's right for your budget.

America's top-producing, non-irrigated farm county. So, if you think of delicious, home-cooked food when Lancaster County comes to mind, you are not alone. See how food adds fun to a visit to Lancaster County!

A free brochure detailing the Pennsylvania Dutch Food Festival, June 22-24, is available. Simply phone 1-800-PA DUTCH, ext. 2425, or write to the Pennsylvania Dutch Convention & Visitors Bureau, Dept. 2425, 501 Greenfield Road, Lancaster, PA 17601.

You ask You answer

This column is for readers who have questions but don't know whom to ask for answers.

"You Ask—You Answer" is for non-cooking questions. When a reader sends in a question, it will be printed in the paper. Readers who know the answer are asked to respond by mailing the answer, which will then be printed in the paper.

Questions and Answers to this column should be addressed to You Ask—You Answer, Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. Attention: Lou Ann Good.

There's no need to send a SASE. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible.

QUESTION — Eva Eby, Manheim, would like to know how to get climatis vines to bloom.

QUESTION — Lois Burkholder, Washington Boro, wanted to know why her iris does not bloom.

QUESTION — George Ueltzen, Saylorsburg, wanted to know how to get rid of carpenter bees in his barn and out buildings, which are full of holes. Nothing but a tennis racket seems to stop them.

QUESTION — Lois Burkholder, Washington Boro, wanted to know why her rhubarb goes to seed as soon as it starts growing.

QUESTION — Margaret Diamond, Kunkletown, would appreciate information on hair embroidery, instructions on the craft, items owned with a history, or items for sale. Send it to 80 Evergreen Lake, Kunkletown, PA 18058-9329.

QUESTION — Joan Francisco, Stroudsburg, would like to know where to purchase oil of cassia, used in Italian cooking.

QUESTION — Norma Jean Yankey, Mt. Solon, Va., has a Burpee pressure canner Model #AR 1525. The screw in the control valve is weak and the pressure will not register properly. Does anyone know where she can find another control valve. The canner is approximately 40 years old.

QUESTION — Yvonne Lawrence, Newburgh, N.Y., would like to know where to purchase a rhubarb and soda mixture used for indigestion. She used to purchase it in a pharmacy but finds the New York pharmacies don't stock it anymore.

QUESTION — Mrs. William Pierce, Palmyra, would like to know where to purchase antique two-bottom dishes for crock-type chicken water fountains. Must be white with 10-inch top and 8-inch bottom.

QUESTION — Esther Miller, Coatesville, and Edgar Jackson, Ligonier, would like to know how to puff wheat, rice, corn, and other grains for making cereal. Esther writes that when she visited Europe, the Austrians especially served puffed cereals and one of her favorites was puffed peas served with soup.

QUESTION — Patricia Varchol, Reinholds, writes that she started plants from seed for her large garden. She used a commercial planting mix for starting the seed, grew the plants under lights for 15 hours a day, watered from the bottom and watered only enough to keep them from drying out. She had a great germination rate, but since then has lost almost all the seedlings to damping off. Every time she has tried to start seeds, the seedlings met the same fate.

She knows it's too late this season, but are there tips or tricks to try next year to keep this from happening?

QUESTION — Kay McGrath, 68 Hunter St., Tamaqua, Pa., writes that she found an antique in the attic of a deceased relative. She believes it is a spinning wheel loom. She has a picture of it if someone collects such objects.

QUESTION — Paul Early, R.R. 1, Box 632A, Annville, Pa. 17008 has a hopper to a wheelbarrow grass seeder that was made in the 1920s. He would like to hear from someone who has the wheelbarrow part or he would be willing to sell the hopper.

QUESTION — Ruth Dundore would like the book with the following poems: Brier Rose, The Old Man Goes To School, The Station Agent's Store, and The Last Hymn. It was published about 1900.

QUESTION — Maxine Tutton, Fort Royal, Va., would like the address for a mail order company that sells patterns for clo'hing that fits cement lawn geese that are so popular now.

QUESTION — Julia Rissler, Mohnton, would like Sue Barton books by Helen D. Boylston, especially Sue Barton, Superintendent of Nurses. Call (717) 484-0515, or write to Julia at 448 Orchard Rd., Mohnton, PA 19540.

QUESTION — George Rousis, Bally, hopes to move to the Midwest or Montana in a few years. He'd like to know how to find out weather temperature highs and lows, rainfall, and snowfall for the individual states during the past 10 years.

QUESTION — Jenny Palovitch of Lancaster County would like to purchase a wrought iron bench that wraps around a tree. It may be new or used.

QUESTION — Several years ago, Harold R. Stoudt of Hamburg purchased aluminum-clad electric fence wire by direct shipment from South Star Industries in Tenn. The dealer discontinued his business. Does anyone know of the company or one that sells similar high quality aluminum clad maleable steel wire? It did not recoil when unspooled and could be hand spliced.

QUESTION — A Lehighton reader would like to know the market price for goose and duck eggs.

QUESTION — Marian Mosemann, Summit Hill, would like to know where to purchase gift boxes for jellies and breads. Candy boxes are too small.

ANSWER — A Lebanon reader wanted to know where to purchase a Kistka, an instrument that resembles an old-time fountain pen that is used to apply the wax for egg decoration. Thanks to Deidre Welisewitz, Flemington, N.J., wirtes that a kistka and all pysanky (Easter egg decorating) needs may be found in a very complete 1995 spring catalogue called Pysanky Our Specialty, Hanusey Music and Gifts, 244 W. Girard Ave., Philadelphia, PA 19123 (215) 627-3093, FAX (609) 235-6884.

435	4'W x 6'H	1,500 lbs.
535	5'W x 6'H	2,000 lbs.

John Deere round balers are available in five sizes. See your dealer about one that's right for your farm.

Plus, the 375 and 385 Round Balers are fast. Delivering quality, half-ton bales quickly and easily. Simple, easy-to-use monitoring takes the guesswork out of making picture-perfect bales.

You can add more quickness to the 375 and 385 with optional double twine arms that wrap bales 45 percent faster, plus an optional bale ramp that drops bales gently... eliminating the need to back up.

Visit your John Deere dealer to see why the 375 and 385 Round Balers, and the other John Deere round balers, are the fastest moving balers around.

Nothing meets John Deere's rigid load and wear standards like the JD8545 bearing. It's a 1¼-inch bearing that fits most brands of equipment.
Just $9.61 (JD8545)

Get genuine John Deere quality with a 1½-inch bearing made for years of dependable wear. Accept no substitutes.
Only $16.89 (JD9202)

REAL ESTATE AT PUBLIC AUCTION

Fri. Eve., July 7, 1995
7:00 PM

Property located approximately 1½ miles from Mifflintown, Juniata County, along the Cedar Spring Road BUT WILL BE OFFERED FOR SALE, at Juniata Markets, Jct. of Rts. 75 and old 22, at the blinking lights, 1 mile north of Port Royal.

This two story frame home is conveniently located only minutes from Mifflintown at the corner of Industrial Park Road and the Cedar Spring Road. It offers a nice size .89 acre corner lot with on lot sewage and a drilled well.

It has a living room, family room, kitchen/dining room combination, den or bedroom, and full bath on the first floor. The second floor has four bedrooms, all with ample closet space, and a full bath.

This home has a one car attached garage with washer and dryer hook-up and a full concrete basement. Electric or gas heat, and central air conditioning keep this home comfortable year around.

A two story barn would make an excellent workshop or garage. It has lots of storage above with room for your garage and workshop below.

A screened-in porch, small storage building, paved driveway, and cable TV are just a few extras. If you are looking for a home with lots of room and a great location, be sure and check this one out on these show dates—Saturday, June 17 from 10:00 AM–2:00 PM and on Wednesday evening, June 21 from 5:00 PM–8:00 PM or for an appointment call (717) 436-2514.

PEQUEA

Feed your cows with Pequea's portable bunk feeders and round bale movers

Models 510S, 515E, 520, 520H, 525 & 530T Bunk Feeders

Here's a better way to feed your herd! With the Pequea portable bunk feeder, you'll save time – save money. Load it up with silage, haylage, round or square bales or any mixture of grain and forage. Tow it into the field, and feed up to 52 head of cattle at once.

With Pequea's eificient slant-bar system cows can't push each other away from feeding spaces, so you have less feed loss from spills. Convenient low tank height accomodates any size cow.

You can save wear and tear on your pasture and they eliminate heavily trampled spots. Just move it to a new location each day.

The New 520H cattle head gate bunk feeder (below) is the modern answer for holding cattle during breeding, veterinarian, or testing purposes.

Model 520H Specifications

- 22 Head Gates
- Self Locking
- 20 Feet Long, 7 Feet 3 Inches Wide

CONGRATULATIONS TO BRUBAKER FARMS FOR OVER 30 YEARS OF COMMITMENT TO AGRICULTURE AND THE DAIRY INDUSTRY.

CoreStates Hamilton Bank believes "THE FAMILY FARM IS THE BACKBONE OF AGRICULTURE." On behalf of all dairy farmers, we are pleased to salute the success of BRUBAKER FARMS at 493 Musser Road, Mount Joy, in Lancaster County. The Brubaker family have been dairying for over 30 years and currently includes Luke, Barb and sons Mike and Tony. The current milking herd of 400 Holsteins has a herd average of over 20,000 lbs. of milk. In 1994 The Brubakers built a new dairy complex (as pictured above) and went from 200 cows to 400. They began milking in their new buildings in September 1994. The Brubaker Family has been a part of the Mount Joy community for over 50 years and are very active in various civic, community and church organizations.

A SALUTE TO DAIRY FARMERS. EVERY MONTH IS DAIRY MONTH WITH US.

June is National Dairy Month and at CoreStates Hamilton Bank, we feel you deserve credit more than one month out of the year. Managing a successful dairy operation requires working capital all year round. We're here to help you meet your financial needs.

Dairy is the major agricultural enterprise in Pennsylvania and accounts for 27.3% of the total agricultural production value. The total annual volume of dairy production for our seven-county area is $479 million. This represents 33.6% of the yearly production for Pennsylvania. That's a record you can be proud of.

Talk to your friends at CoreStates Hamilton Bank, where every month is dairy month.

USMEF Reacts Cautiously To Hormone Ban Proposal

DENVER, Colo. — U.S. Meat Export Federation (USMEF) officials were cautiously optimistic about a proposal from the European Union (EU) to convene a broad-based conference for the purpose of reevaluating the EU ban on beef produced with growth promotants, or hormones.

EU Ag Commissioner Franz Fischler made the announcement at the Tenth World Meat Congress in Denver as the next step in resolving the long-standing trade dispute with the U.S.

"It was significant for the Commissioner to acknowledge publicly that the hormone ban has become a food safety problem in Europe," said USMEF president and CEO Philip M. Seng. "Convening a conference to being a comprehensive, science-based perspective to this issue could be a positive step in resolving the ban."

Seng stressed that the outcome must be based on sound science and not consumer attitudes. "The scientific data leaves no question that government-tested and approved growth promotants, properly regulated, represent no health risk whatsoever to livestock or the public," said Seng.

The use of FDA approved growth promotants improves the tenderness of U.S. beef and increases production efficiency by as much as 20 percent, which reduces the cost to consumers. Since the EU hormone ban went into effect in 1990, U.S. beef exports to EU nations have been effectively blocked.

USMEF estimates today's potential in the EU market for high-quality U.S. beef at $300-500 million.

Fischler said the conference will be held this autumn, and that it would be a balanced assessment of what will be in the long-term interest of the meat industry. Leading scientists will address the issue during the conference, which will also be attended by consumer, producer, and industry representatives. Members of the European Parliament will also be invited.

"There is no dispute about the overall policy objective, and that is to protect health and welfare," Fischler said. "After the conference, I will make up my mind as to whether there is a need, and to what extent there are possibilities for adusting the EU hormone ban."

Seng also expressed concern for the timing of the conference. "I would like to see the conference take place much sooner. We've waited long enough for a resolution to this trade barrier," said Seng. "We also need to get a date-certain by which the issue will be resolved."

Fischler's announcement followed remarks by USDA Secretary Dan Glickman. "The prosperity of the country depends on free and open trade," said Glickman. "The United States will not accept the use of unsound science to restrict trade." Glickman added that the U.S. would not allow food safety issues, supported only by false science, to become the next generation of trade barriers.

MONTHLY MAINTENANCE TIP

USE OF A RIM WIDER THAN RECOMMENDED

Use of a wider rim results in flattening of the tread face. This feature may improve traction in some looser soil conditions. In hard soils, however, the flatter tread penetrates less effectively and tractive effort is reduced. Additional stresses concentrated in the shoulder area tend to increase the rate of shoulder treadwear. By spacing the tire beads farther apart the sidewalls are forced to flex in an area lower than normal and this can result in circumferential carcass breaks and/or separation.

Artist Uses Talent To Raise Money For School Benefit

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

LITITZ (Lancaster Co.) — The calm beauty of "Evening Reflections" from New England will set a rosy glow in Lititz next weekend.

The setting is the Lititz Area Mennonite Auction, where the watercolor original by Rosanne Burkholder will be auctioned at 1 p.m. on June 24.

The watercolor is one of hundreds of items that will be sold to raise money for the school.

"I donated the painting because I'm really impressed by what I see happening at the school," Rosanne said. This is the first year, that Rosanne and her husband Larry have a child attending the school.

The Burkholders' daughter Sara is in kindergarten.

"She is really at an impressionable age and is absorbing values. The teachers are excellent and the values taught are worthwhile," Rosanne said of her decision to invest some of her own talent to raise money for the school.

It's one of the reasons that many other parents, relatives, and friends say have influenced them to donate time, talent, and items to the school's 18th annual auction that begins on Friday, June 23 through June 24.

Food and fun begin with a chicken barbecue from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Friday. The auction begins at 6 p.m. on Friday with crafts, flowers, and certificates to be sold. At 8 p.m., a Winross truck and collectible toy auction will begin.

Friday evenings is the time to preview the artwork and other items to be sold the following day.

Saturday events begin at 6:30-9:30 a.m. with country style buffet breakfast. A large variety of Lancaster County foods will be available throughout the day.

The auction begins at 9 a.m. with plants to be auctioned at 10 a.m. and certificates at 10:30 a.m.

The name Ben Brubaker is well-known for doll houses. This year for the first time, Brubaker has crafted a Adirondack log cabin.

Other crafts include spool dolls and Longaberger look-alike baskets. The quilt auction includes designs such as Wedding Ring, Log Cabin Heart, Grandmother Fan Log Cabin, Rose of Sharon, Lancaster County Rose, Stars Over Georgetown, and many more.

In addition to Rosann's watercolor, 21 other art pieces will be auctioned on Saturday.

As a member of the school's art committee, Rosanne helped gather work from artists Todd Ream, Mary Trees, Rosene Hollinger, and Marilyn Dwyer. Limited edition prints available are from Ralph Lindsey, Jeff Martin, Diane Stewart, Lena Liu, Patricia Hofer Ruder, and Lee Robinson.

Throughout Friday evening and all day Saturday, children's activities and entertainment will continue. Sand art, face painting, train and pony rides, a ping pong goldfish toss, a bouncing castle, a dunking tank, Sparky the Clown, and a balloon sculptor are on the agenda.

The school is located at 1050 East Newport Road, Lititz. Take 501 North through Lititz to Newport Road, turn right, to approximately 2 miles to the school on the right.

For more information, call the school office at (717) 626-9551.

Artist Rosanne Burkholder, holds her watercolor "Evening Reflections," which, along with hundreds of other items, will be auctioned during the Lititz Area Mennonite School's Benefit Auction held June 23-24.

Penn State Releases Bat Video

WILLIAMSPORT (Lycoming Co.) — Bats are probably one of nature's most misunderstood animals. Because of legend and rumor, they are often thought of as a threat to mankind.

The fact is, though, they are of great benefit to us. On an average night, a bat can eat upward of 2,000 flying pests, most of which will be mosquitoes. Encouraging bats in your area is of great benefit if you spend much time outside after dusk.

But bats nesting and living inside your attic or other room can be a nuisance and sanitation problem. A new video from Penn State addresses dealing with eliminating bats from your house while encouraging them in your neighborhood.

It also shows how to construct bat houses for them to live in. The video is for loan, free of charge, by contacting the Penn State Cooperative Extension office in the Lycoming County Courthouse at (717) 327-2350.

Equestrian Team Spurs Spirit At Nationals

NEWARK, Del. — Jen Midiri, captain of the University of Delaware equestrian team and a junior in the College of Agricultural Sciences, had made it to the big time.

Earlier this month, inside a Colorado stadium, hundreds of people waited to watch the animal science major compete against some of the best riders in the country. It was enough to give anyone butterflies, even someone like Midiri who has been riding horses for 16 of her 21 years.

But just before she mounted her horse, Midiri looked down at the silly smiley face scrawled on her hand and couldn't help but smile back. All the UD team members had similar purple faces inked on their hands, and suddenly, Midiri didn't feel quite so alone in that cavernous arena.

All the lucky smiley faces — and lucky socks and pennies, too — had paid off for the University of Delaware's equestrian team. The 65-member squad had won an invitation to the National Intercollegiate Equestrian Championships, held in Fort Collins, Colo. The nationals brought together the very best of collegiate teams, and by the end of the weekend-long event, UD had earned a very respectable 10th overall out of 19 teams participating.

Not a bad showing for a team who had been in the basement in their regional standings just three years earlier.

On a recent wind-whipped afternoon, Midiri and club president Linda Pill, also a student in the College of Agricultural Sciences, laughed at the recollection of a fellow member running around in Colorado with her purple pen, checking to make sure everyone had a smiley face. But while they enjoy joking about the team's assorted amulets and charms, it's readily apparent that luck has had little to do with this team's success.

Riding is a sport that engages both body and brain. It calls upon an individual's coordination, strength, logic and judgment. At collegiate equestrian competitions, participants are given mounts at random. Within minutes, the rider has to become acclimated to a new horse and must think quickly and act decisively.

But riding also is about heart: attitude, effort, persistence. And when it comes to heart, the University of Delaware equestrian team beats the competition hands-down.

"Even the judges in Colorado noticed our team's spirit," said Pill.

"We were the loudest, most obnoxious bunch there, by far," said Midiri with a chuckle.

This close-knit group was enthusiastic despite knowing that they were going into nationals as the underdogs. After all, UD was competing against some very well-trained and well-equipped teams from schools with long histories of equestrian excellence. In contrast, the 15-year-old UD team never had a coach until this year, and must travel to a distance to the trainer for weekly practices. But the work pays off for all. There are no bench-warmers on this team.

"Other collegiate teams have cuts or have a first-string and a second-string line-up, but we believe it's important that every member gets an opportunity to ride," said Pill. "Commitment to the team, as well as ability, is what matters."

This sorority of riders — all the members are female this year — share an intense camaraderie and kinship. In fact, when it came time for six of Delaware's riders to represent the team at nationals, 18 fellow members paid more than $400 each to fly to Colorado to cheer them on.

The Equestrian team already has its sights set on the 1996 nationals to be held at the former Olympics site in Los Angeles. However, Midiri doesn't want to see club members get too fixated on that goal.

"We don't want to lose sight of why we are doing this," said Midiri. "We are here to learn, to have fun, to make memories."

J-Star Honors Lapp's

CLEVELAND, Ohio — John Martin, Don Gentzler, and Jacob Lapp of Lapp's Barn Equipment, Inc., Gap, Pa. accetped their Gold M.V.P., B.U.C.S. Top Sales Leader, and their Five Million Dollar Winners' Circle awards from Murray Thorndycraft, vice president-sales and marketing of J-Star Industries, at a dealer meeting here recently.

The elite MVP Award (Major Volume Performer) recognizes the company's top dealers who have achieved bronze, silver, or gold levels of sales and performance objectives during 1994.

The prestigious Winners' Circle includes dealers from the United States and Canada who have exceeded cumulative purchase increments of $1 million. The Top Sales Leaders Award recognizes the top sales leaders for J-Star's main product lines.

The presentation took place at J-Star's regional dealer meeting held in Cleveland, Ohio at the Clarion Hotel. The meeting gave dealers an opportunity to hear about new products, innovations and programs which J-Star Industries will be featuring for the balance of 1995.

Deere Publishing Offers Farm Management Texts

John Deere Publishing has added two new textbooks to its award-winning Farm Business Management series. Like other texts in the series, these books are highly illustrated, which helps break down complex ideas into simple, easy-to-understand concepts.

"Managing Livestock Production" and "Marketing Ag Commodities" are designed to introduce readers to new technologies, services, and agricultural practices that can make farm managers more productive and profitable. The company intends to market these comprehensive textbooks to farmers, secondary and trade schools and libraries and bookstores.

"Managing Livestock Production" offers a historical perspective of the beef and dairy cattle, sheep, and hog industries, as well as informative advice on investment strategies, marketing, cost reduction techniques, and performance measures.

"Marketing Ag Commodities" teaches readers how to take advantage of new and emerging markets in the United States and around the world.

The John Deere Publishing lineup now features 32 textbooks. Most are available with slide sets, transparencies, videotapes, and, in some cases, computer software.

South Mountain Swine Genetics Adds Salesman

ELVERSON (Chester Co.) — South Mountain Swine Genetics has announced the addition of Brian Beam to the sales staff.

Beam has a bachelor's in animal science with business option from Penn State University. His education had an emphasis on swine production with courses in genetics, live animal evaluation, nutrition, and slaughter evaluation. His senior thesis was done on the subject of the stress gene in swine.

Beam was a member of the Penn State Livestock Judging Team. In 1993, at the Keystone International Livestock Exposition Beam was chosen as the high individual in swine judging.

Beam has a wide range of experience. He has been employed by his brother on the family farm in Chester County, doing crop work on some 1,750 acres as well as tending their 600-head hog finishing facility. Beam has worked at Hatfield Packers a hog pen technician and a kill floor technician. Since 1994, Beam has served as an assistant coach for the Chester County 4-H Livestock Judging Team.

Tobacco Blue Mold Is Here

John O. Yocum
Penn State
Research Station
Landisville

Blue mold was found recently in a plant bed by Bob Anderson, Lancaster County agent. The bed was not treated with Ridomil.

All growers should use Ridomil on areas that have not been transplanted. Don't apply Ridomil in the transplanter water and apply the full rate. You can either apply two quarts before transplanting or one quart before transplanting and one quart at the last cultivation.

If a plant bed has blue mold, it should be destroyed since the spores are spread by air and will infect any untreated tobacco. If Ridomil was applied to the seedbed at seeding, an additional application of ½ rate Ridomil (1.25 teaspoon) plus 5 level tablespoons of ferbam should be applied after 70 days from the first application.

Deere Honored For Design, Engineering, Marketing

MOLINE, Ill. — Capping 1994 as a highly successful manufacturing and marketing year, Deere & Company was recognized in three industrial competitions for its quality product design, innovative engineering, and effective sales organization.

The company's new 800 Series tractor line earned the 1995 Industrie Forum (IF) Award for good industrial design in a major international competition held in Hanover, Germany. John Deere products captured a record 11 of "The Agricultural 50" outstanding innovations in product and systems technology for 1994. And the H.R. Chally Group, an Ohio-based sales research and executive consulting company, recognized Deere & Company's agricultural equipment marketing group for its "world-class sales excellence."

In Germany, an international jury selected the John Deere 8000 Series tractor line as one of the three best-designed prooducts in the transportation category at the competition sponsored by Industrie Forum Design Hannover. This is Deere's first recognition by the world-famous industrial design center.

John Deere engineers captured 11 of the "AE 50" awards for innovation in the 1994 sponsored by Resource magazine, a publication of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

John Deere's 70 Series four-wheel-drive tractors and the 7200 and 7400 row-crop tractors were among the products earning recognition, as were the company's new 820, 920, and 930 Mocos (mower-conditioners). The 730 Air-Disk Drill and hydraulic hitch for the 750 No-Till Drill joined the company's 90 Series corn head and knife stalk rolls on the list of award-winning products as well.

Among the systems and components singled out for recognition were the John Deere electro-hydraulic depth-control system for secondary tillage tools and a two-stage, hydraulic power-brake valve, jointly developed with Vickers, Inc.

Deere's 3215 and 3235 Fairway Turf Mowers and the Piranha 44-inch Rear-Discharge Mower were also recognized by the panel.

Deere & Company's Agricultural Equipment Division marketing organization was one of 10 companies to receive a World-Class Sales Excellence Award from the H.R. Chally Group, Dayton, Ohio, The companies were recognized following a major year-long study to identify world-class sales excellence benchmarks.

Keeping Swine Cool

Hot weather reduces swine performance more than cold weather, resulting in significant economic loss to the pork producer. While producers have little control over current depressed hog prices or certain disease outbreaks, steps can be taken to keep hogs, cool, comfortable, and efficient.

Hot weather usually does not result in death losses, but it can cause conception problems and subtle reductions in feed intake that result in significant drops in production. Reduced sow feed intake also can affect baby pig performance. Larger pigs (animal in gestation, farrowing, breeding, and finishing phases of production) begin to feel effects of heat stress about 70°F. If temperatures remain above 85°F for more than a short period of time, substantial losses in performance and in reproductive efficiency can result unless some type of cooling relief is provided.

Pigs dissipate little moisture through their skin — certainly not enough to rid themselves of excess body heat. Therefore, to relieve heat stress, they must depend upon heat dissipation to their environment in one or more of the following ways: convection, conduction, radiation, or evaporation. Evaporative cooling from the body surface also is possible if some type of artificial surface wetting is provided along with adequate air movement over the animals. Consult an agricultural engineer for more information.

Prevent Horse Hyperthermia

During hot summer weather, horse owners need to provide special care for their animals. Free roaming horses are able to seek out favorable conditions that provide for their comfort during temperature extremes. Domestic horses, however, may not have the same freedom to find refuge during such times due to confinement in a horse stall. Heat and humidity does affect the horse and, in severe conditions, can result in death. For this reason, it is necessary that the horse owner provides extra care during hot weather to reduce stress and maintain the health and well-being of the horse.

Under normal conditions, the horse is able to cool itself by sweating. As sweat evaporates from the surface of the skin, heat is lost and the body cools. This cooling mechanism is not very efficient during periods of high humidity, however, because less moisture evaporates. High humidity, hot weather, poor stable ventilation, prolonged exposure to direct sunlight, overwork, transport, and obesity can all contribute to overheating a horse. This condition is often termed hyperthermia, heat exhaustion, heat cramps, heat stroke, or sunstroke.

Following are suggestions to help horse owners prevent hyperthermia:

- Strenuous riding activity should be limited to late evenings or early mornings when the temperature is cooler.
- Stabled horses should have adequate ventilation.
- Blankets or sheets should be removed from stabled horses during extreme heat.
- Fan(s) should be used in the barn or stall.
- Adequate shade should be provided for all outside horses.
- Horses with long hair should be clipped.
- The aisle of the barn can be sprinkled with water to aid in cooling in areas of low humidity.
- Horses should be transported at cool times of the day and be provided with adequate ventilation.
- Plenty of clean, fresh water should be provided. The amount of water consumed is influenced by many factors such as environmental temperature, humidity, diet and activity. At 0°F., the horse will drink about 1 pint of water per pound of dry feed. At 100°F., a horse will drink about 1 gallon of water per pound of dry feed consumed.

Immediately call your veterinarian in the event that your horse becomes overheated. It may be necessary for the horse to receive an intravenous injection of fluids.

Tips For Semen Handling

Artificial insemination (AI) has been and will continue to be the single most important tool for the genetic improvement of the cattle industry. With this in mind, the proper handling of frozen semen cannot be over-emphasized in a successful breeding program. Of course, semen handling is just one link in a chain of events that has to be conducted in a professional manner, starting with herd health, proper nutrition, good quality semen, accurate heat detection, and a competent AI technician.

Tim Schofield, president of North American Breeders, Inc. in Berryville, Va. offers the following tips that can help make AI easier and conception more successful.

- Keep an up-to-date inventory of the semen in your tank, especially which canister each bull's semen is in. This alone will decrease significantly the number of times the semen is exposed just trying to find the semen desired.
- Do not hold canes or canisters in the neck of the tank for more than five to eight seconds when transferring or moving semen from your tank. Handling techniques are more critical with French straws because of the surface-to-air exposure.
- Transfer the semen from the canes to the water bath as quickly as possible.
- Do not expose semen to direct sunlight or wind.
- Pen cows up in the breeding area before semen is thawed.
- Dry the unit thoroughly.
- Use a thermometer to prepare the water bath. (Both amps and straws require a 90-95 degree water bath. Amps require a 60-second thaw; and straws, 10 seconds.)
- In cold or wet weather, warm the insemination gun with a towel before loading.
- When using straws, cut the sealed end of the straw off squarely to prevent semen from leaking between the straw and the pipette or sheath.
- Protect the insemination gun from outside temperatures when walking to the breeding chute (place it under your jacket).
- Read the identification on the unit of the semen to assure you are breeding to the bull of your choice.

To ensure trouble-free service from your semen tank, avoid storing it on concrete and do not handle it roughly. Cracking the tank will result in a loss of vacuum and the chilling temperature of -320°F. required for proper semen storage.

Time To Think Ram Selection

The majority of the genetic improvement in a sheep flock results from proper ram selection. Selection of the ram starts with establishing a set of goals and outlining the performance criteria necessary to meet those goals. Purchases should be made from breeders or ram testing stations that provide appropriate performance data.

Records are essential, including immunization status, herd health management and medical history. Fertility evaluation (testicular size and spermatozoa quality) should be part of the selection criteria. Spermatozoa output is directly related to testicular size and weight, which in turn is correlated with body condition.

In ram lambs testicular growth correlates with body growth and levels off at maturity. The minimum scrotal circumference for a yearling (12-18 mo.) ram should be 33-34 cm. and 30-31 cm. for a ram lamb (6-9 mo.). The semen should have a minimum of 30 percent progressively motile spermatozoa, 75 percent morphologically normal spermatozoa, and no white blood cells.

A complete breeding soundness evaluation includes a thorough physical and conformational examination plus a negative ELISA test for B. ovis within 30 days of purchase. Purchased animals, regardless of the source, should be isolated for an observation period of 30 days prior to introdution into the flock. Contact your veterinarian for clarification of testing procedures described in this article and scheduling of a breeding soundness exam.

FARMER Sets Banquet

SOMERSET (Somerset Co.) — Senator Roger Madigan (R - 23rd Dist.), chairman of the state Senate Agriculture and Rural Affairs Committee, will be the guest speaker at a fundraising banquet for FARMER to be held here on July 15 at the Ramada Inn, beginning at 7 p.m.

FARMER (Farmers Allied for Responsive More Effective Representation) is the bipartisan political action committee of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau (PFB). FARMER is dedicated to helping elect and keep "friends of agriculture" in the Pennsylvania General Assembly.

The event will include an all-you-can-eat dinner buffet. "The meeting room will only accommodate 100 people, so reservations will be on a first-come basis," Yahner said. The cost of the dinner is $35 per person, or $50 per person and spouse. "The meeting is open to both Farm Bureau members as well as non-members," Yahner said.

To order tickets, send a check, payable to "FARMER" to Pennsylvania Farm Bureau, P.O. Box 8736, Camp Hill, PA 17001-8736. Deadline for reservations is July 1.

RECENT ADVANCES IN MILK REPLACERS FOR DAIRY CALVES

Jud Heinrichs
Professor Of Dairy And Animal Science
Penn State

Milk replacers sold and fed to dairy calves in the United States generally are high quality products that can be nutritious sources of feed for calves and economically used under many management situations.

Milk replacers can be classified by protein source and level, energy content, and presence of medication. Protein sources usually are classified as derived from milk or from alternative protein sources. The following figure lists many of the common protein sources used in feeds.

ALL MILK PROTEIN
Dried Whey Protein Concentrate Dried Whey
Dried Whey Product
Skim Milk
Casein
Sodium or Calcium Caseinate

ALTERNATIVE PROTEIN
Soy Protein Isolate
Protein Modified Soy Flour
Soy Protein Concentrate Soy Flour
Plasma Protein
Modified Wheat Protein

Both protein and energy levels are very important in choosing a milk replacer. Protein levels can range from 16 to 26 percent, with 22 percent recommended by the National Research Council.

Several research studies have shown that milk replacers with all high-quality milk proteins are very adequate with 20 percent protein. However, when increasing amounts of alternative protein sources are used in the formulation, a higher level of protein is needed to achieve the same growth response in calves.

Even with increased levels of total protein (up to 26 percent), milk replacers with high amounts of alternative plant proteins will not result in the same growth in young calves as will those with all milk proteins. Some replacers contain added methionine and lysine to improve the biological value of the product for young calves when lesser quality plant proteins are used in the formulation.

Fat levels in milk replacers typically range from 10 to 22 percent. Although the National Research Council lists a requirement for only 10 percent fat in milk replacers, research has repeatedly shown that higher levels of fat help reduce scours in young calves and can be beneficial in providing more calories to calves in cold environments. This is because fat has 2.5 times more energy than do carbohydrates.

Even with high levels of fat in the milk replacer, calves need grain to consume enough energy in the winter months. In fact, grain should account for nearly all of the calories used for growth, while the milk replacer maintains the calf.

There is a growing trend in some areas of the country to use non-medicated milk replacers, but many research trials have shown that medication in milk replacers can improve calf health and increase performance. The use of medicated replacers may require a withdrawal period prior to slaughter. Four medications have been approved (see following figure) for use in milk replacers: three are antibacterial and a fourth aids in the prevention of coccidiosis.

MEDICATION	FEED USE LEVEL	STATEMENT	WITHDRAWAL PERIOD
Chlortetracycline	Up to 100 g/ton	Growth promotion and feed efficiency	None required
	100g/ton to 250 g/ton	Aid in prevention of bacterial diarrhea
Oxytetracycline	50 g/ton	As an aid in the prevention of bacterial diarrhea	5 days before slaughter
	51 g/ton to 100 g/ton	As an aid in the treatment of bacterial diarrhea
Oxytetracycline/ Neomycin	100 g/ton Oxy 200 g/ton Neo 200 g/ton Oxy and 400 g/ton Neo to 400 g/ton Oxy and 800 g/ton Neo	Aid in prevention of bacterial diarrhea (scours) Aid in treatment of bacterial diarrhea (scours)	30 days before slaughter
Decoquinate	45.4 g/ton (to decoquinate per 100 lbs. body weight)	For prevention of coccidiosis in ruminating and non-ruminating calves and cattle caused by E. bovis and E. Zurniii	None required

To Represent Lancaster In State

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — On May 17, five young men from Garden Spot High School teamed together and defeated 30 other county teams to win the Lancaster County Envirothon Contest.

Their closest competition came from Pequea Valley and Conestoga Valley. In all, 155 students comprised the 31 different teams.

The Garden Spot team was coached by Bruce Stajnrajh and included sophomore Dan Laudermilch, Darrel Becker, and Brian Martin and freshmen Andy Weaver and Junior Zeiset. Garden Spot scored 399 points out of a possible 500. Pequea Valley's I FFA team placed second with 387 points and Conestoga Valley's Flaming Geckos were third with 373 points.

The Envirothon is an environmental contest that tests students on their knowledge of the outdoors and the natural things you would expect to encounter. Teams of three to five students compete against each other. The teams are tested in the following topic areas: wildlife, forestry, soils, aquatics, ecology, and this year's current topic, "groundwater." The tests are in written form, however the students are many times seeing, feeling, smelling, and hearing the actual questions. It might be a tree or mammal they are asked to identify. It may be a bird call they are asked to know. Understanding the "water cycle" would definitely come in handy, as well as recognizing different soil characteristics.

The contest is sponsored by the Lancaster County Conservation District and receives donated time and funds from the Lancaster County Parks and Recreation Department, the Pennsylvania Fish and Boat Commission, the Pennsylvania Game Commission, the Natural Resources Conservation Service and Pennsylvania Power and Light (PP&L).

On Saturday, June 24, Garden Spot will be challenged once more as they will compete against other county winners at the state level contest. If Garden Spot manages to claim first place at Bald Eagle State Park, they will continue as Pennsylvania's representative at the national level contest.

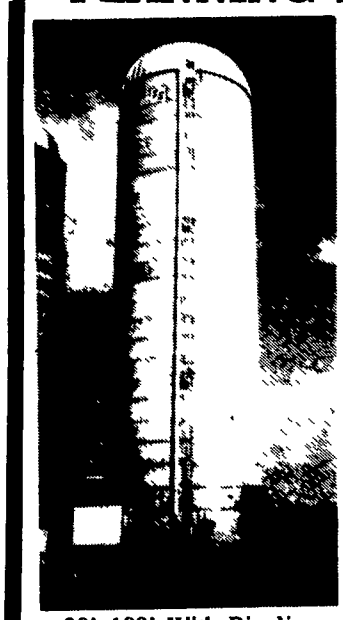
"THINK CONCRETE WHEN PLANNING FEED STORAGE"



30'x100' With Big Jim Drive Thru

"The Big Jim is doing a fine job bringing the feed down. We really believe the drive-thru, Big Jim System is worth anyone's consideration. It is costing more every year to grow forages and we feel our minimal quality and quantity losses are easily paying for the additional initial cost of this investment compared to that of a bunker. We are throwing no feed away and the cows are milking the best they ever have." (over 90 lbs. per cow.)

Signed/Atwater Farms
Rick Atwater

Drive your truck or mixer-wagon under the 12' high floor for fast and efficient delivery of your wilted hay or silage. Eliminate conveyors from silos to mixer.

"As Margins Narrow, Dairymen Need To Invest In Efficiency: This Can Have As Great An Influence On Profit As Milk Price Changes."

Call for an appointment to discuss your storage needs and assistance in completing the "Cost Analysis Worksheet" developed by the Crop Storage Institute

Bob Francis - (717) 264-9588

Also available in 20' and 24' diameter silos to store from 400 to 3,000 tons of forage.

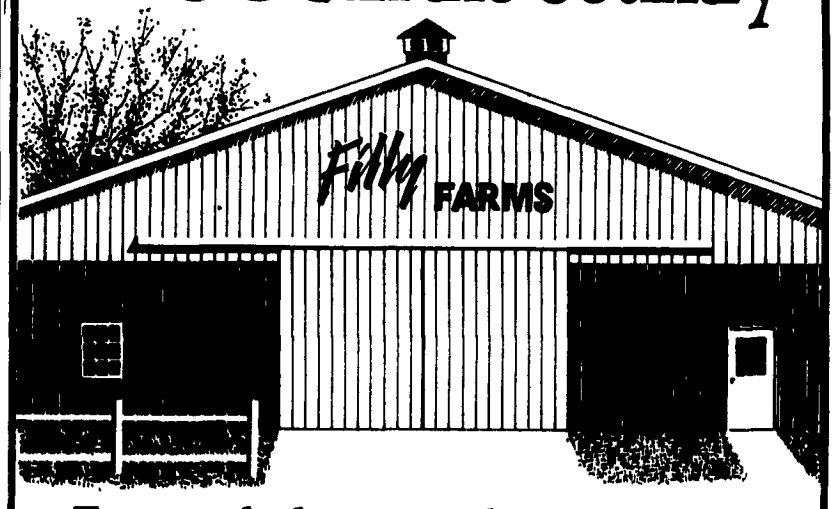
Best in the Country



For rough duty, rougher weather: Rugged, practical, cost-efficient Centurydrain™ roofing and siding.

Centurydrain is the roofing and siding to use for a strong, tight structure that'll carry you through the years of heavy snows, driving rain, and ripping winds.

Wheeling Centurydrain is a pure practically: full-hard, high tensile steel; galvanized for toughness, durability, and rust resistance; and with an exclusive drain channel for dry, snug interior.

Handsome appearance, too: bold shadow lines and choice of rich, baked-on colors. The best in the country is right here, Stop by.

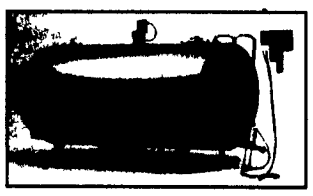
MUELLER DAIRY FARM EQUIPMENT

Scroll-Compressor Technology

New in 1994



You may pay less for some dairy farm equipment... but it can cost you more!

In the long run, total operating costs of a Mueller milk-cooling system are generally substantially less than those of "bargain-brand" milk-cooling equipment.

Example	Mueller	Competition
Cost of equipment	$31 000	$28 000
Cost of electricity @ .08 kW for 12 000 lbs milk/day for 10 years	$17 550	$22 850
Total operating cost for ten years	$48 550	$50 850
Savings	$ 2 300

INTRODUCING...

SWEETCAKE 16NU

FEED SUPPLEMENT BLOCKS FOR THE LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY

- High Natural Protein • No Urea • Fat Enhanced
- Balanced Supplementation • Safe For All Livestock Classes

Sweetcake Advantages

- Aids in making the best use of your available forage
- Promotes a more even herd consumption, with 24-hour availability to all cattle
- Reduces labor to save you money and give you more time to make important management decisions
- Supplies much-needed vitamins and minerals that forage lacks to help your cattle perform to their genetic potential
- Supplies fat in most formulations to enhance energy intake

For Dairy

- Replacement heifers that grow out soundly and economically
- Body condition on dry cows so they can return to lactation, producing at the maximum potential
- Healthier herds, with essential trace minerals that help prevent metritis, retained placenta and other health problems
- Prompt re-breeding, thanks to essential nutrients

For Beef

- Stronger, healthier calves at birth
- Heavier Calves at weaning
- Cows that cycle better for improved conception rates
- Cows that milk better to raise a better calf

- AVAILABLE IN 200 LB. SIZE -

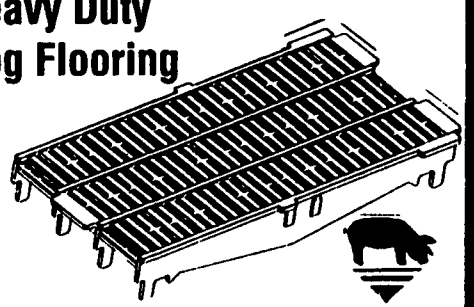
REPLACING HOG FLOORING? CONSIDERING NEW CONSTRUCTION? CHECK OUT Polygrate™
Heavy Duty Hog Flooring



Time Tested and Proven
This style of POLYGRATE was first introduced in 1981. Over the years Farocx has continued to refine this product. POLYGRATE is one of only a few "World Class" floors that has stood this test of time.
Outstanding Traction
POLYGRATE'S unique "high-low" finger design provides outstanding traction for pigs of all sizes, while enhancing safety and comfort.
◆ POLYGRATE'S rounded corners minimize injuries. The edges are beveled providing a smoother, safer surface that promotes comfort, too.

What Does This All Add Up To?
◆ More piglets survive until weaning
◆ Less splay/spraddle leg problems
◆ Heavier piglets at weaning
◆ Better conditioned sows at weaning

Filth-Breeding flies cause disease ... ... and the chemicals used to control them can make your animals sick.
THE SOLUTION:
Filth-Breeding Fly Parasites!
We're offering three mixed species of tiny, nocturnal, non-swarming parasitic wasps Muscidifurax zaraptor, M. raptorellus and Spalangia endius
These tiny parasites work by laying their eggs in the pest flies' pupae. The eggs then hatch, and as they develop, they consume their host: the immature filth-breeding fly.
Instead of a new pest fly hatching out, a new parasite will hatch out instead. The cycle will repeat
Positive fly control can be obtained without the use of chemicals. And the use of these parasites, with adult fly trapping, has proven itself a safe and effective means of coping with a potentially severe problem.
Use this approach in any operation beef, equine, dairy, poultry, swine, canine and many more.
For information pertaining to setting up a season-long program, pricing, or any questions, please call ... C & M FARM SERVICES.

That's because from the day each new vehicle joins our fleet, it goes on the most rigorous, carefully designed preventive maintenance programs in the industry. With check up after check up. And with one final, painstaking inspection right before it goes on the market. To make sure each and every one of our vehicles meet our Road Ready requirements. So if you're looking for a used truck, look to Ryder. We'll help qualified buyers with financing. And we'll give you a unique, 30-day limited warranty that shows how confident we are about the superiority of our maintenance standards. Call the Ryder location nearest you. Today. And take a Ryder used truck for a little road test of your own.

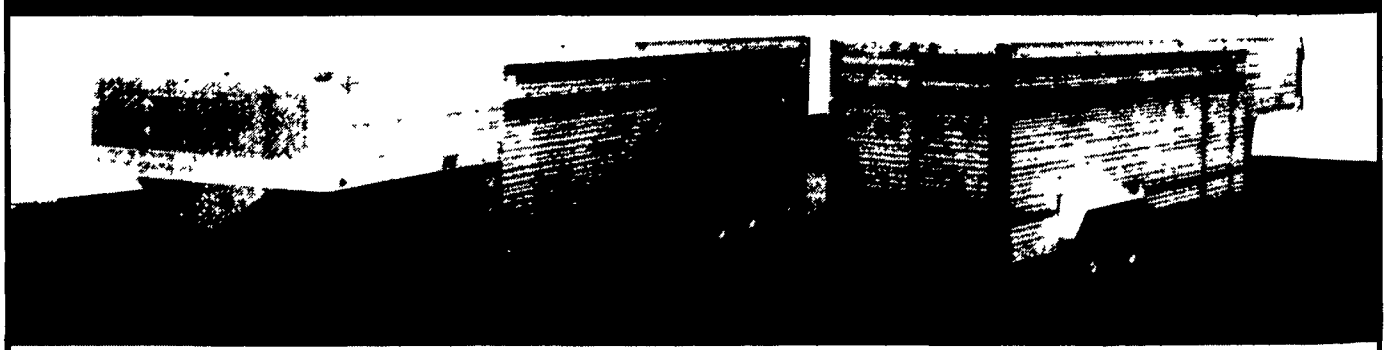
Anything Less Isn't Good Enough



If livestock is your business, Eby Gooseneck Trailers include these features to protect the livestock you transport:

- Durable all-aluminum construction with less weight for more payload
- Axles, wheels, tires and brakes that are designed to carry the weight the trailer will hold
- Gates and doors designed for easy loading/unloading
- Proven post and slat design to control airflow and easily close up for winter conditions
- Aerodynamic design to improve fuel economy

Eby Gooseneck Trailers are available in lengths from 12 to 32 feet with a choice of widths and inside heights. We offer every custom option, including stainless steel front end for great looks.

Whatever kind of livestock you transport, you can rely on EBY products to do the job right.

Eby custom-builds bodies and trailers for all types of livestock, grain and farm commodities.

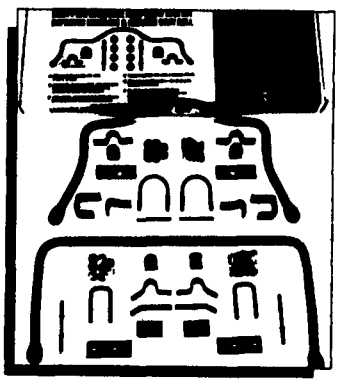
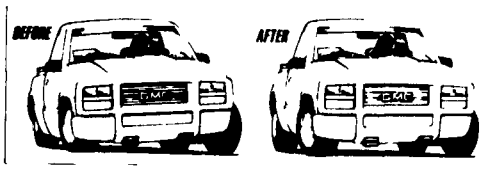
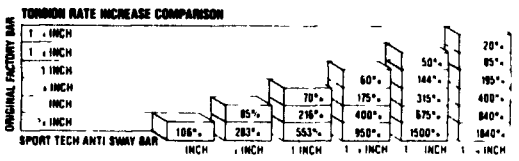
If You Are Not Satisfied With The Ride You Are Getting From Your Van, Truck or Automotive Vehicle Call Binkley & Hurst For Your Kit and Installation Appointment Now!

SPORT TECH Anti-Sway Bar Kits for mini-, mid-, and full-size trucks, vans and sport utility vehicles





SPORT TECH (Technically Enhanced Control & Handling) Anti Sway Bar Kits are designed to reduce body roll in vehicles with typically higher centers of gravity and load capacities Dramatically improve your vehicle s handling and cornering control with a set of front and rear SPORT TECH kits whether you are a Down Low Street Cruiser or Off Road Bruiser



SPORT TECH Anti-Sway Bar Kits are made with high quality materials and "state-of-the-art" engineering Our larger diameter anti-sway bars are made from high strength 4140 chrome moly steel, precision hot-formed with forged end tabs, then heat-treated to provide superior performance and maximum durability The specially formulated polyurethane bushings work "in concert" with the bars to provide the greatest increase in improved cornering and handling while maintaining the original factory ride quality Each kit comes complete with heavy gauge steel mounting brackets, heavy duty, gold zinc plated mounting hardware and easy to follow installation instructions

Front and rear kits sold separately.

As you can see in the chart above SPORT TECH s larger diameter 4140 alloy steel bars give a significantly higher torsional rate increase (resistance to body roll) than original factory bars The performance improvement will be even more significant with the addition of a rear anti sway bar kit since most Pickups Vans and Sport Utility Vehicles do not come equipped with factory rear sway bars

- EACH KIT IS ENGINEERED TO YOUR SPECIFIC VEHICLE MODEL
- EASY BOLT ON INSTALLATION IN ABOUT AN HOUR USING SIMPLE HAND TOOLS — NO WELDING OR DRILLING REQUIRED
- HEAVY DUTY 4140 CHROME MOLY STEEL ANTI SWAY BARS ARE HOT FORMED AND HEAT TREATED FOR MAXIMUM STRENGTH AND DURABILITY
- EACH KIT INCLUDES LONG LASTING HIGH DUROMETER POLYURETHANE BUSHINGS TO ASSURE SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE

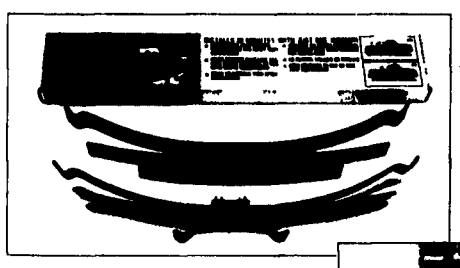
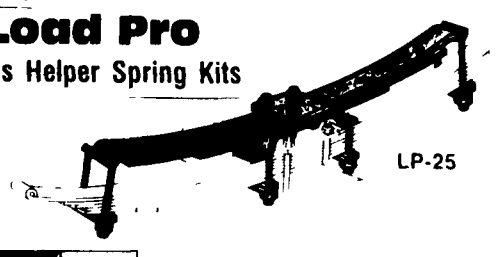
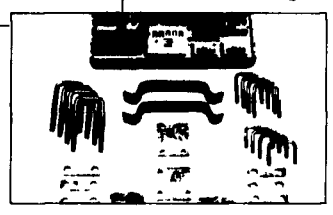
LP-25 Helper Spring Kits for full-size trucks, sport utility vehicles and vans



Load Pro
Series Helper Spring Kits





LP-25 Helper Spring Kits bolt-on to old or new existing factory rear leaf springs to "help" the suspension realize its full, level load carrying capacity* potential Your "heavy load" driving is safer and easier with proper vehicle leveling for increased driver comfort, better road handling and braking LP-25 Helper Springs are manufactured from high quality alloy spring steel, hot-formed and heat-treated for extra strength and durability The kits come in two versions Constant load kits for full-time suspension support – ideal where loads are typically more constant, such as on contractor/commercial service trucks and motorhomes Progressive load kits can be adjusted for additional level load carrying assistance when hauling an occasional load of firewood or towing a trailer Factory ride and handling characteristics are unaffected when vehicle is not loaded LP-25 Helper Spring Kits are also available for motorhome applications. Call your WD or Hellwig Products Co. for details.

NOTE: Because factory leaf spring widths vary, LP-25 Mounting Kits are sold separately and must be ordered with Spring Kits to ensure proper installation.

- New top-of-line bias-ply tractor rear, featuring our long bar/long bar design for tread stability, and heavy bar bracing to extend tread life.
- Long wearing and smooth riding, due to the more uniform, flatter contour of the long bar/long bar design.
- Proven 23° bar angle for traction and open center for self-cleaning.
- Bead and rim protector shields the rim to help keep stubble and soil from getting between the bead and rim flange.

Fair Happenings

Kempton Country Fair

From top country talent to tractor pull — to the Miss Kempton Fair Scholarship Pageant and countless exhibits — to the Midway and off-road four by four auto races, the Kempton Country Fair remains tops for family fun and thrills.

Opening Friday at 5 p.m., June 16, this weekend event celebrates its 41st anniversary, closing on Sunday, June 18.

And this year, a very special treat is in store on Saturday evening when Jett Williams, the daughter of Hank Williams, appears in two live performances at 7:15 and 10:15 p.m. along with The Drifting Cowboys. Making her professional debut at a memorial program honoring her father in 1989, she met two of the original "Cowboys" that set her career in motion. Her unique style and their unforgettable blend make for listening pleasure.

But that's just a sample of what's in store in Kempton.

The Blue Mountain Gang with their familiar mix of country and bluegrass open the entertainment on Friday evening in two performances, 7 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. A favorite with Kempton audiences, they're know as crowd pleasers.

Featured at the 8:15 and 10:15 p.m. slot, Darryl and Don Ellis, who are recognized for their rich, soulful voices, are a dynamite twosome. Just in their mid-20s, these country hunks who are compared to the Everly Brothers, will sing their own songs as well as other favorites.

Show time on Saturday begins at 3 p.m. with Andrew Roblin. A singer, a yodeler, even a guy who shouts whoopee, he'll play a guitar, jew harp, mandolin and hammered dulcimer. He'll also be on stage at 5 p.m.

San Antonio Rose will make a first time appearance at Kempton with her 6 and 9:15 p.m. programs on Saturday.

Sunday's musical offerings start at 5 and 7 p.m. when The Country Rhythm Band swings into gear. Playing with gusto, they've returned to delight fair crowds with their familiar refrains.

Once again Tommy Schafer and the Blue Mountain Ramblers will take over the evening and present songs old and new that have made them local favorites. They'll be on the covered stage at 6:15 and at 8:15 p.m.

But this is just the beginning of the many events at the Kempton Country Fair. This year, celebrating the 32nd annual event, tractor pulls are scheduled for Friday evening at 6 p.m. Farm stock tractor pulls in three classes, single wheel 4x4 sanctioned stock pickups, a non-sanctioned local 4x4 class from Lehigh, Berks, and Schuylkill counties, and two modified stock sanctioned classes will be held. A rain date, June 18 at 4 p.m. has been scheduled.

It's a real happening when the fair opens on Saturday at 11 a.m. It's Children's Day and from 1 until 4 p.m., children 14 years old and under will be able to ride the amusements at reduced rates. A bicycle is top prize at a special at 4 p.m. drawing.

Mountain Madness Off Road races take off on Saturday at 12 noon in a series of Figure 8 maneuvers and enthusiasts will continue to enjoy the drag races beginning at 6 p.m. Saturday evening. Both are E.C.4W.D.A. sanctioned.

The Miss Kempton Fair Scholarship Pageant takes place on Sunday at noon with a series of programs starting with a production number and continuing with a talent demonstration, an evening gown presentation, on stage interviews and finally, the crowning of Es Lieblichst Maedel, the fairest one.

Although the fair opens at 11 a.m. on Sunday, a very new and special Bicycle Race has been scheduled. Starting at 9 a.m., the WEEU Cycle series is a 16-mile competition and everyone is welcome to participate from 8 to 88. Age group awards and random prizes will be offered.

Sunday, noon, the four-wheel drivers will be on the course again in a series of obstacle races. Again the Mountain Madness Off Road Races are E.C.4W.D.A. sanctioned.

Sunday also features a Children's Pedal Tractor Pull for kids 5 to 10 years old. Beginning at 1 p.m., there's a teeter-totter, a balance on seesaws, in which youngsters can participate.

For all the events, fairgoers are invited to bring chairs or blankets for both the under-cover stage programs and the pulls and races.

And there's so much more to see and do.

More than 100 exhibitors display their wares — from arts and crafts such as dolls and pins and hair clips and handmade aprons and dresses to hot tubs and building supplies. There are all sorts of goodies — meats, baked goods, homemade candies. There are antiques and a flea market, dried flowers and landscaping hints. There are autos and trucks, tractors and farm equipment — a complete array for everyone to enjoy.

When hunger pangs strike — and the fresh country air promises a healthy appetite, the food concessions abound. From soup and chili, hot dogs, steak and meatball sandwiches to tacos, pizza and ice cream, there is plenty from which to choose.

Of course, there's the midway with rides, bingo and games to add to the excitement. Gate prizes are offered each evening with a grand prize on Sunday.

For those who like a bit of history, an adjunct to the Kempton Fair grounds is the W.K.& S. Railroad, where for a small charge, a traveller can find an hour's respite in a short run through some of the most scenic countryside imaginable.

All in all, the Fair offers full family fare and in a setting that defies description: rolling hills, grassy knolls, trees and a quiet respite.

The Kempton Country Fair is manned by volunteers with all proceeds returned to the Kempton Community Center, the site of the Fair. Admission to the Fair is $4 a person on Friday and Saturday, with children 6 to 12 admitted at half-price and those under six admitted free. Admission on Sunday is $4 a carload. Parking is controlled and free. All entertainment goes on rain or shine.

Kempton is located north of I-78 from either the Lenhartsville Interchange on Rt. 143 or from Rt. 737. It also can be reached from 309 north on Rt. 143. Kempton is approximately 30 miles west of Allentown and 35 miles from Reading.

Information concerning the Fair is available by calling The Kempton Community Center (610) 756-6030 and during the Fair, (610) 756-6444.

Forum Recognizes Operation Green Stripe

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — Operation Green Stripe, a program that encourages farmers to plant grassy buffers to protect streams, has been cited by a national pollution prevention forum as one of 25 exemplary water quality projects.

The program, sponsored by Monsanto Co. in cooperation with FFA and several seed companies, was selected as a demonstration project by the National Forum on Nonpoint Source Pollution. The Forum, convened in 1994 and 1995 by The Conservation Fund and the National Geographic Society, recently issued a first-of-its-kind national report recommending ways to reduce nonpoint water pollution.

Nonpoint pollution, unlike pollution from factories or sewage treatment plants, occurs when rain water picks up contaminants on farm land, urban construction sites, parking lots or anywhere water flows across a surface into a stream.

The recommend solutions, including programs like Operation Green Stripe, emphasize voluntary initiatives, education and economic incentives.

Through Operation Green Stripe, participating FFA chapters in several states recruit farmers to establish grassy buffer strips along streams on their farms. Participating seed companies donate free grass seed to the farmers, and Monsanto provides the FFA chapters with $100 for each stripe planted, up to five per chapter. The money is used to fund chapter educational activities. This year, about 375 FFA chapters in sensitive watersheds have been chosen to participate.

Frederick County Team Wins Md. Envirothon

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—A team of five students from Middletown High School in Frederick County recently beat out teams from 19 counties to win the 1995 Maryland Envirothon—an intense, hands-on problem-solving natural resources competition for high school students. The event was held May 19-20 at the 4-H Center in Garrett County.

Team members Elaine Bucheimer, Natalie Bucheimer, Crissi Gamache, Jen Morat, and Erin Weber, along with team alternates Lara Wise and Tara Harrell will now go on to represent Maryland at the National Envirothon competition slated for July 31-August 3 in Rexburg, Idaho. The team, dubbed "The Lorax," was coached by science instructor Ron Albaugh and assisted by Barry Burch, a planner with the Frederick and Catoctin Soil Conservation Districts. Some 30 teams from across the nation are expected to compete in the National competition.

"This is a wonderful eduction program for the students," said Maryland Agriculture Secretary Lewis Riley.

"The program is successful because it gets students out of the classroom and into the natural world that they are learning about. It really has an impact on the students to learn about soil from a soil scientist, or forestry from an actual forester.

"It's just a great program all around," he said.

A two-day event, the Maryland Envirothon is held once a year at an outdoor environmental education center. Students taking part in the competition have been studying Maryland's natural resources for the past year in hopes of winning.

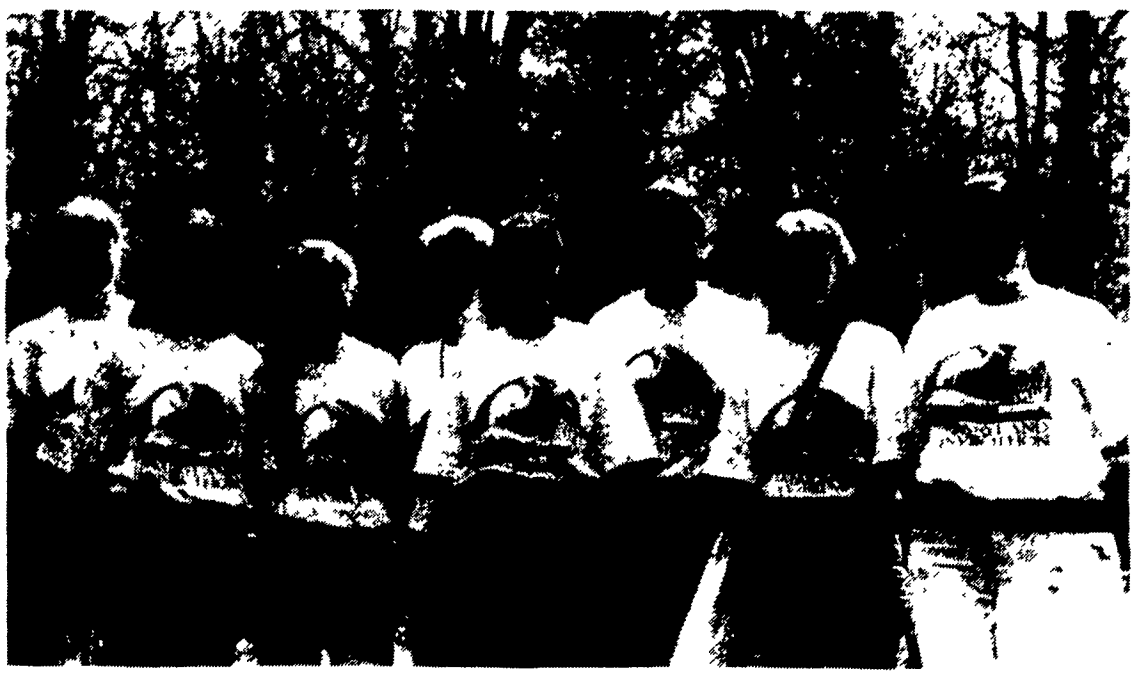
Working in teams of five, the students are trained and tested in four natural resources areas including soil, aquatics, forestry, and wildlife, plus a current environmental issue that changes from year to year. This year's issue was groundwater.

The students—who hail from a growing list of Maryland high schools and counties—rotate through the various test stations where they are asked to identify and categorize living resources, perform soil surveys, and solve other complex natural resource issues. The team with the highest cumulative total wins the competition and the opportunity to represent Maryland at the National Envirothon.

At the 1995 competition, the Frederick team scored 433 points out of a possible 500. They were followed by teams from Harford (433 points), Montgomery (395 points), Charles (390 points), Washington (380 points) and Dorchester counties (377 points).

The first Envirothon competition was held in Pennsylvania in 1979. Since then, more than 15 states, Canada, and Australia have embraced the program and sent teams to the National competition in late summer.

Established in 1991, the objectives of the Maryland Envirothon are twofold—to test student's environmental knowledge and understanding of state resource issues and to instill a desire to learn more about the natural world. Since its inception, the program has grown from 250 students to well over 1,000 students this year. Sixty Maryland schools now participate in the event, up from 42 in 1991. The competition is sponsored by Maryland's Soil Conservation Districts and the State Soil Conservation Committee.



MIDDELTOWN, Md.—On Saturday, May 20, at the Western Maryland 4-H Center in Bittinger, the team named "The Lorax" from Middletown High School won the 1995 Maryland Envirothon.

Team members consisted of Elaine Bucheimer, Natalie Bucheimer, Crissi Gamache, Jen Morat, Erin Weber, along with alternates Lara Wise and Tara Harrell.

"The Lorax" was coached by science teacher Ron Albaugh and assisted by Barry Burch of the Catoctin and Frederick soil conservation districts.

There were 19 counties represented that day at the Maryland Envirothon. "The Lorax" will now prepare to compete at the 1995 National Envirothon at Rexburg, Idaho in early August.

Avoid Fires From Wet Hay

Lester R. Vough
Forage Crops
Extension Specialist
University of Maryland

Spontaneous combustion is always a possibility with stored hay, but particularly if hay was baled too wet or too green. This year, hay growers are commonly facing the situation that hay really needs one more day of drying but rain is forecast.

The choice is often to go ahead and bale rather than have the losses from rain damage. In many cases, that is the wise decision — there may be some musty and/or moldy hay but most of it is feedable, at least to beef and dairy animals. But in other cases it turns out to be an unwise decision, resulting in spontaneous combustion and loss of barns and storage structures if the hay was stored inside.

Hay that was too wet from rain or dew or that was not allowed to dry sufficiently in the field will go through a curing process (sometimes referred to as a sweat) in storage. During the curing process, heat is produced. This heat buildup is caused from live plant tissue respiration coupled with bacteria and mold activity. Plant respiration converts plant sugars to water and carbon dioxide, increases neutral detergent fiber (NDF) and acid detergent fiber (ADF) and decreases the net energy content of the hay. Plant respiration slows as moisture content decreases but does not stop until plant moisture is 20 percent or less. In the range of 20 to 35 percent moisture content, molds are the predominant microorganisms that grow in hay. As with respiration molds likewise consume plant sugars, producing water and carbon dioxide, causing loss of dry matter, digestible nutrients and net energy. If the moisture generated by respiration is not dissipated out of the bale, mow or stack, than the moisture content of the hay will increase.

Both plant and mold respiration generate heat. If the hay heats to 100°F or higher, browning reactions begin. In these reactions, also called carmelization, proteins and amino acids combine with plant sugars to form a brown polymer resembling lignin. This also results in increased levels of ADF and of acid detergent insoluble protein (bound protein) and reduced digestibility and net energy (Table 1). Browning reactions release heat, and when coupled with heating from mold growth, result in an upward spiral in temperature of the hay mass.

Although most problems with spontaneous combustion begin occurring within two weeks after hay has been placed in storage, combustion is possible for two months. Growers, especially those who know that the hay was a little too wet or green when it went into storage, should start checking for temperature rises within two days following storage and monitor on a daily basis for at least 10 days to two weeks.

Although one may check the top bales in the mow or stack or the surface of large round bales to find out if there is heat buildup, chances are the problem will occur in the middle or lower bales in the mow or in the middle of large round bales. These areas are difficult to reach but one way to check the temperature of suspected hay is to force or drive a pipe or probe deep into the mow or to the center of large bales, then drop a thermometer tied to a string down the pipe or probe and leave it there for 15 minutes. If the temperature is up to 160°F, read and record temperatures at least daily to monitor the temperature trend. If the temperature is in the 160-180° range, consider moving some hay out so it can dry and cool. If the temperature is 180-190°, alert the fire department to the situation and stop ventilation of mows or stacks to the extent possible to reduce the air supply. If the temperature is above 210°, call the fire department. Do not attempt to move hay at that temperature unless water and fire fighting equipment are on the scene as the hay may ignite when it becomes exposed to a greater air supply as it is moved.

Heating also increases when bale density is higher and as both the size of the bale and the size of the mow or stack gets larger. The higher the bale density and the larger the bale, the drier the hay needs to be at the time of baling.

With small rectangular bales, hay can generally be safely baled at 18-20 percent moisture. With large round bales or large rectangular bales, hay should generally be no higher than 16-18 percent. Thus hay baled at 18-20 percent moisture as small rectangular bales will generally store safely while the same hay baled as large round or square bales will typically heat and be musty or moldy.

Table 1. Problems associated with hay heating.

TEMPERATURE	PROBLEM
115° - 125°F	When coupled with high moisture, molds and odors develop and decrease palatability.
> 120°F	Heating reduces digestibility or protein, fiber, and carbohydrate compounds.
130° - 140°F	Hay is brown and very palatable because of the carmelization of surgars; unfortunately, nutritional value is reduced.
> 150°F	Hay may turn black and spontaneous combustion is possible.

Farmers Attend No-Till Field Day

MONTROSE (Susquehanna Co.) — Recently the Susquehanna Conservation District and the Penn-State Cooperative Extension co-sponsored an informative No-till Cropping Field Day at the Aldrich Farmstead in Bridgewater Township.

John Benscoter, the district's nutrient management technician, introduced the information resource people after giving a summary of the program's goals. He also briefly covered the district's Chesapeake Bay program.

Assisting at the field day was Bob Hotchkiss, district conservationist, Montrose Field Office, USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service. In his presentation, he covered the benefits of no-till crop production. Hotchkiss said, "You need to start with a plan which will be flexible enough to take into account the many variables involved in establishing a cropping system." Some of the factors include weather, soils fertility, rotations, wetness, timing and others.

Ed Reed explains calibration procedures on the no-till grain drill to local farmers.

Joel Myers of the USDA/ NRCS describes the use of a soil compaction gauge at the recent no-till field day.

Joel Myers, state agronomist with USDA-NRCS's Harrisburg office, shared with the group of farmers and local agency people valuable personal and technical information about no-till planting. Myers has been working with farmers for many years and helps run the family farm, using many innovative soil-saving techniques. He emphasized that "if a farmer wants to succeed, he or she must recognize how no-till fits into the overall farm management and cropping systems."

Ed Reed, erosion and sediment control technician, provided the farmers with useful information about the operation and calibration of the no-till equipment. Reed is the technician on the conservation district staff who helps to conduct the no-till education program. Also involved are secretary/ treasurer Connie Organisciak and Lillian Theophanis, district manager, who was on hand to handle public relations. Jim Garner, the newly hired district programs assistant, was available to assist during the day's activities. Garner will be more involved with the no-till program as time goes on.

Mark Madden, Susquehanna County extension agent, provided information on weed control options, fertility concerns, forage variety selection, and seeding rates. Madden's presentation provided an update on restricted-use pesticide credits to license holders. Madden commented that "no-till planting can not only help to control erosion, but it can make good business sense as well." No-till planting can reduce labor and energy costs of up to 35 percent compared to conventional methods.

About 35 farmers participated in the field day.

Fair Happenings

Schnecksville Community Fair

Schnecksville Community Fair will be held at Schnecksville Fire Company grounds, Route 309, Schnecksville, on June 20-24. The fair opens nightly at 5:30 p.m. and Saturday at 3 p.m.

The community fair is sponsored by Schnecksville Community Fair Association. The fair offers free admission, free live entertainment and parking is $3 per vehicle, except on Friday (fireworks night) $4 per vehicle.

The theme this year is "A Circus Of Country Fun." One of the main attractions will be a circus model display by the "David Deacon Blanchfield Ring #86" of the Circus Model Builders International. This free attraction will be displayed under a big top, with model displays ranging from HO, ¼ -inch, ½ -inch, ¾ -inch, 1-inch, and 12 inches to the foot.

In conjunction with our circus display, this year's fair will feature a Circus Parade scheduled for Saturday, June 24 for 5:30 p.m., with the parade route circling the fair grounds. The Circus Parade will feature five full size circus wagons, clowns, magicians, animals, fire truck, honor guard, Santa Claus, plus so much more! Another free attraction will be Carla Wallenda's high wire act, with up to three performances daily!

The fair provides much free entertainment for the young and old. Some of the free attractions nightly include Yiengst Magic Circus, Master of the Chainsaw, Old Time Plow Boys (antique tractor display), animal exhibits, 36 craft persons for the craft show, petting zoo, Lollipup The Clown, and more.

The schedule of events for Tuesday, June 20, Opening Day includes 9 a.m. judging of 4-H Grange and Open Class. A 5 p.m. dining room and exhibit area open. Carnival rides open at 5:30 p.m. Opening Ceremonies will be at 7 p.m. located near the 4-H building. Plan to attend the Baked Goods Auction at 7:45 p.m. And at 8 p.m. is the "Sierra Band."

On Wednesday, June 21, the dining room and exhibit area open at 5 p.m.; with the carnival rides opening at 5:30 p.m.; and the 4-H Rabbit Show at 6 p.m. The New Tripoli National Bank "Apple Pie Contest" will be judged at 7 p.m.; with the entries received between 3 and 6 p.m.; and 1st place is $150. Also at 7 p.m. is the 4-H Sheep Show. At 8 p.m. see Tommy Schafer & The Blue Mountain Ramblers perform.

Thursday, June 22 is ride all night for one price! The dining area and exhibit area open at 5 p.m. and the 4-H Goat Show. At 5:30 p.m. the carnival rides open; 4-H Steer Show at 7 p.m.; and Dairy Show at 8 p.m. See Cruisin Route3 at 8 p.m.

Friday, June 23 the dining room and exhibit area open at 5 p.m.; with the carnival rides opening at 5:30 p.m. At 7 p.m. see the 4-H Swine Show and at 8 p.m. see "Midnight Special" Band. At 11 p.m. see our spectacular fireworks display.

Saturday, June 24 the rides and Exhibit Area open at 3 p.m. Also at 3 p.m. is the judging of Neffs National Bank "Hershey Chocolate Cake Contest"; with the entries received between noon and 3 p.m.; and 1st place is $150. Don't miss Children's Tractor Pedal Pull at 3:30 p.m. for children 12 years and younger, weighing 100 pounds or less. The Dining Room opens at 4:30 p.m. And at 5:30 p.m., see one of the major highlights of this year's fair, the Circus Parade. At 8 p.m. see "Jesse Wade Gang" sponsored by Neffs National Bank.

The fair will include rides by Nonweiler Amusements, games, many food concessions, Bier Garden, pony rides, bingo, Grange exhibits, Lehigh County 4-H Animals (sheep, rabbits, pigs, steers, and goats), and more.

Don't forget the famous Pennsylvania Dutch dinner platters served at 5 p.m. nightly and 4:30 p.m. on Saturday in our fire hall. Pork and Sauerkraut with mashed potatoes and hot roast beef sandwich with mashed potatoes served daily. Plus on Wednesday ham and string beans. On Friday the fair will also serve a crab patty platter and shrimp in the basket.

Premium books are available at the Schnecksville Fire Company or the new King's Market located on Rt. 873, Schnecksville for entering items into the fair.

Farmlands Approved For Preservation Program

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.)—Agricultural Secretary Charles C. Brosius announced the approval of easement purchases for seven farms encompassing 1,144 acres of prime farmland.

"The easements approved for purchase today will preserve quality farmland," Brosius said. The purchases were approved by the Pennsylvania Agricultural Land Preservation Board, which is chaired by Brosius.

The Farmland Protection Program was initiated in 1989 with a $100 million bond issue approved by Pennsylvania voters. The program allows the state and counties to purchase development rights—referred to as easements—to guarantee that farms will remain as agricultural land.

Brosius told the Board that the monies from the initial bond issue will soon be depleted, and he will study ways to get additional revenue to allow the program to continue.

"I would like to find funding that will also allow us to accelerate the rate at which we save farmland," Brosius said.

"We must initiate a review of the statute and its limitations, and recommend changes to the legislation which will improve the program's effectiveness."

With today's easement purchases, 537 farms in 30 counties will have joined the program or had easements approved, protecting 67,663 acres of farmland. As of January 1, easement purchases have been approved for 6,922 acres on 53 farms in 18 counties.

•Berks—Grace H. Schaeffer Estate, Oley Township, 126 acres, $251,560.

•Chester—Elizabeth Powell, West Marlborough Township, 89 acres, $373,343.

•Cumberland—Clyde W., Phyllis J., Victor G., and Cheryl A. Barrick, Penn Township, 412 acres, $696,711.

•Mercer—Larry L. and Luanne Moose, East Lackawannock Township, 139 acres, $76,450.

•Lehigh—George S. and Christa K. Iredell, Lower Milford Township, 112 acres, $325,080.

•Montgomery—Paul and Florence H. Weaver, Limerick Township, 60 acres, $513,740.

Honey Producers To Meet

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — The Lancaster County Honey Producers will meet June 20 at the home of President Ralph McLaughlin. There will be an inspection of active hives at 6 p.m. See new honey in the comb. A business meeting follows at 7 p.m. Hear how bees are essential to many farm food enterprises.

McLaughlin lives at 1138 Fishing Creek Road, Quarryville. Call (717) 548-3798 or (717) 336-5860 for more information.

To Meet At Wye Research Center

EDGEWATER, Md. — The annual meeting of the Maryland Grain Producers Association (MGPA) will have a "new look" this year.

Slated for Thursday, July 27, the meeting will move from its traditional site at the Queen Anne's County 4-H and Youth Park to the University of Maryland's Wye Research and Education Center, just a few miles to the south, near Carmichael.

The new location offers MGPA officials the opportunity to expand the format of the meeting to include tours of University of Maryland ag research plots there, offering grain producers a first-hand look at some of their checkoff dollars at work.

Tour stops will include wheat studies being conducted by Ron Mulford, manager of the Poplar Hill Research Farm near Salisbury, and nutrient research by Dr. Frank Coale, extension soil specialist. Both projects are being supported by grants from the Maryland Grain Producers Utilization Board.

MGPA officials indicated that their July 27 crops tour would in no way anticipate or duplicate tour stops slated for the annual Wye Research Center field day to be held Aug. 17.

The July 27 tours will be available from 10 a.m. to noon. Lunch will be available. The program will get under way at 1 p.m. and conclude at 4 p.m. with MGPA's traditional crab feast and chicken and pork barbecue.

Featured speaker for the program will be Dr. Marshal D. McGlamery, one of the nation's foremost weed control specialists.

For more information, call the MGPA office at (410) 956-5771.

Pesticides Must Be Stored With Caution

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.)—Although home gardeners are not likely to keep large quantities of pesticides, even small amounts should be stored with care, said a safety expert in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences.

"Some pesticides can cause severe illness and even death if misused," said Sam Steel, senior research technologist in agricultural and biological engineering. "Even the less toxic formulations ordinarily used in home garden pesticides must be stored carefully to limit exposure and keep them out of reach of children."

One common storage mistake is keeping liquid pesticides in unheated sheds or garages, where freezing reduces their effectiveness. Another is storing pesticides too close to human or animal foodstuffs, needlessly risking contamination. Storing pesticides too near human living quarters can expose people and pets to unhealthy residues.

"Storing pesticides in unlabeled containers also can have serious consequences," Steel said. "Oral ingestion is the most common type of fatal pesticide poisoning, and the victims usually are children younger than five years old. That's why pesticides never should be stored in containers such as soda bottles or juice jugs. Pesticides should be kept in a locked storage facility in their original containers."

Steel suggests the following steps for safe storage:

•Read the pesticide label for specific directions on use and storage.

•Store liquid pesticides in heated areas, but not at temperatures greater than 95 degrees F.

•Keep flammable or explosive pesticides away from ignition sources such as hot water heaters, welders, or gas grills.

•Wrap outdated products in multiple layers of newspaper and keep in a sealed container for disposal. Check with local authorities on disposal requirements.

•Notify emergency personnel of potentially dangerous products in the event of a fire or accident in your home.

"With careful attention to safe storage practices, you can make your home and neighborhood a healthier and safer place for everyone," Steel said.

At Last...

...a Boom Sprayer for multi-crop produce farmer that is affordable and will do the job from sweet corn to melon crops.

With features like...
- 24 ft. one-side boom that allows for 50ft. coverage between drive rows.
- Easy boom height adjustment from 2ft. to 7 1/2 ft. for sweet corn.
- Hydraulic leveling on the go allows uniform boom height from the crop.
- 280 PSI, 15 GPM diaphragm pump with power shaft for quick hookup.
- Adjustable wheel spacing and tongue height.
- Rubber mounted boom to absorb shock

With the high cost of chemicals, the right Sprayer is needed

Mayrath

InLine Drive

A premium quality galvanized auger designed for low maintenance operation.

Mayrath introduces the all new "InLine Drive" series of portable grain augers. Mayrath has combined operational efficiency with long term dependability providing you with a high quality, GALVANIZED auger at a very affordable price. The revolutionary "InLine Drive" system minimizes the number of moving parts . . . greatly reducing costly downtime and maintenance in the future.

The unique "InLine Drive" design features an internally mounted gearbox inside of an expanded, bell shaped tube housing Auger flighting is positioned to allow a high volume of unrestricted grain flow around the internal gearbox. A new intake design utilizes double flighting and a cupped intake guard to offer a high capacity, complete cleanout operation. A specially engineered hopper bolts directly on top of the intake guard, further enhancing the augers capacity.

REMEMBER THE 3 LAWS OF HOOBER RECONDITIONED AXIAL-FLOW COMBINES...

LAW #1- (17) Years Old is not equal to (≠) WORN OUT...
Because of the simple design of the CASE IH Axial Flow Combines, they can be reconditioned by HOOBER'S expert combine mechanics to like-new condition, so they provide 2nd and 3rd owners years of satisfactory and profitable operation.

LAW #2- (4,000) HOURS PLUS (+) HOOBER RECONDITIONING EQUALS (=) YEARS OF DEPENDABLE SERVICE...
(4,000) Hours on a conventional combine usually means they'll be too much trouble to be dependable. Axial-Flow combines with (4,000) hours, reconditioned by HOOBER'S, have proven to run for years when purchased by farmers in PA, MD, DE and NJ

LAW #3- A CASE IH AXIAL-FLOW COMBINE SERVICED BY EXPERT HOOBER COMBINE MECHANICS EQUALS (=) LITTLE OR NO DOWNTIME DURING HARVEST...
When Hoober's expert combine mechanics service and repair AXIAL-FLOW combines in the off-season, they run dependably through the season.

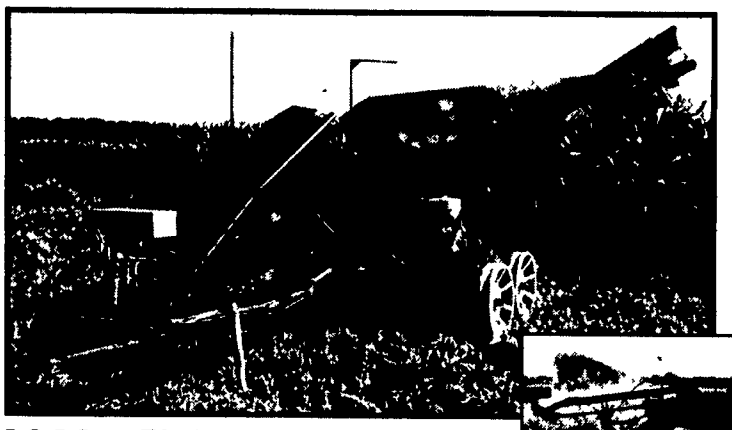
THE I & J CornBinder



I & J CornBinder
The nine gallons per minute hydrosystem runs the corn head as well as the loader.
Also, hitch swing and head rises and lowers hydraulically. The tandem axile is on the loader side. And, the aluminum loader runs with belt (no chains).

Features interlocking bottom chain and carbide cutting disks

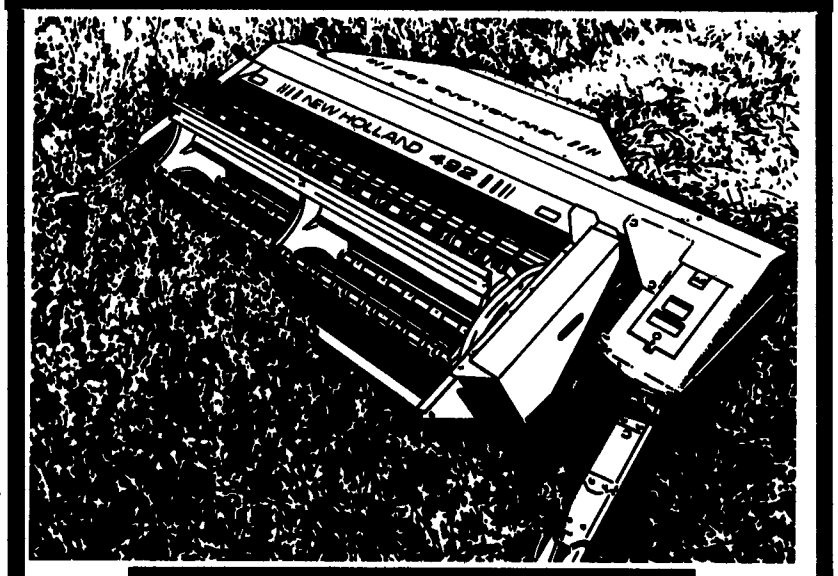
LIGHTWEIGHT HEADER



CLOSE, EVEN CUTTING

The Model 492 Haybine® is the ultimate nine-foot mower-conditioner. Its unique lightweight header floats over ground contours for a close, even cut and less cutterbar damage.

Get all your crop. Stop by and take a look at the Model 492!

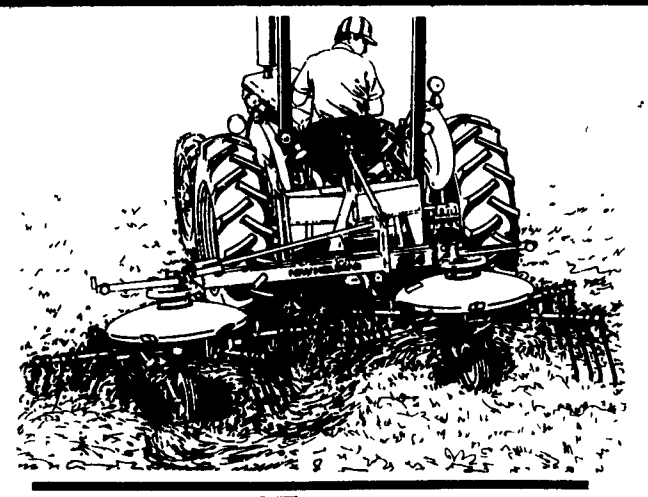
FLEXIBILITY



THE TEDDER THAT RAKES

Now, you can rake and ted with the same machine - the New Holland Model 254 rake tedder. The Model 254 lets you perform a variety of haymaking functions... rake a swath into a windrow, rake two windrows into one, turn windrows, and move crop away from treelines and fences. And, without tools you can convert the Model 254 into a tedder that will fluff up wet, matted-down crop for quick drying.

Stop in today. Let us show you the flexibility of the New Holland Model 254 rake tedder!

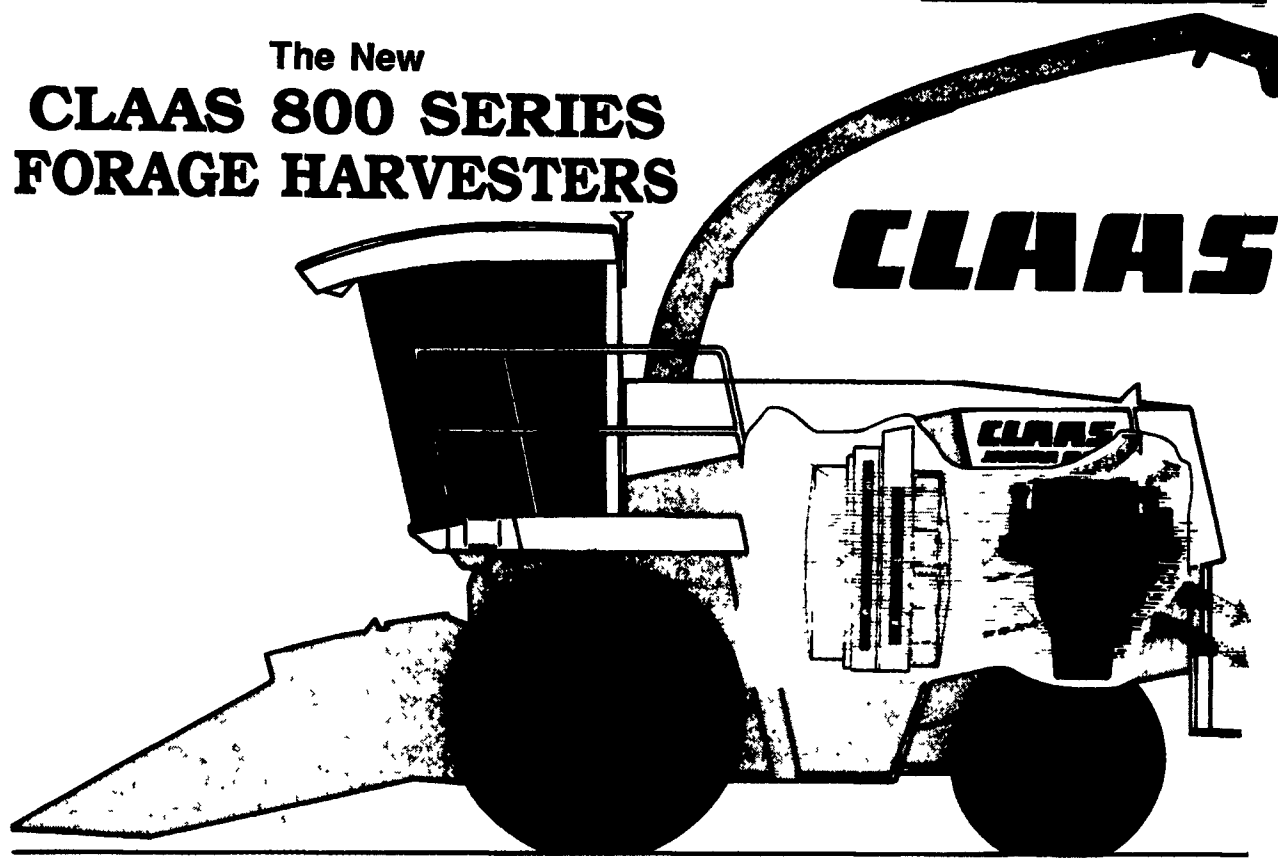
The New
CLAAS 800 SERIES FORAGE HARVESTERS



The cooling system is unique and features an enormous cooling area. The air is sucked in via a rotating screen from the front, working with, not against the travel speed. The cooling area is enormous.

Accesibility to the cooling system is excellent. The oil cooler, air conditioning and the engine radiator are all easy to get to in seconds. All you need to do is open up the hinged rotating screen, and that's it. A typical example of the attention to detail which makes servicing of this machine so straightforward.

Air is then discharged via the rear. Apart from its outstanding effectiveness, this system keeps the temperature in the cab down as well.

NUMBER ONE

EVERYONE'S FAVORITE

See the popular 45 PTO hp Ford Model 3930... everyone's favorite for loading and chore work. And field work, too... thanks to the hefty 192-cubic-inch, 3-cylinder diesel engine.

- Responsive hydrostatic steering.
- Stronger front axles.
- Choice of 2WD or 4WD.
- Cab or foldable ROPS.

The "3930" will be your favorite, also. Come in and we'll show you why.

How To Feed Easy Care Block

Control consumption at approximately two to three pounds per head per day by providing all the good quality roughage the animal can consume. Provide one 50-lb. block for each five animals or one 500-lb. block for each 25 animals. Locate blocks near where animals gather or near a water source. On large pastures, make blocks available at more than one location. When blocks are first put out, or if animals have been out of blocks, make sure plenty of roughage is available to prevent over consumption. Always provide an unlimited supply of clean fresh water.

Weatherproof

Highly Palatable-with Intake Limiters

Molasses-based for palatability but contains intake limiters to prevent over consumption when fed as recommended. Dry cows and heifers get what they need – no more, no less.

June is dairy month

Balances Forages

Supplements forages to provide the balanced nutrition important to dry cows and heifers. Easy Care Block is formulated specifically to the nutrient requirements of dairy dry cows and heifers.

Self Fed

Saves both time and labor – especially on hard to reach temporary pastures.

Contains Vitamins-Minerals-Selenium and Magnesium

Meets Vitamin A and D Requirements when fed as recommended and supplies Selenium and Magnesium lacking in some forages.
